Utopia and Civilization in the Arab Nahda Peter Hill, 2020-01-16 Examines the Nahda a cultural renaissance in the Arab world through the utopian visions of Arab intellectuals during the nineteenth century Saudi Arabia, 1992 Working with Refugee Families Lucia De Haene, Cécile Rousseau, 2020-08-06 The field of refugee family research and intervention forms a growing field of scientific study focussing on the refugee family as the central niche of coping with and giving meaning to trauma cultural uprooting and exile This important new book develops an understanding of the role of refugee family relationships in post trauma healing and provides an in depth analysis of central clinical therapeutic themes in refugee family psychosocial interventions Expert contributions from across transcultural psychiatry psychology psychotherapy and social work have provided chapters on post trauma reconstruction in refugee family relationships trauma care for refugee families and intersectorial psychosocial interventions with refugee families This exploration of refugee family systems in both research and clinical practice aims to promote a systemic perspective in health and social services working with families in refugee mental health care Inside Tunisia's al-Nahda Rory McCarthy, 2018-10-11 This challenging new perspective on Tunisia's al Nahda movement focuses on the lived experience of Islamist activism The Arab Nahda as Popular Entertainment, 2023-11-16 What was popular entertainment like for everyday Arab societies in Middle Eastern cities during the long nineteenth century In what ways did café culture theatre illustrated periodicals cinema cabarets and festivals serve as key forms of popular entertainment for Arabic speaking audiences many of whom were uneducated and striving to contend with modernity's anxiety inducing realities Studies on the 19th to mid 20th century's transformative cultural movement known as the Arab nahda renaissance have largely focussed on concerns with nationalism secularism and language often told from the perspective of privileged groups Highlighting overlooked aspects of this movement this book shifts the focus away from elite circles to quotidian audiences Its ten contributions range in scope from music and visual media to theatre and popular fiction Paying special attention to networks of movement and exchange across Arab societies in Lebanon Syria Egypt Iraq and Morocco this book heeds the call for translocal transnational cultural histories while contributing to timely global studies on gender sexuality and morality Focusing on the often marginalized frequenters of café's artist studios cinemas nightclubs and the streets it expands the remit of who participated in the nahda and how they did Popular Fiction, Translation and the Nahda in Egypt Samah Selim, 2019-07-01 This book is a critical study of the translation and adaptation of popular fiction into Arabic at the turn of the twentieth century It examines the ways in which the Egyptian nahda discourse with its emphasis on identity authenticity and renaissance suppressed various forms of cultural and literary creation emerging from the encounter with European genres as well as indigenous popular literary forms and languages The book explores the multiple and fluid translation practices of this period as a form of unauthorized translation that was not invested in upholding nationalist binaries of originality and imitation Instead translators experimented with radical and complex forms of adaptation that turned these binaries upside down Through a series of close readings of novels published in the periodical The People's Entertainments the book explores the nineteenth century literary intellectual juridical and economic histories that are constituted through translation and outlines a comparative method of reading that pays particular attention to the circulation of genre across national borders Return to the Shadows Alison

Pargeter,2016-09-22 The Arab Spring heralded a profound shift in the Middle East bringing to power Islamist movements which had previously been operating in the shadows The Muslim Brotherhood stormed to victory in Egypt and emerged as a key player in Libya's nascent political arena Meanwhile An Nahda found itself catapulted into power as the head of Tunisia's coalition government For a while it looked as though the region was entering the dawn of a new Islamist age But navigating their respective countries through difficult and painful transitions ultimately proved too challenging for these forces and just as suddenly the Brotherhood was dramatically overthrown in Egypt and left severely weakened in Libya In Tunisia An Nahda managed to pull itself through the crisis but its failure to articulate and deliver the hopes and aspirations of a large section of Tunisian society damaged its credibility In this authoritative account Alison Pargeter expertly charts the Islamists' ascent and subsequent fall from power Based on extensive research and interviews with high ranking members of the Brotherhood and An Nahda Pargeter offers a comparative analysis of the movement in North Africa since the Arab Spring and outlines the consequences of the Brotherhood's decline on both the region and the wider Islamist political project The complete city

