Drawing on in-depth interviews with more than seventy lawyers who represent conservative and libertarian nonprofit organizations Ann Southworth explores their values and identities and traces the implications of their shared interest in promoting political strategies that give lawyers leading roles. She goes on to illuminate the function of mediator organizations such as the Heritage Foundation and the Federalist Society for Law and Public Policy that have succeeded in promoting cooperation among different factions of conservative lawyers. Such cooperation she finds has aided efforts to drive law and the legal profession politically rightward and to give lawyers greater prominence in the conservative movement. Southworth concludes though that tensions between the conservative law movement's elite and populist elements may ultimately lead to its undoing Confessions of an S & M Virgin Linda Jaivin, 2012-06-21 In her hilarious and outrageous book Linda Jaivin gets a spanking as she interviews the manager of an S M club and wears a penis for a week to find out how it feels to be a man.
