Nautical Quarterly 46 Summer 1989:

Nautical Quarterly ,1990 Yachting ,2002-10 Yachting ,2002-10 Electric Boats and Ships Kevin

Desmond,2017-09-25 Electric propulsion for boats was developed in the early 19th century and despite the advent of the internal combustion engine continued with the perfecting of the modern turbo electric ship Sustainable and hybrid technologies pioneered in small inland watercraft toward the end of the 20th century have in recent years been scaled up to create integrated electric drives for the largest ocean going vessels This comprehensive history traces the birth and rebirth of the electric boat from 1835 to the present celebrating the Golden Age of electric launches 1880 1910 Slavery in the South Clayton E. Jewett,John O. Allen,2004-02-28 Slavery in the United States is once again a topic of contention as politicians and interest groups argue about and explore the possibility of reparations The subject is clearly not exhausted and a state by state approach fills a critical reference niche This book is the first comparative summary of the southern slave states from Colonial times to Reconstruction The history of slavery in each state is a story based on the unique events in that jurisdiction and is a chronicle of the relationships and interactions between its blacks and whites Each state chapter explores the genesis growth and economics of slavery the life of free and enslaved blacks the legal codes that defined the institution and affected both whites and blacks the black experience during the Civil War and the freedmen s struggle during Emancipation and Reconstruction The commonalities and differences can be seen from state to state and students and other interested readers will find fascinating accounts from ex slaves that flesh out the fuller picture of slavery state and country wide Included are timelines per state photos numerous tables for comparison and appendixes on the numbers of slaveholders by state in 1860 dates of admission secession and readmission and economic statistics A bibliography and index complete the volume Lloyd's Register OneOcean's Guide to Port Entry 1989-90 Nations M-Z Lloyd's Register

Foundation,1989-01-01 First published in 1971 these Guides provide invaluable information on thousands of commercial ports and terminals across the globe They are compiled and published annually by LR OneOcean whose years of global maritime experience allows them to provide expert and innovative solutions that enhance efficiency sustainability and overall industry success The Guides cover a significant geographical breadth and the most recent volume includes information on over 12 500 ports harbours and terminals worldwide These are fully indexed and contain detailed port plans and mooring diagrams Assured Destruction David Bath,2020-03-15 Assured Destruction Building the Ballistic Missile Culture of the U S Air Force documents the rapid development of nuclear ballistic missiles in the United States and their equally swift demise after the Cuban Missile Crisis revealing how these drastic changes negatively influenced both the Air Force and the missile community David W Bath contends that the struggle to create and control nuclear ballistic missiles threatened both the dominance of the United States during an intensifying Cold War and the strategic airpower mission of the newly created Air Force The book details the strenuous efforts required to create and prepare a missile arsenal before the Cuban Missile Crisis which occurred only five years after the first missile was declared operational. It uses the personal recollections of former missileers and the professional military education theses they wrote to highlight some of the concerns that have faced the missileers who operated and worked on these powerful weapons from 1957 to the present. The highlight of the book however is the personal stories of the missileers who served during the missile crisis revealing the efforts that they went to in order to prepare these unique and untried weapons for what many thought might become the third world war. Daily Life of U.S. Soldiers Christopher R. Mortenson, Paul J. Springer, 2019-06-14 This ground breaking work explores the lives of average soldiers from the American Revolution through the 21st century conflicts in Afghanistan and Iraq. What was life really like for U.S. soldiers during America's wars? Were they conscripted or did they volunteer? What did they eat, wear, believe, think, and do for fun? Most important, how did they deal with the rigors of combat and coming home? This comprehensive book will answer all of those questions and much more with separate chapters on the American Revolution, the War of 1812, the Mexican American War, the Civil War, the Indian Wars, the Spanish American War, World War I, World War II in Europe, World War II in the Pacific, the Cold War, the Korean War, the Vietnam War, the Persian Gulf War, the Afghanistan War, and War on Terror and the Iraq War. Each chapter includes such topical sections as Conscription and Volunteers, Training, Religion, Pop Culture, Weaponry, Combat, Special Forces, Prisoners of War, Homefront, and Veteran Issues. This work also examines the role of minorities and women in each conflict as well as delves into the disciplinary problems in the military including alcoholism, drugs, crimes, and desertion. Selected primary sources, bibliographies, and timelines complement the topical sections of each chapter.

The Emerging Politics of Antarctica Anne-Marie Brady, 2013 This book examines the post Cold War challenges facing Antarctic governance. It seeks to understand the interests of new players in Antarctic affairs such as China, India, Korea, and Malaysia and how other key players such as Russia and the USA or claimant states such as New Zealand or France are coping in the new global order. Antarctica is the world's fifth largest continent and its territories are claimed by seven different states. Since 1961 Antarctica has been managed under the Antarctic Treaty System (ATS), a regime which according to its critics by the terms of its membership effectively excludes most of the nations of the world. This book examines the post Cold War challenges facing Antarctic governance and is organized thematically into three sections. Part 1 considers the role of Antarctic politics in the current post Cold War post colonial era and the impact this new political environment is having on the ATS. Part 2 looks at the competing foreign policy objectives of a representative range of countries with Antarctic activities. Part 3 examines issues that have the potential to destabilise the order of the Antarctic Treaty System such as unrestricted tourism and new advances in science and technology. The Emerging Politics of Antarctica will be of interest to students and scholars of international politics, polar studies, and foreign policy studies.

