Culture and the Changing Environment Michael J. Casimir, 2009 Today human ecology has split into many different sub disciplines such as historical ecology political ecology or the New Ecological Anthropology The latter in particular has criticised the predominance of the Western view on different ecosystems arguing that culture specific world views and human environment interactions have been largely neglected However these different perspectives only tackle specific facets of a local and global hyper complex reality In bringing together a variety of views and theoretical approaches these especially commissioned essays prove that an interdisciplinary collaboration and understanding of the extreme complexity of the human environment interface is possible Handbook of Strategic Environmental Assessment Barry Sadler, Jiri Dusik, Thomas Fischer, Maria Partidario, Rob Verheem, Ralf Aschemann, 2012-09-10 This authoritative handbook surveys the full breadth and depth of SEA bringing together a range of international perspectives and insights on the theoretical methodological and institutional dimensions and practical issues of the field It then subjects this conventional wisdom to a critical reappraisal looks at the vast lessons of experience and offers new ideas and interpretations as to where the field is going The volume is organized into six major sections beginning with an introduction and overview of the development of the field and a framework for evaluating SEA good practice Part I comprises a review of SEA frameworks in leading countries Australia Canada New Zealand and the USA the European Union and developing regions Africa Asia Latin America and Newly Independent States Part II reviews SEA practice in several major sectors energy minerals transport water development assistance and coastal zone management Part III addresses the linkages between SEA and other comparable tools such as spatial planning and environmental management Part IV probes key cross cutting issues in SEA including how to address cumulative and trans boundary effects Part V identifies ways and means of SEA process and capacity development focusing on how to improve and upgrade the theory and practice of the field Part VI examines the shift from conventional SEA towards more integrative approaches drawing on experience and examples from a number of countries Published with IAIA
