Narrating The Self:

Narrating the Self in Early Modern Europe- L'écriture de Soi Dans L'Europe Moderne Bruno Tribout, Ruth Whelan, 2007 The authors of the 16 essays collected in this volume use a variety of approaches to study a broad range of what are now called ego documents from the Renaissance to the beginning of the 19th century Narrating the Self Tomi Suzuki, 1996 Narrating the Self examines the historical formation of modern Japanese literature through a fundamental reassessment of its most characteristic form the I novel an autobiographical narrative thought to recount the details of the writer's personal life thinly veiled as fiction Closely analysing a range of texts from the late nineteenth century through to the present day the author argues that the I novel is not a given form of text that can be objectively identified but a historically constructed reading mode and cultural paradigm that not only regulated the production and reception of literary texts but also defined cultural identity and national tradition Instead of emphasising as others have the thematic and formal elements of novels traditionally placed in this category she explores the historical formation of a field of discourse in which the I novel was retroactively created and defined Narration and Discourse in the Book of Genesis Hugh C. White, 1991

Narratology Wolf Schmid, 2010-06-17 This book is a standard work for modern narrative theory It provides a terminological and theoretical system of reference for future research The author explains and discusses in detail problems of communication structure and entities of a narrative work point of view the relationship between narrator's text and character's text narrativity and eventfulness and narrative transformations of happenings The book outlines a theory of narration and analyses central narratological categories such as fiction mimesis author reader narrator etc A detailed bibliography and glossary of narratological terms make this book a compendium of narrative theory which is of relevance for scholars and students of all literary disciplines Law, Human Agency and Autonomic Computing Mireille Hildebrandt, Antoinette Rouvroy, 2011-08-26 Law Human Agency and Autonomic Computing interrogates the legal implications of the notion and experience of human agency implied by the emerging paradigm of autonomic computing and the socio technical infrastructures it supports The development of autonomic computing and ambient intelligence self governing systems challenge traditional philosophical conceptions of human self constitution and agency with significant consequences for the theory and practice of constitutional self government Ideas of identity subjectivity agency personhood intentionality and embodiment are all central to the functioning of modern legal systems But once artificial entities become more autonomic and less dependent on deliberate human intervention criteria like agency intentionality and self determination become too fragile to serve as defining criteria for human subjectivity personality or identity and for characterizing the processes through which individual citizens become moral and legal subjects Are autonomic yet artificial systems shrinking the distance between acting subjects and acted upon objects How distinctively human will agency be in a world of autonomic computing Or alternatively does autonomic computing merely disclose that we were never in this sense human anyway A dialogue between philosophers of technology and philosophers of law this book addresses these questions as it takes up the unprecedented opportunity that autonomic computing and ambient intelligence offer for a reassessment of the most basic concepts of law An Introduction to Narratology , The Epistolary Novel Joe Bray,2003-08-29 The epistolary novel is a form which has been neglected in most accounts of the development of the novel This book argues that the way that the eighteenth century epistolary novel represented consciousness had a significant influence on the later novel Critics have drawn a distinction between the self at the time of writing and the self at the time at which events or emotions were experienced This book demonstrates that the tensions within consciousness are the result of a continual interaction between the two selves of the letter writer and charts the oscillation between these two selves in the epistolary novels of amongst others Aphra Behn Eliza Haywood Samuel Richardson Fanny Burney and Charlotte Smith Antiquity and the Meanings of Time Duncan F. Kennedy,2013-05-30 Society and contemporary culture seem forever fascinated by the topic of time In modern fiction Ian McEwan The Child in Time and Martin Amis Time s Arrow have led the way in exploring the human condition in relation to past present and future In cinema several cultural texts Memento Minority Report The Hours have similarly reflected a preoccupation with temporality and human experience And in the sphere of politics debates about the end of history prompted by Francis Fukuyama indicate that how we live is deeply determined by our relationship not only to place but also to the passing of time But what did the ancients think about time Is our interest in chronology a relatively recent phenomenon Or does it go further back In his major new work Duncan Kennedy indicates that our own fascination with time reckoning is by no means unique Discussing a number of key texts such as Homer s Odyssey Sophocles Oedipus Rex Virgil s Aeneid and Ovid s Metamorphoses and imaginatively setting these side by side with modern works such as Sterne s Tristram Shandy and Joyce s Ulysses he shows that from era to era and in different ways human beings have uniformly striven to understand the unfolding of history and their relationship to it This sophisticated cross disciplinary book will appeal not only to classicists but also to scholars and students in the humanities more broadly as well as beyond The Self and Its Disorders Shaun Gallagher,2024 Shaun Gallagher puts forward a pluralist account of the self and a philosophical account of psychiatric disorders as disorders of the self He argues that what have been seen as different selves physical social private extended should rather be seen as variable factors or processes organized in a certain pattern this pattern is the self Figurally Colored Narration Wolf Schmid,2022-04-04 Figurally colored narration FCN is narrator s discourse whether in the first or third person that adopts salient features of character s text mainly valuation and designation without signaling the figural part in any way Unlike free indirect discourse FCN does not refer to current acts of consciousness but to typical characteristic segments of the character s text There are two main modes of FCN contagion of the narrator s discourse with a character s text and the more or less ironical reproduction of a character s text in narrative discourse In the latter case the narrator s criticism may refer to either the content of the character s text or to its form of expression This study begins with a definition and an example of FCN as a