Patroons and Periaguas Lynn B. Harris, 2014-10-02 Patroons and Periaguas explores the intricately interwoven and colorful creole maritime legacy of Native Americans, Africans, enslaved and free African Americans and Europeans who settled along the rivers and coastline near the burgeoning colonial port city of Charleston South Carolina Colonial South Carolina from a European perspective was a water filled world where boatmen of diverse ethnicities adopted and adapted maritime skills learned from local experiences or imported from Africa and the Old World to create a New World society and culture Lynn B Harris describes how they crewed together in galleys as an ad hoc colonial navy guarding settlements on the Edisto Kiawah and Savannah Rivers rowed and raced plantation log boats called periaguas fished for profits and worked side by side as laborers in commercial shipyards building sailing ships for the Atlantic coastal trade the Caribbean islands and Europe Watercraft were of paramount importance for commercial transportation and travel and the skilled people who built and operated them were a distinctive class in South Carolina Enslaved patrols boat captains and their crews provided an invaluable service to planters who had to bring their staple products rice indigo deerskins and cotton to market but they were also purveyors of information for networks of rebellious communications and illicit trade Harris employs historical records visual images and a wealth of archaeological evidence embedded in marshes underwater on riverbeds or exhibited in local museums to illuminate clues and stories surrounding these interactions and activities A pioneering underwater archaeologist she brings sources and personal experience to bear as she weaves vignettes of the ongoing process of different peoples adapting to each other and their new world that is central to our understanding of the South Carolina maritime landscape

Ulrich's International Periodicals Directory, 1990-91 R R Bowker Publishing, 1990 The Seaforth Bibliography Eugene Rasor, 2009-04-17 This remarkable work is a comprehensive historiographical and bibliographical survey of the most important scholarly and printed materials about the naval and maritime history of England and Great Britain from the earliest times to 1815 More than 4 000 popular standard and official histories important articles in journals and periodicals anthologies conference symposium and seminar papers guides documents and doctoral theses are covered so that the emphasis is the broadest possible But the work is far far more than a listing The works are all evaluated assessed and analysed and then integrated into an historical narrative that makes the book a hugely useful reference work for student scholar and enthusiast alike It is divided into twenty one chapters which cover resource centres significant naval writers pre eminent and general histories the chronological periods from Julius Caesar through the Vikings Tudors and Stuarts to Nelson and Bligh major naval personalities warships piracy strategy and tactics exploration discovery and navigation archaeology and even naval fiction Quite simply no one with an interest and enthusiasm for naval history can afford to be without this book at their side

Cultures in Contact Joan Aruz, Sarah B. Graff, Yelena Rakic, 2013 The exhibition Beyond Babylon Art

Trade and Diplomacy in the Second Millennium B C held in 2008 2009 at The Metropolitan Museum of Art demonstrated the cultural enrichment that emerged from the intensive interaction of civilizations from western Asia to Egypt and the Aegean in the Middle and Late Bronze Ages During this critical period in human history powerful kingdoms and large territorial states were formed Rising social elites created a demand for copper and tin as well as for precious gold and silver and exotic materials such as lapis lazuli and ivory to create elite objects fashioned in styles that reflected contacts with foreign lands This quest for metals along with the desire for foreign textiles was the driving force that led to the establishment of merchant colonies and a vast trading network throughout central Anatolia during the early second millennium B C Texts from palaces at sites from Hattusa modern Bogazk y in Hittite Anatolia to Amarna in Egypt attest to the volume and variety of interactions that took place some centuries later creating the impetus for the circulation of precious goods stimulating the exchange of ideas and inspiring artistic creativity Perhaps the most dramatic evidence for these far flung connections emerges out of tragedy the wreckage of the oldest known seagoing ship discovered in a treacherous stretch off the southern coast of Turkey near the promontory known as Uluburun Among its extraordinary cargo of copper glass and exotic raw materials and luxury goods is a gilded bronze statuette of a goddess perhaps the patron deity on board who failed in her mission to protect the ship To explore the themes of the exhibition art trade and diplomacy viewed from an international perspective a two day symposium and related scholarly events allowed colleagues to explore many facets of the multicultural societies that developed in the second millennium B C Their insights which dramatically illustrate the incipient phases of our intensely interactive world are presented largely in symposium order beginning with broad regional overviews and examination of particular archeological contexts and then drawing attention to specific artists and literary evidence for interconnections In this introduction however their contributions are viewed from a somewhat more synthetic perspective one that focuses attention on the ways in which ideas in this volume intersect to enrich the ongoing discourse on the themes elucidated in the exhibition
