Narrative Descriptions:

Description in Literature and Other Media ,2007-01-01 In contrast to narrative description is a much less researched phenomenon and where it so far has found attention at all scholars have almost always discussed it with fiction in mind The all but exclusive concentration on literature has hitherto obscured the fact that description transcends literature and indeed the verbal media in general and is not only a transgeneric but also a transmedial phenomenon that can be found in many other media and arts This book is a pioneering interdisciplinary study of description since it for the first time undertakes to close this research lacuna by highlighting description and its relevance with reference to a wide spectrum of arts and media The volume opens with a detailed introductory essay which aims at clarifying the descriptive as a basic semiotic form of organizing signs from a theoretical perspective but also provides a first overview of the uses of description as well as its problematics in fiction painting and instrumental music In the main part of the book nine contributions by scholars from various disciplines explore description in individual media and different cultural epochs The first section of the book is dedicated to literature and related partly verbal media and includes a typological and historical survey of description in fiction as well as discussions of its occurrence in poetry nature writing radioliterature and film The second part deals with the purely visual media and ranges from a presentation of the descriptive techniques used in D rer s graphic reproductions to general reflections on the descriptive in the visual arts as well as in photography A third section on description in music provides a perspective on yet another medium The volume which is the second one in the series Studies in Intermediality is of relevance to students and scholars from various fields intermedial studies literary and film studies history of art and musicology

Foregrounded Description in Prose Fiction José M. Lopes, 1995-12-15 In this wide ranging study Jos Manuel Lopes proposes a theoretical framework for analysing the role of description in prose fiction He offers readings of texts drawn from four national literatures French Spanish Portuguese and Brazilian testing his model across a cultural and temporal spectrum This critical breadth also illustrates the significance of description in disparate contexts the postmodern novel which implicitly challenges conventional notions of foreground and background as well as the naturalist and realist fiction of the nineteenth century Lopes applies his model to detailed readings of Emile Zola s Une Page d amour Claude Simon s Histoire Benito P rez Gald s La de Bringas Corn lio Penna s A Menina Morta and Carlos de Oliveira s Finisterra In addition to exploring the interplay of description and narration these readings pay particular attention to spatial descriptions and analyse the diverse roles of description in different contexts After subjecting each fictional text to a detailed analysis which seeks to bring out the crucial aspects that contribute towards the foregrounding of descriptive passages e g mise en abyme parody modes of representation and which establishes on occasion certain relations that literary description may entertain with the other arts he attempts to isolate the primary functions of foregrounding descriptions What he seeks to demonstrate is that description constitutes a major textual component necessary for the analysis and understanding of both nineteenth and twentieth century fictional texts

Early Childhood Education Petr G.

Grotewell, Yanus R. Burton, 2008 This book focuses on early childhood education which spans the human life from birth to age 8 Infants and toddlers experience life more holistically than any other age group Social emotional cognitive language and physical lessons are not learned separately by very young children Adults who are most helpful to young children interact in ways that understand that the child is learning from the whole experience not just that part of the experience to which the adult gives attention Although early childhood education does not have to occur in the absence of the parent or primary caregiver this term is sometimes used to denote education by someone other than these the parent or primary caregiver Both research in the field and early childhood educators view the parents as an integral part of the early childhood education process Early childhood education takes many forms depending on the theoretical and educational beliefs of the educator or parent Other terms that is often used interchangeably with early childhood education are early childhood learning early care and early education Much of the first two years of life are spent in the creation of a child's first sense of self or the building of a first identity Because this is a crucial part of children's makeup how they first see themselves how they think they should function how they expect others to function in relation to them early care must ensure that in addition to carefully selected and trained caregivers links with family home culture and home language are a central part of program policy If care becomes a substitute for rather than a support of family children may develop a less than positive sense of who they are and where they come from because of their child care experience
