Creative Characters Elisabeth Young-Bruehl, 2025-09-01 The study of creativity is as old as western thought In recent times any crisis of confidence is likely to involve anxiety about the loss of creativity scientific artistic technological and to set off a new search for creativity's definition In Creative Characters originally published in 1991 Elisabeth Young Bruehl reflects on the long search for an understanding of creativity and offers a novel approach She notes that studies of creativity fall into types Some look at the act of creation others focus on the creators while others stress the conscious or unconscious motivations of creative people All these approaches share certain limitations They lack an integrative perspective and they search for a common denominator one definition of the creative process a single creative type which obscures the diversity of creative people and their work Young Bruehl here offers an original analysis of creativity based on a theory of character Creative people she argues create in the medium of their characters They develop usually unconsciously an image of their characters or in other terms an ideal for the organization of their minds and lives which they both aspire to and project into whatever they create This character ideal appears in their works their social visions their philosophies of nature and also their understandings of creative processes their own and others What creative people wish for themselves is what they wish for in their lives and works Young Bruehl suggests that there are three broad character and creative types each comprised of many variations She displays these ways of getting one's psychic act together or getting a product together by turning to three ancient Greek theorists of creativity Plato Aristotle and Zeno and three modern theorists Nietzsche Freud and Proust She then proceeds by clustering biographical vignettes and portraits of ideas in which she can show rather than try to define the creativity as well as the character ideal she has in mind Of special interest to Young Bruehl is what individuals say about their own creativity especially when creativity is not explicitly their topic Her approach is primarily psychoanalytic but she also uses philosophical analysis literary criticism history of science and biography Psychoanalysts and psychologists will find the book not only a new approach to creativity but a new way of doing applied psychoanalysis there have been many psychobiographies but no effort has been made to survey them and draw conclusions Philosophers will discover a major contribution to the theory of character one of the most neglected subfields of philosophy Finally in Creative Characters biography readers will see how the study of individual lives can lead to reflection on larger questions The Routledge International Companion to Gifted Education Tom Balchin, Barry Hymer, Dona J. Matthews, 2013-02-01 The Routledge International Companion to Gifted Education is a ground breaking collection of fully referenced chapters written by many of the most highly respected authorities on the subject from around the world These fifty contributors include distinguished scholars who have produced many of the most significant advances to the field over the past few decades like Joseph Renzulli and Robert Sternberg alongside authorities who ask questions about the very concepts and terminology embodied in the field scholars such as Carol Dweck and Guy Claxton This multi faceted volume highlights strategies to support giftedness in children providing ideas that work and weeding out those that don't is written in jargon free language in an easy to use

themed format is the most authoritative collection of future focused views ideas and reflections practices and evaluations yet produced includes chapters dealing with the major controversies and concerns in the field today from the problems of identification to changing understandings of giftedness and creativity The international aspect of the Companion and its juxtaposition of points of view whereby chapters are deliberately positioned and accompanied by editorial commentary to highlight the contrasts with each other ensures that different views are addressed allowing the reader to absorb and reflect upon the many perspectives on each issue The Companion is a guide to the new ideas and controversies that are informing gifted education discussion and policy making around the world It is a first class resource to students and researchers alike

Gifts, Romance, and Consumer Culture Yuko Minowa, Russell W. Belk, 2018-09-05 How do people communicate their romantic feelings Gift giving is one way Giving and receiving of gifts is a characteristic of intimate relationships Gifts are a message a form of communication with a tangible material object about love affection or concern for the recipient The romantic gift evokes a multitude of intertwined meanings passion intimacy affection persuasion care celebration altruism and nostalgia They can also connote the negative images of obligation and reciprocity Romantic gift giving may be practiced at rituals during rites of passage or for casual occasions to affirm the continued importance of the romantic relationship We may even romanticize the giving of gifts to the self to nonhuman companions and to others we do not know personally If loving and giving are a practice then romantic gift giving is a practice of loving with intimate or would be intimate others This book addresses gift giving among consumers attempting to express and construct romantic love It lies at the intersection of consumption markets and culture In societies shaped by the globalizing neo liberal economic order increasing wealth disparity and a partially digitized social environment that they help to co construct it may be time to rethink romantic love Gift giving is a key arena to do so as gifts make love tangible and act as carriers of meaning as well as cultural symbols In gift giving the meanings of romance are renewed renegotiated and reconstructed Gifts Romance And Consumer Culture demonstrates a wide variety of scholarly work bearing on romantic gift giving using an interpretive consumer research perspective The book introduces critical studies by scholars in this unfolding and new interdisciplinary field
