Names We Call Home Autobiography On Racial Identity:

Names We Call Home Becky W. Thompson, Sangeeta Tyagi, 1996 Provides an ontological characterization of texts to complete the discussion begun in Gracia's A Theory of Textuality The Logic and Epistemology 1995 In an argumentative style that avoids some of the extreme views espoused by other contemporary authors he explores the issues raised by the identity of various texts and proposes a view of the identity and function of authors and audiences and of their relations to the texts Annotation copyright by Book News Inc Portland OR Names We Call Home Becky Thompson, Sangeeta Tyagi, 2013-05-13

Names We Call Home is a ground breaking collection of essays which articulate the dynamics of racial identity in contemporary society The first volume of its kind Names We Call Home offers autobiographical essays poetry and interviews to highlight the historical social and cultural influences that inform racial identity and make possible resistance to myriad forms of injustice Teaching for Diversity and Social Justice Maurianne Adams, Lee Anne Bell, Pat Griffin, 2007-05-11

For nearly a decade Teaching for Diversity and Social Justice has been the definitive sourcebook of theoretical foundations and curricular frameworks for social justice teaching practice This thoroughly revised second edition continues to provide teachers and facilitators with an accessible pedagogical approach to issues of oppression in classrooms Building on the groundswell of interest in social justice education the second edition offers coverage of current issues and controversies while preserving the hands on format and inclusive content of the original Teaching for Diversity and Social Justice presents a well constructed foundation for engaging the complex and often daunting problems of discrimination and inequality in American society This book includes a CD ROM with extensive appendices for participant handouts and facilitator preparation Why Are All the Black Kids Sitting Together in the Cafeteria? Beverly Daniel Tatum, 2017-09-05

The classic New York Times bestselling book on the psychology of racism that shows us how to talk about race in America Walk into any racially mixed high school and you will see Black White and Latino youth clustered in their own groups Is this self segregation a problem to address or a coping strategy How can we get past our reluctance to discuss racial issues Beverly Daniel Tatum a renowned authority on the psychology of racism argues that straight talk about our racial identities is essential if we are serious about communicating across racial and ethnic divides and pursuing antiracism These topics have only become more urgent as the national conversation about race is increasingly acrimonious This fully revised edition is essential reading for anyone seeking to understand dynamics of race and racial inequality in America CULTURAL

GEOGRAPHY IN PRACTICE Miles Ogborn, Alison Blunt, Pyrs Gruffudd, David Pinder, 2014-04-23 Cultural Geography in Practice provides an innovative and accessible approach to the sources theories and methods of cultural geography Written by an international team of prominent cultural geographers all of whom are experienced researchers this book is a fully illustrated guide to methodological approaches in cultural geography In order to demonstrate the practice of cultural geography each chapter combines the following features Practical instruction in using one of the main methods of cultural geography e.g. interviewing interpreting texts and visual images participatory methods An overview of a key area of concern in cultural geography e.g. the body national identity empire marginality A nuts and bolts description of the actual application of the theories and methods within a piece of research With the addition of boxed definitions of key concepts and descriptions of research projects by students who devised and undertook them Cultural Geography in Practice is an essential manual of research practice for both undergraduate and graduate geography students Singer's Typewriter and Mine Ilan Stavans, 2012-11-01 A cultural critic of extraordinary erudition encyclopedic knowledge and boundless curiosity Ilan Stavans an Ashkenazic Jew who grew up in Mexico negotiates wildly varied topics as effortlessly and deftly as he manages the multiple perspectives of a dual national religious and ethnic identity In Singer's Typewriter and Mine a follow up to The Inveterate Dreamer Nebraska 2001 Stavans interweaves his own experience with that of other Jewish writers and thinkers past and present to explore modern Jewish culture across the boundaries of language and nation Juxtaposing the personal and the analytical these essays and conversations take up the oeuvres of Isaac Bashevis Singer and Mario Vargas Llosa translation and God's language storytelling as midrash anti-Semitism in Hispanic America Yiddish and Sephardic literatures the connection between humor and terror impostors as cultural agents the creators of the King James Bible and the encounter between Jewish and Latino civilizations to name but a few of Stavans's topics here Funny engaging and provocative this collection continues Stavans's project of opening new vistas in our cross cultural understanding of language literature and life Troubling Women's Studies Ann Braithwaite, 2004 The four essays in this collection present a multifaceted conversation about what is at stake in passing on the institutionalized project of Women's Studies at this historic moment The authors come to this conversation from a diversity of histories commitments and investments in Women's Studies Framed by the argument that Women's Studies is a project fraught with uncertainty the authors explore what it means to live within this uncertainty and how one might respond to it intellectually emotionally politically institutionally and pedagogically In exploring their own responses and taking into consideration responses from other feminist intellectuals the authors subject their practices to the same kind of academic critique to which they subject the discipline its location theories methods and pedagogies The purpose of these essays is not to enact these responses nor to fix a firm direction for the future of the discipline but rather by looking back and attending to the now inspire us to grapple with what might be possible