narrative device followed by an analysis of terms used for FCN in German Anglophone and Russian literary criticism Building on the perception of FCN as a phenomenon of interference between narrator s and character s text text interference this book analyses the function and applications of FCN in narratives written in German English and Russian The Nonnarrated Wolf Schmid,2023-08-07 Telling a story requires selecting and assembling individual elements of the events one wishes to communicate The nonnarrated are the events or parts of events that were deliberately left out of the selection meaning all that was not chosen to be told in the story or chosen not to be told Since the realm of the nonnarrated in any given story is infinitely large studying the nonnarrated requires focusing on that which is not told but nevertheless belongs to a story This monograph explores the phenomenon of the nonnarrated in narrative short forms from Cechov to Murakami and in novels by Dostoevskij and Robbe Grillet J.M. Coetzee and the Ethics of Power Emanuela Tegla,2016-01-12 For I was not as I liked to believe the indulgent pleasure loving opposite of the cold rigid Colonel I was the lie that Empire tells itself when times are easy he the truth that Empire tells when harsh winds blow Thus the Magistrate confesses in Coetzee s 1980 novel Waiting for the Barbarians The present study looks closely into the unsettling effects Coetzee s novels have on the reader and explores the interconnectedness between stylistic choices and moral insights Its overall aim is to disclose the effectiveness of Coetzee s narrative strategies to prompt the reader to engage in self questioning and radical revisions of personal and social moral assumptions This is an original and ground breaking study of Coetzee s work Dr Tegla s insightful close readings highlight the ways in which Coetzee fictionalizes a variety of moral dilemmas In particular she shows how he turns narrative into an instrument for moral discernment Her narratological approach advances our understanding of his achievements and I can state without reservation that this book will be referred to as a landmark in Coetzee criticism Richard Bradford Research Professor and Senior Distinguished Research Fellow University of Ulster Reporting Discourse, Tense and Cognition Tomoko Sakita,2021-10-01 Reporting discourse has attracted rigorous analyses in linguistics literary theory cognitive psychology sociology and ethnomethodology This book provides analyses of controversial topics in reporting discourse like tense alternation reporting styles patterns and functions After critically examining existing theories Tomoko I Sakita offers new theoretical perspectives and empirical analyses within the scope of actual language performance Her analysis covers tenses that previous studies have neglected or have considered ungrammatical or mistaken Based on models of cognitive recollection and stream of consciousness tense reveals cognitive attitudinal and consciousness state markers in complex reporting processes as well as identity speaker psychology and deictic relations embedded in discourse and narrative contexts A synthesis of discourse analysis and experiments on reporting style structure and functions leads to formulating a new reporting discourse continuum Reporting discourses emerge as rule governed goal directed purposeful strategic devices in communication Sakita shows reporting discourse to be an integral whole formed by speakers constant interpretations and choices at different stages of information processing with close interactions among cognitive constraints discourse organization contextual information and communicative purposes She deepens our insights into the operation of language and cognition as well as into communication systems and social dynamics ultimately leading to a better understanding of human behaviour This should be a useful work not only for linguists and literary specialists but also for readers with serious interest in human reporting behaviour and narrative or in the dynamic aspects of cognitive operation Politics, Ideology, and Literary Discourse in Modern China Kang Liu,Xiaobing Tang,1993-11-16 This collection of essays addresses the perception that our understanding of modern China will be enhanced by opening the literature of China to more rigorous theoretical and comparative study In doing so the book confronts the problematic and complex subject of China s literary theoretical and cultural responses to the experience of the modern With chapters by writers scholars and critics from mainland China Hong Kong and the United States this volume explores the complexity of representing modernity within the Chinese context Addressing the problem of finding a proper language for articulating fundamental issues in the historical experience of twentieth century China the authors critically re examine notions of realism the self subject and modernity and draw on perspectives from feminist criticism ideological analysis and postmodern theory Among the many topics explored are subjectivity in Chinese cultural theory Chinese gender relations the viability of a Lacanian approach to Chinese identity the politics of subversion in Chinese reportage and the ambivalent status of the icon of paternity since Mao At the same time this book offers a probing look into the transformation that Chinese culture as well as the study of that culture is currently undergoing it also reconfirms private discourse as an ideal site for an investigation into a real and imaginary private and collective encounter with history Contributors Liu Kang Xiaobing Tang Liu Zaifu Stephen Chan Lydia H Liu Wendy Larson Theodore Hutters David Wang Tonglin Lu Yingjin Zhang Yuejin Wang Li Tuo Leo Ou fan Lee State Ideology, Science, and Pseudoscience in Russia Baasanjav Terbish,2022-02-25 This book recounts the entangled stories of three distinctly Russian movements state ideology Russian cosmism and Eurasianism from their inception at the end of the nineteenth century and beginning of the twentieth century until now Despite harboring pseudoscientific and mystical ideas specific to Russia all three movements were propagated by their followers as universal sciences and all three vied for scientific supremacy and universal acceptance Suppressed by the Bolsheviks and their state ideology as unscientific in the 1920s Russian cosmism and Eurasianism led an esoteric underground existence during the Soviet period and re emerged in the dying years of the Soviet Union seeking not only to reclaim their scientific status but also to potentially fill the perplexing vacuum left by the ensuing demise of Soviet state ideology This study relates the post Soviet search for a new state ideology or new National Idea at the federal and regional levels based on the Kremlin s projects and the case of the ethnic Republic of Kalmykia in south west Russia Exploring the Self, Subjectivity, and Character across Japanese and Translation Texts Senko K. Maynard,2022-01-17 From the perspective of philosophical contrastive pragmatics this study investigates our multiple selves

