Pouwels,Randall Lee Pouwels,2002-06-06 A major historical study of Islam among the Swahili Transgression in Swahili Narrative Fiction and its Reception Rémi Armand Tchokothe,2014 This book remarkably analyses the development of recent Swahili prose narrative The main thesis is that since the 90s Swahili literature has developed to go beyond aspects that had hitherto conditioned literature in African languages local popular and didactic and has opened itself to global sophisticated and subversive perspectives Remi Tchokothe uses the leitmotif of transgression as the unifying thread to render an account of this evolution of the Swahili narrative fiction towards the disruption of narrative linearity an increase in intertextual references an awareness of globalisation in political analysis and a shift to magical realism The finishing touch to the analysis is a meticulously conducted reception survey which highlights editorial ambiguities that go with the transgressive turn Xavier Garnier U Sorbonne Nouvelle Paris 3 Series Contributions to Research on Africa Beitrage zur Afrikaforschung Vol 56 African Myths and Legends Catherine Chambers,2021-07-15 The world's myths are filled with characters creatures and stories that have fascinated people for thousands of years This series mixes dramatic retellings and non fiction information to give a full picture of a culture's myths This book explores the gods goddesses heroes villains tricksters and quests that make African myths and legends so compelling Muslim Societies in African History David Robinson,2004-01-12 Examining a series of processes Islamization Arabization Africanization and case studies from North West and East Africa this book gives snapshots of Muslim societies in Africa over the last millennium In contrast to traditions which suggest that Islam did not take root in Africa author David Robinson shows the complex struggles of Muslims in the Muslim state of Morocco and in the Hausaland region of Nigeria He portrays the ways in which Islam was practiced in the pagan societies of Ashanti Ghana and Buganda Uganda and in the ostensibly Christian state of Ethiopia beginning with the first emigration of Muslims from Mecca in 615 CE well before the foundational hijra to Medina in 622 He concludes with chapters on the Mahdi and Khalifa of the Sudan and the Murid Sufi movement that originated in Senegal and reflections in the wake of the events of September 11 2001 Popobawa Katrina Daly Thompson,2017-02-06 Bravely takes on not the legendary shapeshifting creature spoken about sporadically on the Swahili coast of Tanzania but rather popobawa discourse The Journal of Modern African Studies Since the 1960s people on the islands off the coast of Tanzania have talked about being attacked by a mysterious creature called Popobawa a shapeshifter often described as having an enormous penis Popobawa's recurring attacks have become a popular subject for stories conversation gossip and humor that has spread far beyond East Africa Katrina Daly Thompson shows that talk about Popobawa becomes a tool that Swahili speakers use for various creative purposes such as subverting gender segregation advertising homosexuality or discussing female sexuality By situating Popobawa discourse within the social and cultural world of the Swahili Coast as well as the wider world of global popular culture Thompson demonstrates that uses of this legend are more diverse and complex than previously thought and provides insight into how women and men communicate in a place where taboo prohibition and restraint remain powerful cultural forces While Popobawa surely belong to one of the most interesting African legends Katrina Daly Thompson instead of asking where the story originated asks about how people talk about this trickster and what these conversations really mean Claudia Boehme University of Trier A well researched and well documented addition to the body of knowledge on local legends and their global manifestations Journal of Folklore Research Thompson s movement between local and global discourses demonstrates the importance of a phenomenon that could otherwise be viewed as exotic ethnographic trivia while her theoretical orientation makes the text as relevant to linguistic anthropologists as to African studies scholars African Studies Review
