Napoleon's Marshals R. F. Delderfield, 2002-03-04 The masterful saga of Bonaparte's twenty six military Marshals by Napoleonic authority Delderfield is set against the dramatic backdrop of the French Revolution Napoleon's rise and his conquests and the restoration of the Bourbon monarchs Napoleon's Marshals R. P. Dunn-Pattison, 2010 This study of the former British soldier and historian Richard Dunn Pattinson 1874 1916 contains detailed biographical sketches of the 24 French marshals selected by Napoleon to lead his armies Reprint of the original edition from 1909 Napoleon's marshals Richard Phillipson Dunn-Pattison, Napoleon's Marshals R. Napoleon's Marshals ... William S. Walsh, 1895 Napoleon's Marshals Peter Young, 1973 Marshal of France was the highest military rank in France before the revolution After the revolution it was abolished as an elitest rank but in 1804 Napoleon reinstated it as part of his attempts to rebuild a system of honours in France Napoleon appointed twenty six marshals between 1804 and 1815 Www historyofwar org Failure In Independent Tactical Command: Napoleon's Marshals In 1813 Major John M. Keefe, 2015-11-06 This monograph offers a new perspective on an old subject That is why did Napoleon's marshals so successful in corps command fail when given an independent army command It examines in detail the defeats of Marshal Nicolas Charles Oudinot at Gross Beeren Marshal Etienne MacDonald at Katzbach and Marshal Michel Ney at Dennewitz Many authors have speculated why these marshals failed in independent tactical command They have offered such reasons as lack of talent lack of guidance from Napoleon or the failure to understand the nature of Napoleonic warfare While these reasons are valid they are contributing factors rather than the primary reason for the failure of Napoleon's marshals A thorough analysis of Napoleon's Correspondences for the period 10 August through 8 September 1813 reveals that Napoleon did provide adequate guidance to his subordinate commanders A detailed study of the actions of all three marshals in both movement to and conduct during battle reveals that they in fact understood the nature of Napoleonic warfare Certainly lack of talent was not the problem as each had been very successful in combat for twenty two years The primary reason that these marshals failed was their inability to command and control their forces Lack of adequate staffs and an inability to make the intellectual leap from corps to army command proved to be their downfall The March of the Twenty-six Ronald Frederick Delderfield, 1962 Napoleon and His Marshals J. (Ronald Frederick) Delderfield,1966 The Wars of the French Revolution and Napoleon, 1792-1815 Owen Connelly,2012-10-02 Written by an experienced author and expert in the field Wars of the French Revolution and Napoleon 1792 1815 provides a thorough re examination of the crucial period in the history of France for students of history and military studies Based on extensive research and including twenty detailed maps this study is unique in its focus on the wars of both the French Revolution and Napoleon Owen Connelly expertly analyzes them both to provide a broader context for warfare Examining the causes of the wars and how the practices of warfare during this period were to influence mode of combat throughout the nineteenth and twentieth centuries Connelly also establishes trends discernable in the First and Second World Wars and examines key issues including the impact of the population explosion on armies and war the legacy of the ancient regime impact on revolutionary armies the impact of the Revolution on leadership strategy organization and weaponry Was Napoleon s leadership style unique or could another have played his role contributions from the governments of the early Revolution the Terror the Directory and the Napoleonic regime What did twenty three successive years of war accomplish Was this era a turning point in the history of warfare Napoleon's Peninsular Marshals Richard Humble,1975 Marshal Jean Lannes In The Battles Of Saalfeld, Pultusk, And Friedland, 1806 To 1807: The Application Of Combined Arms In The Opening Battle Major Robert E. Everson,2014-08-15 The French Army corps during the Napoleonic era was a combined arms organization designed as a self sustaining combat unit which could operate independently from the rest of the army One corps was designated as the advanced guard to the French army s main body and acted as the unit which would make first contact with the enemy s army This corps developed the situation while other corps would attempt to maneuver to the rear of the enemy force and consequently fight a major battle under Napoleon s control The advanced guard corps which made first contact would fight an opening battle which could last many hours until reinforcements arrived The corps under Marshal Lannes in 1806 to 1807 fought three opening battles During each battle the corps conducted their security and reconnaissance while moving towards the enemy seized their initial positions on the impending battlefield and fought as a combined arms organization for the duration of the opening battle This study shows how each of the branches artillery infantry and cavalry interacted in the opening battle This study also reveals how Marshal Lannes established a combined arms advanced guard element within his corps each time he moved the corps as the advanced guard for the French Army Although this advanced guard element was not a doctrinal organization for the French Army the elements mission was strikingly similar to the larger corps acting as an advanced guard but on a reduced scale
