The Nabobs of Madras Henry Dodwell, 1926      The Nabobs of Madras, 2022      Nabobs of Madras Henry Dodwell, 1986      The Nabobs of Madras, 1926      Unfinished Empire John Darwin, 2013-02-12 John Darwin's After Tamerlane a sweeping six hundred year history of empires around the globe marked him as a historian of massive erudition and narrative mastery In Unfinished Empire he marshals his gifts to deliver a monumental one volume history of Britain's imperium a work that is sure to stand as the most authoritative most compelling treatment of the subject for a generation Darwin unfurls the British Empire's beginnings and decline and its extraordinary range of forms of rule from settler colonies to island enclaves from the princely states of India to ramshackle trading posts His penetrating analysis offers a corrective to those who portray the empire as either naked exploitation or a grand civilizing mission Far from ever having a master plan the British Empire was controlled by a range of interests often at loggerheads with one another and was as much driven on by others weaknesses as by its own strength It shows too that the empire was never stable to govern was a violent process inevitably creating wars and rebellions Unfinished Empire is a remarkable nuanced history of the most complex polity the world has ever known and a serious attempt to describe the diverse contradictory ways from the military to the cultural in which empires really function This is essential reading for any lover of sweeping history or anyone wishing to understand how the modern world came into being      The Nabobs in England James Mayer Holzman, 1926      The Case of His Highness Prince Azeem Jah, Nawaub of the Carnatic, and Soubahdar of Arcot William Miller, 1859      The Statesman's Year-book, 1928      Parliamentary Papers Great Britain. Parliament. House of Commons, 1818      Vestiges of Old Madras, 1640-1800 Henry Davison Love, 1913      A History of the British Army, Vol.2 (of 2) J. W. Fortescue, The work of disbanding the Army began some months before the final conclusion of the Peace of Utrecht By Christmas 1712 thirteen regiments of dragoons twenty two of foot and several companies of invalids who had been called up to do duty owing to the depletion of the regular garrisons had been actually broken The Treaty was no sooner signed than several more were disbanded making thirty three thousand men discharged in all More could not be reduced until the eight thousand men who were left in garrison in Flanders could be withdrawn but even so the total force on the British Establishment including all colonial garrisons had sunk in 1714 to less than thirty thousand men The soldiers received as usual a small bounty on discharge and great inducements were offered to persuade them to take service in the colonies or in other words to go into perpetual exile But this disbandment was by no means so commonplace and artless an affair as might at first sight appear One of the first measures taken in hand by Bolingbroke and by his creature Ormonde was the remodelling of the Army by which term was signified the elimination of officers and of whole corps that favoured the Protestant succession to make way for those attached to the Jacobite interest Prompted by such motives and wholly careless of the feelings of the troops they violated the old rule that the youngest regiments should always be the first to be disbanded and laid violent hands on several veteran corps The Seventh and Eighth Dragoons the Thirty fourth Thirty third Thirty second Thirtieth Twenty ninth Twenty eighth Twenty second and Fourteenth Foot were ruthlessly sacrificed nay even the Sixth one of the sacred six old regiments and distinguished above all others in the Spanish War was handed over for dissolution like a regiment of yesterday There were bitter words and stormy scenes among regimental officers over such shameless unjust and insulting procedure All these designs however were suddenly shattered by the death of Queen Anne The accession of the Elector of Hanover to the throne was accomplished with a tranquillity which must have amazed even those who desired it most Before the new King could arrive the country was gladdened by the return of the greatest of living Englishmen Landing at Dover on the very day of the Queen s death Marlborough was received with salutes of artillery and shouts of delight from a joyful crowd Proceeding towards London next day he was met by the news that his name was excluded from the list of Lords Justices to whom the government of the country was committed pending the King s arrival Deeply chagrined but preserving always his invincible serenity he pushed on to the capital intending to enter it with the same privacy that he had courted during his banishment in the Low Countries But the people had decided that his entry must be one of triumph and a tumultuous welcome from all classes showed that the country could and would make amends for the shameful treatment meted out to him two years before On the 18th of September King George landed at Greenwich and shortly afterwards the new ministry was nominated Stanhope the brilliant soldier of the Peninsular War became second Secretary of State William Pulteney afterwards Earl of Bath Secretary at War Robert Walpole Paymaster of the Forces while Marlborough with some reluctance resumed his old appointments of Captain General Master General of the Ordnance and Colonel of the First Guards He soon found however that though he held the titles he did not hold the authority of the offices and that the true control of the Army was transferred to the Secretary at War To be continue in this ebook      Cobbett's Political Register William Cobbett,1802      Reports from the Commissioners Great Britain.