trip guide for Sharjah (United Arab Emirates) YouGuide Ltd, Soft Force Ellen Anne McLarney,2015-05-26 The unheralded contribution of women to Egypt's Islamist movement and how they talk about women's rights in Islamic terms In the decades leading up to the Arab Spring in 2011 when Hosni Mubarak's authoritarian regime was swept from power in Egypt Muslim women took a leading role in developing a robust Islamist presence in the country's public sphere Soft Force examines the writings and activism of these women including scholars preachers journalists critics actors and public intellectuals who envisioned an Islamic awakening in which women's rights and the family equality and emancipation were at the center Challenging Western conceptions of Muslim women as being oppressed by Islam Ellen McLarney shows how women used soft force a women's jihad characterized by nonviolent protest to oppose secular dictatorship and articulate a public sphere that was both Islamic and democratic McLarney draws on memoirs political essays sermons newspaper articles and other writings to explore how these women imagined the home and the family as sites of the free practice of religion in a climate where Islamists were under siege by the secular state While they seem to reinforce women's traditional roles in a male dominated society these Islamist writers also reoriented Islamist politics in domains coded as feminine putting women at the very forefront in imagining an Islamic polity Bold and insightful Soft Force transforms our understanding of women's rights women's liberation and women's equality in Egypt's Islamic revival Al-nahda ,2009-12 Islamists and the Politics of the Arab Uprisings Hendrik Kraetzschmar,2018-06-06 Demonstrates how the textual output of settler emigration shapes the nineteenth century literary and artistic imagination      Anatomy of Authoritarianism in the Arab Republics Joseph Sassoon,2016-02-24 Examines the system of authoritarianism in eight Arab republics including life under these regimes and the mechanisms underpinning their resilience      Women's Movements in Post-"Arab Spring" North Africa Fatima Sadiqi,2016-05-23 Centering on women s movements before during and after the revolutions Women s Movements in Post Arab Spring North Africa highlights the broader sources of authority that affected the emergence of new feminist actors and agents and their impact on the sociopolitical landscapes of the region      Political Ascent Emad Eldin Shahin,2018-02-23 Islamic movements in North Africa have historically been distinguished from their counterparts in other parts of the Arab world because they have demonstrated a marked willingness to work within the political system and have at times even been officially recognized and allowed to participate in local and national elections As a result Islamic thinkers from the Maghrib have produced important writing about the role of Islam and the state democracy and nonviolent change In this book Emad Shahin offers a comparative analysis of the Islamic movements in Algeria Tunisia and Morocco exploring their formation and expansion in the late 1960s and the tenets of their ideology for social transformation Islamic movements in North Africa have historically been distinguished from their counterparts in other parts of the Arab world because they have demonstrated a marked willingness to work within the political system and have at times even been officially recognized and allowed to participate in local and national elections As a result Islamic thinkers from the Maghrib have produced important writing about the role of Islam and the state democracy and nonviolent change In this book Emad Shahin offers a comparative analysis of the Islamic movements in Algeria Tunisia and Morocco exploring the roots of their development the nature of their dynamics and the tenets of their ideology He argues that the formation and expansion of Islamic movements since the late 1960s has come in response to the marginalization of Islam in state and society and to a perceived failure of imported models of development to resolve socioeconomic problems or to incorporate the Muslim belief system into a workable plan for social transformation      Women as Constitution-Makers Ruth Rubio-Marín,Helen Irving,2019-03-28 Offers case studies of women as constitution makers in nine countries clarifying the gender aspects of participatory constitutionalism      Arab Family Studies Suad Joseph,2018-07-10 Family remains the most powerful social idiom and one of the most powerful social structures throughout the Arab world To engender love of nation among its citizens national movements portray the nation as a family To motivate loyalty political leaders frame themselves as fathers mothers brothers or sisters to their clients parties or the citizenry To stimulate production economic actors evoke the sense of duty and mutual commitment of family obligation To sanctify their edicts clerics wrap religion in the moralities of family and family in the moralities of religion Social and political movements from the most secular to the most religious pull on the tender strings of family love to recruit and bind their members to each other To call someone family is to offer them almost the highest possible intimacy loyalty rights reciprocities and dignity In recognizing the significance of the concept of family this state of the art literature review captures the major theories methods and case studies carried out on Arab families over the past century The book offers a country by country critical assessment of the available scholarship on Arab families Sixteen chapters focus on specific countries or groups of countries seven chapters offer examinations of the literature on key topical issues Joseph s volume provides an indispensable resource to researchers and students and advances Arab family studies as a critical independent field of scholarship

