Security and Democracy in Southern Africa Gavin Cawthra, André Du Pisani, Abillah H. Omari, 2007 A study of the ambiguity of democratization and how it can generate violence Southern Africa has embarked on one of the world s most ambitious security co operation initiatives seeking to roll out the principles of the United Nations at regional levels This book examines the triangular relationship between democratization the character of democracy and its deficits and national security practices and perceptions of eleven southern African states Based on national studies conducted by African academics and security practitioners over three years it includes an examination of the way security is conceived and managed as well as a comparative analysis of regional security co operation in the developing world The study concludes that democratization is ambiguous and uncertain and can in some cases generate violent conflict Building a common security regime in southern Africa will require moving beyond regime solidarity In particular progress will mean building multinational institutions entrenching democratic practices drawing on civil society and integrating the southern African project with that of the African Union The authors conclude with a set of policy recommendations that aim to strengthen both states and civil society within the framework of an emerging common security system Thinking about Democracy in Namibia Alfredo Tjiurimo Hengari,2008

Ex-Combatants and the Post-Conflict State J. Russell,Kate Malleson,2006-01-01 The main aim of this volume is to analyse common issues arising from increasing judicial power in the context of different political and legal systems including those in North America Africa Europe Australia and Asia „Little Research Value.“ Ellen Ndeshi Namhila,2017-12-14 Ellen Ndeshi Namhila is intrigued by the question Why can the National Archives of Namibia respond to genealogical enquiries of Whites in a matter of minutes with finding estate records of deceased persons while similar requests from Blacks cannot be served Not satisfied with the sweeping statement that this is the result of colonialism and apartheid she follows the track of so called Native estates through legislation record creation and dispersal records management and administrative neglect authorised and unauthorised destruction transfer and appraisal selective processing and almost final amnesia Eventually she discovers over 11 000 forgotten surviving African estate records but also evidence for the destruction of many others And she demonstrates the potential of these records to interpret the lives of those who otherwise appear in history only as statistics records which were condemned to destruction by colonial archivists stating they had little research value and no functional value This study of memory against forgetting is a call to post colonial archives to re visit their holdings and the systemic colonial bias that continues to haunt them This is the revised version of Ellen Namhila s 2015 doctoral thesis published at the University of Tampere Finland Namibian Books in Print ,2004 Regional Development Plan, 2001/2002-2005/2006: Khomas Region ,2000 Being a Public Servant in Namibia ,2003 Namibia, Human Rights Report ,2002 EMIN II Namibia.
