The Navy Day by Day Lew Lind, 1996 First published in 1982 this edition has been revised and updated Gives a day to day record of naval events involving Australians and Australia from the 16th century to the present Lists over 4 000 entries dealing with the Navy's role in the discovery settlement and defence of Australia Includes a bibliography and an index The author was a navy public relations officer and director of the Garden Island Naval Museum His other works include Australia's Men of War and Battle of the Wine Dark Sea The Royal Navy's Air Service in the Great War David Hobbs, 2017-09-30 In a few short years after 1914 the Royal Navy practically invented naval air warfare not only producing the first effective aircraft carriers but also pioneering most of the techniques and tactics that made naval air power a reality By 1918 the RN was so far ahead of other navies that a US Navy observer sent to study the British use of aircraft at sea concluded that any discussion of the subject must first consider their methods Indeed by the time the war ended the RN was training for a carrier borne attack by torpedo bombers on the German fleet in its bases over two decades before the first successful employment of this tactic against the Italians at Taranto Following two previously well received histories of British naval aviation David Hobbs here turns his attention to the operational and technical achievements of the Royal Naval Air Service both at sea and ashore from 1914 to 1918 Detailed explanations of operations the technology that underpinned them and the people who carried them out bring into sharp focus a revolutionary period of development that changed naval warfare forever Controversially the RNAS was subsumed into the newly created Royal Air Force in 1918 so as the centenary of its extinction approaches this book is a timely reminder of its true significance A Place of Their Own Karen George, 1999 Blending oral history with historical records A Place of Their Own tells the story of the men and women of War Service Land Settlement at Loxton in South Australia's Riverland American Book Publishing Record, 2006 British Aircraft Carriers David Hobbs, 2014-09-30 This book is a meticulously detailed history of British aircraft carrying ships from the earliest experimental vessels to the Queen Elizabeth class currently under construction and the largest ships ever built for the Royal Navy Individual chapters cover the design and construction of each class with full technical details and there are extensive summaries of every ship's career Apart from the obvious large deck carriers the book also includes seaplane carriers escort carriers and MAC ships the maintenance ships built on carrier hulls unbuilt projects and the modern LPH It concludes with a look at the future of naval aviation while numerous appendices summarise related subjects like naval aircraft recognition markings and the circumstances surrounding the loss of every British carrier As befits such an important reference work it is heavily illustrated with a magnificent gallery of photos and plans including the first publication of original plans in full colour one on a magnificent gatefold Written by the leading historian of British carrier aviation himself a retired Fleet Air Arm pilot it displays the authority of a lifetime's research combined with a practical understanding of the issues surrounding the design and operation of aircraft carriers As such British Aircraft Carriers is certain to become the

Make / Believe John Hartley, 2025-01-23 This book illustrates that mediated popular culture and science based knowledge systems entangled and compromised as both have become are still a robust crucible for system change for the future when they combine forces Planetary crises require responses from everyone This means that collective action is not simply a scientific or political problem It is a problem of culture and media But modern politics journalism and science were not designed for global climate action They've divided humans into competitive and often hostile we and they groups Identity news and knowledge are all weaponized Culture makes groups groups make knowledge and knowledge makes enemies What can be done to prevent global conflict and the drift to war Make Believe turns to popular culture and social media to argue for an alternative storyline While the Great Powers are making new enemies emergent classes led by children are using planetary connectivity to make new worlds A digital planet generates new kinds of strategic stories for pan human action based on difference intersectionality and cooperation for a sustainable Earth system Make Believe shows how alternatives to the Great Game of global contestation are gathering strength in unlikely places among women children lifestyle and pop culture Popular digital media literacy is now a prerequisite for the remediation of the planet The Maritime History of the World Duncan Haws, Alexander Anthony Hurst, 1985 Events That Formed the Modern World Frank W.

Thackeray, John E. Findling, 2012-05-31 This comprehensive five volume set contains readable essays that describe and interpret the most important global events since the European Renaissance some accompanied by related document excerpts and primary source materials What were the effects of the Age of Exploration on today's ethnic groups and social structure How did the development of moveable type pave the way for Facebook and Twitter Why is the Reformation so critical for understanding today's religious controversies This set will help readers answer these questions by exploring the most significant historical events of the modern world This five volume set covers times from the Renaissance to the present Each volume focuses on a specific historic period and examines 12 events within those time frames that changed the world Each entry provides an introduction that lays out factual material in a chronological manner an in depth essay interpreting the event's significance and an annotated bibliography of the most important current works on the topic Select entries are followed by primary sources pertaining to the event under consideration such as diary entries Targeted to both general readers as well as entry level university students this book also directly supports high school and undergraduate curricula allowing students to identify and contextualize events in order to think critically about their causes aftermath and legacy

Current History (New York)., 1922 Jane Austen and Her Times G. E. Mitton, 2021-05-19 In Jane Austen and Her Times G E Mitton offers an illuminating exploration of the cultural landscape that shaped one of English literature's most beloved authors Through a blend of biographical narrative and critical analysis Mitton contextualizes Austen's work within the social and historical frameworks of the late 18th and early 19th centuries The prose is characterized by its keen observations and accessible style making complex ideas about class gender and literary form digestible for diverse readers Mitton deftly weaves Austen s personal experiences with her literary output illuminating how her keen social insights resonate within her novels G E Mitton an accomplished scholar and biographer drew on her deep appreciation of literature and history to write this insightful examination Her work is informed by a love for Austen s writing and an understanding of the societal changes affecting women during Austen s lifetime Mitton s background in literary criticism and history allows her to scrutinize Austen s literary voice and underscore the broader societal themes present in her narratives thereby enriching our understanding of both the author and her contemporaries For readers interested in literary history or the enduring relevance of Jane Austen s work Mitton s study is an indispensable resource It offers a nuanced perspective that captures not only the essence of Austen s literature but also the era in which she wrote This book serves as a perfect companion for both new readers of Austen and scholars seeking to deepen their appreciation for her contributions to literature