Moving Beyond Borders Karen Carole Flynn, 2011-01-01 Moving Beyond Borders is the first book length history of Black health care workers in Canada delving into the experiences of thirty five postwar era nurses who were born in Canada or who immigrated from the Caribbean either through Britain or directly to Canada Karen Flynn examines the shaping of these women's stories from their childhoods through to their roles as professionals and community activists Flynn interweaves oral histories with archival sources to show how these women's lives were shaped by their experiences of migration professional training and family life Theoretical analyses from postcolonial gender and diasporic Black Studies

serve to highlight the multiple subjectivities operating within these women's lives. By presenting a collective biography of identity formation, Moving Beyond Borders reveals the extraordinary complexity of Black women's history. Gender, Race, and Ethnicity in the Workplace Margaret Foegen Karsten, 2006-07-30. Despite tremendous strides that have led to increasing numbers of women and minorities entering the workplace and achieving positions of power and influence, there is still much ground to be gained. Blending theory and practice, statistics and analysis, this three-volume set presents the latest research from the fields of management, sociology, psychology, law, and public policy to shed new light on the dynamics of gender and race/ethnicity in the workplace. The first volume details the corporate paths of women and minorities to date, highlighting continuing challenges and gaps. Volumes 2 and 3 tackle such complex issues as socialization and how it excludes women and minorities, the impact of affirmative action decisions on practice and policy, the fine line between office romance and sexual harassment, and work-life balance. These volumes also showcase innovative practices in promoting diversity and leadership development. Featuring contributions from such influential authors as Nancy Adler, Gail Evans, and Gary Powell, this set presents a unique collection of perspectives on the dynamics of race, ethnicity, and gender in the workplace and considers how they both reflect and reinforce the culture at large. Since women were first admitted to the Harvard Radcliffe business program in 1959, they have made remarkable progress in assuming leadership and management positions traditionally held by white men. More recently, African, Asian, Hispanic, and Native American women and men have joined the professional realm in increasing numbers with profound implications for organizations. Nevertheless, the statistics still tell a discouraging story: women make up nearly 50 percent of the workforce but only 16 percent of the corporate officer pool in America's 500 largest companies; for every dollar a white man earns, a black man earns 76 cents. In a recent survey, 70 percent of women cited lack of an influential mentor as a key obstacle to attaining business success. The leading business experts assembled here consider what is behind these statistics and what can be done to change the culture that creates them. Blending theory and practice, statistics and analysis, this three-volume set presents the latest research from the fields of management, sociology, psychology, law, and public policy to shed new light on the dynamics of gender and race/ethnicity in the workplace. The first volume details the corporate paths of women and minorities to date, highlighting continuing challenges and gaps. Volumes 2 and 3 tackle such complex issues as socialization and how it excludes women and minorities, the impact of affirmative action decisions on practice and policy, the fine line between office romance and sexual harassment, the depth of racial and gender stereotypes, work-life balance, and unwritten codes of power and influence. These volumes also showcase innovative practices in promoting diversity and leadership development. Featuring contributions from such influential authors as Nancy Adler, Gail Evans, and Gary Powell, this set presents a unique collection of perspectives on the dynamics of race, ethnicity, and gender in the workplace and considers how they both reflect and reinforce the culture at large. Social Change in Diverse Teaching Contexts Nancy G. Barron, Nancy Maloney Grimm, Sibylle Gruber, 2006.

