Suicide Across Cultures Meryam Schouler-Ocak, Murad Moosa Khan, 2024-09-04 Over 700 000 people globally take their own lives every year which equates to one death by suicide every 40 seconds Among teenagers and young adults suicide is the second most common cause of death after road traffic accidents Overall almost three times as many men than women die by suicide There are however significant variations in the patterns of suicide across cultures gender age geographic locations and personal history due to the complex relationship of how these factors converge One thing that remains consistent is that every death is a tragedy for family friends and all colleagues Traditions of suicidal behaviour are deeply rooted in any given culture and so examining the cultural influences can be of paramount importance in the understanding and assessment of a suicidal crisis Suicide Across Cultures offers the opportunity to expand knowledge beyond majority groups and to look further than the dominant paradigm in suicide research treatment and prevention With the majority of global suicides taking place in non Western societies minority groups are an essential area in suicide research Written by experts from around the world this fascinating textbook includes topics and regions that are not usually covered in texts on suicide and self harm It provides a unique and important insight for academics and students in psychiatry as well as anyone from the wider public with an interest in the psychiatry of suicide across cultures Aajee Aur Nani Kahanis

Motilal Boodoosingh, 2023-05-18 Trees live long after we are gone In a feverish rush in the evening of his years Motilal Boodoosingh through his Kahanis series is engaged in planting fruit trees in the literary landscape of the Caribbean This book his fourth on the trot honours the memory of his Aajee his paternal grandmother by documenting some of the folk tales passed on to him through the oral tradition of storytelling As such in contrast to the earlier published works it is overlaid with a strong flavour of Hinduism but continues to trace the evolution of Indo Trinidadian history tradition and culture The author s memory of time place and events is equally amazing evident in his recall of what growing up was like in the southern rural district of Penal and its environs in the good ole days in Trinidad There is adventure There is humour There is philosophy Above all there is sincere appreciation for all of the good things that came his way documented here in black and white for all posterity If you want your children to be intelligent read them fairy tales If you want them to be more intelligent read them more fairy tales Albert Einstein At seventy two Motilal Boodoosingh is a retired Offshore Production worker From the energy industry he switched upon retirement to the fields of literacy and literature He holds a BA in Literature and Communications as well as a Certificate in the Teaching of Reading He also has an Adult Literacy Tutors Certificate He earned the right to be labelled a Cropper Fellow after he successfully completed in 2016 the Cropper Foundation Residential Workshop for Caribbean Writers As prolific as his writing is his frenetic involvement in literacy and literary sessions such as the Adult Literacy Tutors Association ALTA project of Readings Under the Trees and the fortnightly zoom sessions of Poetry and Prose Published in a number of magazines he is also a regular contributor to the online literary magazine my Trinidad Yesterday Today Tomorrow

Japanese Moratorium on the Death Penalty Mika Obara-Minnitt, 2016-10-10 Offering a timely reanalysis of the issue of Japan's capital punishment policy this cutting edge volume considers the de facto moratorium periods in Japan's death penalty system and proposes an alternative analytical framework to examine the policy Addressing how the Ministry of Justice in Japan justified capital punishment policy during the de facto moratorium periods from 1989 to 1993 from 2009 to 2010 and from 2010 to 2012 the author debates the misconceptions surrounding the significance of these moratoriums The book evidences the approach rationale and evolution of Japan's Ministry of Justice in consistently justifying capital punishment policy during the different execution free periods and provides a better understanding of the powerful unelected elite who actually drive the capital punishment system in Japan Based on parliamentary proceedings public opinion surveys and periodical reports by both international and domestic human rights NGOs as well as interviews of government ministers NGO staff pro and anti death penalty advocates this text is key reading for those interested in Japan its government criminal justice system and policies on the death penalty and human rights

Mussolini's Death March Nuto Revelli, 2013-04-05 In his quest for military glory Benito Mussolini sent the Italian Eighth Army to the Eastern Front to help fight the Russians only to have his forces routed within little more than a month of the launch of the Soviet counteroffensives of the winter of 1942 1943 The Cuneense a division of mountain troops was hit especially hard with only a small percentage of its troops straggling back to Italy the rest were killed in action or died of frostbite or in captivity from malnourishment overwork and disease All told the Italians suffered roughly 75 000 dead more than in their six month campaign in Greece and Albania or in their three years in North Africa Nuto Revelli who fought in Russia himself interviewed forty three other survivors of the campaign for a book that has become a classic among Italian war memoirs First published in Italian in 1966 as La strada del davai Revelli's account now available in English vividly recaptures the experiences and sobering reflections of these men It provides a chilling look at an experience that in English language writing has been overshadowed by that of the main actors on the Eastern Front When news of the rout reached Italy the shock was devastating In Revelli's home province of Cuneo the recruiting territory of the annihilated Cuneense Division some villages lost almost all men of military age The resulting rage and bitterness later fueled the partisan war against the Germans and Italian fascists The veterans of Mussolini's Death March speak candidly of nights in the open of extreme cold gnawing hunger and eruptive madness Thousands who survived the Soviet onslaught were taken prisoner and died on the so called davai marches named for Russian guards command to keep prisoners moving or later in the camps themselves Even so they developed a favorable impression of the Russian people who provided hospitality in their small houses and aid to the wounded Together their recollections provide an eye opening look at a largely neglected aspect of World War II

Scripting Suicide in Japan Kirsten Cather, 2024-10-15 A free ebook version of this title is available through Luminos University of California Press's Open Access publishing program Visit www.luminosoa.org to learn more Japan is a nation saddled with centuries of accumulated stereotypes and loaded assumptions about suicide Many pronouncements have been made about those who have died by their own hand without careful attention to the words of the dead themselves Drawing upon far ranging creations by famous twentieth and twenty first century Japanese writers and little known amateurs alike such as death poems suicide notes memorials suicide maps and manuals works of literature photography film and manga Kirsten Cather interrogates how suicide is scripted and to what end Entering the orbit of suicidal writers and readers with care she shows that through close readings these works can reveal fundamental beliefs about suicide and just as crucially about acts of writing These are not scripts set in stone but graven images and words nonetheless that serve to mourn the dead straddling two impulses to put the dead to rest and to keep them alive forever These words reach out to us to initiate a dialogue with the dead one that can reveal why it matters to write into and from the void

Ritual Poetry and the Politics of Death in Early Japan Gary L. Ebersole, 2020-09-01 This examination of death rituals in early Japan finds in the practice of double burial a key to understanding the Taika Era 645-710 A.D. Drawing on narratives and poems from the earliest Japanese texts the Kojiki the Nihonshoki and the Man'yōshū an anthology of poetry it argues that double burial was the center of a manipulation of myth and ritual for specific ideological and factional purposes This volume has significantly raised the standard of scholarship on early Japanese and Man'yōshū studies Joseph Kitagawa So convincing is the historical and religious thought displayed here it is impossible to imagine how anyone can ever again read these documents in the old way Alan L. Miller The Journal of Religion A central resource for historians of early Japan David L. Barnhill History of Religions
