scene of action but as impossible element performing a fantastic transgression within the storyworld This book conceptualizes and contextualizes this postmodern fantastic use of space that disrupts the reader's comfortable notion of space as objective reality in favor of the concept of space as socially mediated constructed and conventional In an illustration of the transnational nature of this phenomenon Garc a analyzes a varied corpus of the Fantastic in the past four decades from different cultures and languages merging literary analysis with classical questions of space related to the fields of philosophy urban studies and anthropology Texts include authors such as Julio Cort zar Argentina John Barth USA J G Ballard UK Jacques Sternberg Belgium Fernando Iwasaki Per Juan Jos Mill s Spain and ric Faye France This book contributes to Literary Theory and Comparative Literature in the areas of the Fantastic narratology and Geocriticism and informs the continuing interdisciplinary debate on how human beings make sense of space

Carmen Mart n Gait e Catherine O'Leary,Alison Ribeiro de Menezes,2014-08-21 A comprehensive examination of the full range of Carmen Mart n Gait e's work Carmen Mart n Gait e produced a large body of work in various genres over the course of her five decade career though she is primarily known as a novelist short story writer and social commentator Her work at times reflects and at times defies the pattern of development in Spanish fiction since the 1950s This Companion offers a re-reading of Mart n Gait e's works emphasizing her early experimentalism which culminated in mid career works notably El cuarto de atr s and stressing how in the late 1960s and early 1970s when the majority of Spanish novelists were engaged in a critique of history Mart n Gait e turned to the writing of cultural history exploring its intersection with narrative fiction in a positivist rather than a nihilistic mode Her exploration of gender issues particularly mother child relations towards the end of her career anticipated new directions in feminist thought Discussions of often ignored works such as poetry drama children's Eduardo Halfon and the Itinerary of Memory Marilyn G. Miller, 2024-09-30 Arguably all of Guatemalan writer Eduardo Halfon's fictional works deal with quandaries of translation even in their original versions The award winning author of fifteen books claims to have lost his mother tongue when his family fled to the United States after his tenth birthday This displacement echoing the displacement of his four grandparents from different corners of the Jewish diaspora to Guatemala gives Halfon like his ancestors before him good reason to consider translation a natural environment for his creative work and for life itself Indeed Halfon's uncanny ability to translate his family's history into fictions that resonate across the globe with readers in Spanish English and several other languages helps explain why he has received numerous prizes in the United States Spain Guatemala and even France some as a Latin American author others as a Latino or Jewish author Marilyn G Miller has written the first study to focus exclusively on this important voice in Jewish Latin American letters Only after returning to Guatemala and regaining his command of Spanish through reading literature did Halfon begin to build his life as a writer and translator Nonetheless the author admits that one thing is stubbornly true and it's this every sentence that I write every verb or adjective that I painstakingly insert or remove every literary thought that I have while writing always begins and ends in English Halfon's translated works are never parallel texts however Thus translation and its side effects foreign words linguistic lacunae multilingual modes of perception offer us crucial keys to understanding the author's fictional world as a vehicle for retelling and surviving Jewish trauma and finding his own particular plurilingual voice