as manifested in how we use language Based on analyses of original and translation texts of Japanese and English literary works the Japanese self is proposed as being fundamentally empty and yet richly populated with multiple subjective aspects characters and characteristics Incorporating the concept of emptiness drawn from Japanese philosophical traditions and postmodernism primarily developed in the West selves evidenced in grammar style and variation are investigated applying interpretive resources of linguistic subjectivity character and character speak Expressive gaps found in source and target texts across two languages lead us toward different ontological views and guide us to engage in the rethinking of the concept of self

Travel Writing Casey Blanton, 2002 Traces travel writing's evolution from classical times to the present focusing on Anglo American work since the eighteenth century Examines texts by James Boswell Mary Kingsley Graham Greene Peter Mathiessen Naipaul and Chatwin

A Stranger's Journey David Mura, 2018-08-01 Long recognized as a master teacher at writing programs like VONA the Loft and the Stonecoast MFA with A Stranger's Journey David Mura has written a book on creative writing that addresses our increasingly diverse American literature Mura argues for a more inclusive and expansive definition of craft particularly in relationship to race even as he elucidates timeless rules of narrative construction in fiction and memoir His essays offer technique focused readings of writers such as James Baldwin ZZ Packer Maxine Hong Kingston Mary Karr and Garrett Hongo while making compelling connections to Mura's own life and work as a Japanese American writer In A Stranger's Journey Mura poses two central questions The first involves identity How is writing an exploration of who one is and one's place in the world Mura examines how the myriad identities in our changing contemporary canon have led to new challenges regarding both craft and pedagogy Here like Toni Morrison's Playing in the Dark or Jeff Chang's Who We Be A Stranger's Journey breaks new ground in our understanding of the relationship between the issues of race literature and culture The book's second central question involves structure How does one tell a story Mura provides clear insightful narrative tools that any writer may use taking in techniques from fiction screenplays playwriting and myth Through this process Mura candidly explores the newly evolved aesthetic principles of memoir and how questions of identity occupy a central place in contemporary memoir

Narrative Form Suzanne Keen, 2015-07-28 This revised and expanded handbook concisely introduces narrative form to advanced students of fiction and creative writing with refreshed references and new discussions of cognitive approaches to narrative nonfiction and narrative emotions