The Other Iraq Orit Bashkin,2008-11-20 The Other Iraq challenges the notion that Iraq has always been a totalitarian artificial state torn by sectarian violence Chronicling the rise of the Iraqi public sphere from 1921 to 1958 this enlightening work reveals that the Iraqi intellectual field was always more democratic and pluralistic than historians have tended to believe Orit Bashkin demonstrates how Sunni Shi i and Kurdish intellectuals effectively created hyphenated Iraqi identities connoting pride in their individual heritages while simultaneously appropriating and integrating ideas and narratives of Arab and Iraqi nationalism Illustrating three developmental stages of Iraqi intellectual history she follows Iraqi intellectuals changing roles from agents of democracy to specialists who analyze the population to deeply entrenched members of society committed to change Based on previously unexplored material this eye opening work has significant contemporary implications

Age of Coexistence Ussama Makdisi,2021-09-21 Flawless Makdisi reminds us of the critical declarations of secularism which existed in the history of the Middle East Robert Fisk The Independent Today s headlines paint the Middle East as a collection of war torn countries and extremist groups consumed by sectarian rage Ussama Makdisi s Age of Coexistence reveals a hidden and hopeful story that counters this clich d portrayal It shows how a region rich with ethnic and religious diversity created a modern culture of coexistence amid Ottoman reformation European colonialism and the emergence of nationalism Moving from the nineteenth century to the present this groundbreaking book explores without denial or equivocation the politics of pluralism during the Ottoman Empire and in the post Ottoman Arab world Rather than judging the Arab world as a place of age old sectarian animosities Age of Coexistence describes the forging of a complex system of coexistence what Makdisi calls the ecumenical frame He argues that new forms of antisectionarian politics and some of the most important examples of Muslim Christian political collaboration crystallized to make and define the modern Arab world Despite massive challenges and setbacks and despite the persistence of colonialism and authoritarianism this framework for coexistence has endured for nearly a century It is a reminder that religious diversity does not automatically lead to sectarianism Instead as Makdisi demonstrates people of different faiths but not necessarily of different political outlooks have consistently tried to build modern societies that transcend religious and sectarian differences

Religion and Democratization Michael D. Driessen,2014-04-15 Religion and Democratization is a comparative study of democratization in Muslim and Catholic societies It explores the nature and impact of religiously friendly democratization processes which institutionally favor a religion of state and allow religious political parties to contest elections The book argues that religiously friendly democratization transforms both the democratic politics and religious life of society The book explains this transformation by modeling the effects of religiously friendly democratization on the political goals of religious leaders and the political salience of religious identities In a religiously charged national setting religiously friendly democratization can generate more support for democracy among religious actors By embedding religious ideas and values into its institutions however religiously friendly democratization also impacts national religious markets creating more favorable conditions for the emergence of public religions and altering trajectories of religious life In making these arguments the book draws on and advances recent scholarship from political science sociology and philosophy on the relationship between religion and state in contemporary democracies It engages empirical debates about global patterns of secularization and religious belief normative debates about the role of public religions in post secular societies and theoretical debates about the democratic future of political Islam and political Catholicism The book anchors its theoretical claims in case studies of Italy and Algeria integrating original qualitative evidence and statistical data on voters political and religious attitudes It also compares the dynamics of religiously friendly democratization across the Muslim world today in Tunisia Morocco Turkey and Indonesia Finally the book examines the theory s wider relevance through a statistical analysis of cross national data on democracy religiosity and religion state relationships Stranger Fictions Rebecca C.

Johnson,2021-01-15 Zaynab first published in 1913 is widely cited as the first Arabic novel yet the previous eight decades saw hundreds of novels translated into Arabic from English and French This vast literary corpus influenced generations of Arab writers but has until now been considered a curious footnote in the genre s history Incorporating these works into the history of the Arabic novel Stranger Fictions offers a transformative new account of modern Arabic literature world literature and the novel Rebecca C Johnson rewrites the history of the global circulation of the novel by moving Arabic literature from the margins of comparative literature to its center Considering the wide range of nineteenth and early twentieth century translation practices including bad translation mistranslation and pseudotranslation Johnson argues that Arabic translators did far more than copy European works they authored new versions of them producing sophisticated theorizations of the genre These translations and the reading practices they precipitated form the conceptual and practical foundations of Arab literary modernity necessitating an overhaul of our notions of translation cultural exchange and the global Examining nearly a century of translations published in Beirut Cairo Malta Paris London and New York from Qat R binun Kur z The story of Robinson Crusoe in 1835 to pastiche crime stories in early twentieth century Egyptian magazines Johnson shows how translators theorized the Arab world not as Europe s periphery but as an alternative center in a globalized network Stranger Fictions affirms the central place of mis translation in both the history of the novel in Arabic and the novel as a transnational form itself