Assumptions based on racial class and ethnic identities can undermine our best intentions as teachers administrators and scholars The misguided strategy of colorblindness and the continuing racial segregation of American cities and schools leave teachers and students with little experience for addressing the touchy subject of racial identity in the classroom This collection pertinent for teacher preparation undergraduate and graduate seminars and reading discussion groups focuses on new and experienced teachers who confront myths who negotiate their own identities as well as identity politics in the classroom and who design new projects use new tools and apply new practices The chapters highlight the need to change how teachers respond to student work manage classroom interactions form collaborative partnerships construct service learning projects and conduct research The Value of Worthless Lives Ilaria Serra,2007 Publisher description 21st Century Communication: A Reference Handbook William F. Eadie,2009-05-15 Highlights the most important topics issues questions and debates affecting the field of communication in the 21st Century Auto/ethnography Deborah Reed-Danahay,2021-01-07 In departing from the traditional stance taken by anthropologists who study others ethnographically this timely book explores forms of self inscription on the part of both the ethnographer and those others who are studied Informed by developments in postmodernism postcolonialism and feminism this is an original contribution to the growing dialogue across disciplinary boundaries The chapters build upon recent reconsiderations of the uses and meaning of personal narrative to examine the ways in which selves and social forms are culturally constituted through biographical genres Ethnic autobiography self reflexivity in ethnography and native ethnography raise provocative questions about a range of issues for the contemporary scholar authenticity of voice ethnographic authority and the degree to which autoethnography constitutes resistance to hegemonic bodies of discourse Examined here in a variety of cultural and political contexts writing about the self offers challenging insights into the construction and transformation of identities and cultural meanings Coerced and Free Migration ,2002-04-16 This volume is an innovative history of major worldwide population movements free and forced from around 1500 to the early 20th century It explores the shifting levels of freedom under which migrants traveled and compares the experiences of migrants and their descendants who arrived under drastically different labor regimes Alison Games Georgetown University Women's Life Writing and Imagined Communities Cynthia Anne Huff,2005 Recognising the great legacy of women s life writings this book draws on a wealth of sources to critically examine the impact of these writings on our communities Everyday Antiracism Mica Pollock,2010-07-19 Which acts by educators are racist and which are antiracist How can an educator constructively discuss complex issues of race with students and colleagues In Everyday Antiracism leading educators deal with the most challenging questions about race in school offering invaluable and effective advice Contributors including Beverly Daniel Tatum Sonia Nieto and Pedro Noguera describe concrete ways to analyze classroom interactions that may or may not be racial deal with racial inequality and diversity and teach to high standards across racial lines Topics range from using racial incidents as teachable moments and responding to the n word to valuing students home worlds dealing daily with achievement gaps and helping parents fight ethnic and racial misconceptions about their children Questions following each essay prompt readers to examine and discuss everyday issues of race and opportunity in their own classrooms and schools For educators and parents determined to move beyond frustrations about race Everyday Antiracism is an essential tool

Writing the Black Revolutionary Diva Kimberly Nichele Brown,2010-09-09 Kimberly Nichele Brown examines how African American women since the 1970s have found ways to move beyond the double consciousness of the colonized text to develop a healthy subjectivity that attempts to disassociate black subjectivity from its connection to white culture Brown traces the emergence of this new consciousness from its roots in the Black Aesthetic Movement through important milestones such as the anthology The Black Woman and Essence magazine to the writings of Angela Davis Toni Cade Bambara and Jayne Cortez

Why Are All the Black Kids Sitting Together in the Cafeteria? Beverly Tatum,2003-01-17 The classic bestselling book on the psychology of racism now fully revised and updated Walk into any racially mixed high school and you will see Black White and Latino youth clustered in their own groups Is this self segregation a problem to address or a coping strategy Beverly Daniel Tatum a renowned authority on the psychology of racism argues that straight talk about our racial identities is essential if we are serious about enabling communication across racial and ethnic divides These topics have only become more urgent as the national conversation about race is increasingly acrimonious This fully revised edition is essential reading for anyone seeking to understand the dynamics of race in America An unusually sensitive work about the racial barriers that still divide us in so many areas of life Jonathan Kozol

When the Center Is on Fire Diane Sue Harriford,Becky W. Thompson,2021 In this lively and provocative book two feminist public sociologists turn to classical social thinkers W E B Du Bois Max Weber Karl Marx and mile Durkheim to understand a series of twenty first century social traumas including the massacre at Columbine High School the 9 11 attacks the torture at Abu Ghraib prison and Hurricane Katrina Each event was overwhelming in its own right while the relentless pace at which they occurred made it nearly impossible to absorb and interpret them in any but the most superficial ways Yet each uncovered social problems that cry out for our understanding and remediation In When the Center Is on Fire Becky Thompson and Diane Harriford assert that classical social theorists grappled with the human condition in ways that remain profoundly relevant They show for example that the loss of double consciousness that Du Bois identified in African Americans enabled political elites to turn a blind eye to the poverty and vulnerability of many of New Orleans s citizens The authors compelling sometimes irreverent often searing interpretations make this book essential reading for students activists generations X Y and Z and everybody bored by the 6 o clock news

Passing Fancies in Jewish American Literature and Culture Judith Ruderman,2019-01-09 This scholarly study explores the conflicting forces of assimilation and cultural heritage in literary portrayals of Jewish American identity In Passing Fancies in Jewish American Literature and Culture Judith Ruderman takes on the fraught question of who passes for Jewish in American literature and culture In today s contemporary political climate religious and racial identities are being reconceived as responses to culture and environment rather than essential qualities Many Jews continue to hold conflicting ideas about their identity seeking deep engagement with Jewish history and the experiences of the Jewish people while holding steadfastly to the understanding that identity is fluid and multivalent Looking at carefully chosen texts from American literature Ruderman elaborates on the strategies Jews have used to pass from the late nineteenth century to the present nose jobs renaming clothing changes religious and racial reclassification and even playing baseball While traversing racial and religious identities has always been a feature of America s nation of immigrants Ruderman shows how the complexities of identity formation and deformation are critically relevant during this important cultural moment
