Literature, Nature, and Other Patrick D. Murphy, 1995-02-01 The book first establishes a theoretical framework for conceptualizing environmental analysis It then develops a conception of environmental literature with an emphasis on works by women arguing for the need to reconceptualize woman nature and nature culture associations and critiquing the problems of male poetic sex typing of the planet Murphy also elaborates on specific works and authors with an emphasis on literary texts by Hampl Harjo Snyder and Le Guin Additionally he treats issues of canon and pedagogy as well as the possibility of agency in a postmodern era Ranging across diverse fields and incorporating cultural studies post structuralist literary theory and ecofeminist philosophy Literature Nature and Other both defines and critiques the current terrains of literary ecocriticism and nature writing environmental literature Literary examples are drawn from fiction poetry and prose including postmodern metanarratives and works by Native Americans and Chicanas

Joseph Butler: Fifteen Sermons and other writings on ethics David McNaughton, 2017-02-10 Joseph

Butler's Fifteen Sermons 1729 is a classic work of moral philosophy which remains widely influential. The topics Butler discusses include the role of conscience in human nature, self-love and egoism, compassion, resentment and forgiveness, and love of our neighbour and of God. The text of the enlarged and corrected second edition is here presented together with a selection of Butler's other ethical writings: A Dissertation of the Nature of Virtue, A Sermon Preached Before the House of Lords, and relevant extracts from his correspondence with Samuel Clarke. While this is a reader's edition that avoids cluttering Butler's text with textual variants and intrusive footnotes, it comes complete with scholarly apparatus intended to aid the reader in studying Butler's work in depth. David McNaughton contributes a substantial historical and philosophical introduction that highlights the continuing importance of these works. In addition, there are extensive notes at the end of the volume including significant textual variants and full details of Butler's sources and references, as well as short summaries of Butler's predecessors and a selective bibliography. This will be the definitive resource for anyone interested in Butler's moral philosophy.

John Muir: Nature Writings (LOA #92) John Muir, 1997-04-22. Known as the Father of the National Parks, John Muir wrote about the American West with unmatched passion and eloquence, as seen in this stunning one-volume collection. In a lifetime of exploration, writing, and passionate political activism, John Muir became America's most eloquent spokesman for the mystery and majesty of the wilderness. A crucial figure in the creation of our national parks system and a far-seeing prophet of environmental awareness who founded the Sierra Club in 1892, he was also a master of natural description who evoked with unique power and intimacy the untrammelled landscapes of the American West. Nature Writings collects Muir's most significant and best-loved works in a single volume, including The Story of My Boyhood and Youth (1913), My First Summer in the Sierra (1911), The Mountains of California (1894), and Stickeen (1909). Rounding out the volume is a rich selection of essays, including Yosemite Glaciers, God's First Temples, Snow Storm on Mount Shasta, The American Forests, and Save the Redwoods, that highlight various aspects of his career, his exploration of the Grand Canyon, and of what became Yosemite and Yellowstone national parks; his successful crusades to preserve the wilderness; his early walking tour to Florida; and the Alaska journey of 1879. LIBRARY OF AMERICA is an independent nonprofit cultural organization founded in 1979 to preserve our nation's literary heritage by publishing and keeping permanently in print America's best and most significant writing. The Library of America series includes more than 300 volumes to date, authoritative editions that average 1,000 pages in length, feature cloth covers, sewn bindings, and ribbon markers, and are printed on premium acid-free paper that will last for centuries.

Thysbe by Gene Stratton Porter On Going a Journey by William Hazlitt Lake Scenery by William Wordsworth Walking Tours by Robert Louis Stevenson etc A fantastic collection of thought provoking essays not to be missed by nature lovers and fans of nature writing A Thousand Fields is publishing this brand new collection of classic essays now for the enjoyment of a new generation of readers The Norton Book of Nature Writing Robert Finch, John Elder, 1990 W W Norton is pleased to announce that The Norton Book of Nature Writing is now available in a paperback college edition The Attention of a Traveller Kathryn H. Braund, 2022-06-07 Brings together and highlights some of the latest and most engaging work on William Bartram and efforts to commemorate his journey through the disparate region that would become the Southeastern US Marxism and Human Nature Sean Sayers, Nature Writing Don Scheese, 2013-10-28 In this comprehensive study of the genre Don Scheese traces its evolution from the pastoralism evident in the natural history observations of Aristotle and the poetry of Virgil to current American writers He documents the emergence of the modern form of nature writing as a reaction to industrialization Scheese s personal observations of natural settings sharpen the reader s understanding of the dynamics between author and locale His study is further informed by ample use of illustrations and close readings core writers such as Thoreau John Muir and Mary Austin showing how each writer s work exemplifies the pastoral tradition and celebrate a spirit of place in the United States Writing Nature Sharon Cameron, 1989-01-15 At his death Henry Thoreau left the majority of his writing unpublished The bulk of this material is a journal that he kept for twenty four years Sharon Cameron s major claim is that this private work the Journal was Thoreau s primary work taking precedence over the books that he published in his lifetime Her controversial thesis views Thoreau s Journal as a composition that confounds the distinction between public and private the basis on which our conventional treatment of discourse depends Women Writing Nature Barbara Cook, 2007-12-14 Since Silent Spring was published in 1962 the number of texts about the natural world written by women has grown exponentially The essays in Women Writing Nature A Feminist View argue that women writing in the 20th century are utilizing the historical connection of women and the natural world in diverse ways For centuries women have been associated with nature but many feminists have sought to distance themselves from the natural world because of dominant cultural representations which reflect women as controlled by powerful natural forces and confined to domestic spaces However in the spirit of Rachel Carson some writers have begun to invoke nature for feminist purposes or have used nature as an agent of resistance This collection considers women s writings about the natural world in light of recent and current feminist and ecofeminist theory and finds a variety of approaches and perspectives both by the scholars and by the authors discussed culminating with the voices of two women activist and scientist Joan Maloof and Irish poet Rosemarie Rowley who both write about the natural world from a feminist perspective Reason and the Nature of Texts James L. Battersby, 2016-11-11 Many of today s most prominent critics and teachers of literature insist on the endless deferral of textual meaning and on the social construction of meaning and thought Against these markers of current critical theory James L Battersby argues for the authorial construction of determinate textual meaning insisting that to think about anything at all we must be able to refer to it and that such references are necessarily the semantic consequences of an author's deliberate intentional acts Propelling Battersby's argument is his use of principles and arguments drawn from current philosophical literature on language and mind Battersby reveals the philosophical shortcomings and argumentative weaknesses of some of the most prominent and influential doctrines in critical theory today especially and principally those that inform and define postmodernism in both its linguistic and historicist materialist modes As he argues for a fresh conception of our understanding of language mind and meaning Battersby probes the critical positions of among others Stanley Fish Mikhail Bakhtin Paul de Man and Jacques Derrida Making room for an alternative and Battersby asserts more intellectually appealing framework requires a skeptical dissection of the linguistic and historicist tenets that form the foundation of poststructuralism The striking outcome of his effort is a book as lively erudite theoretically informed and provocative as his earlier Paradigms Regained The Poetical Works and Other Writings of John Keats John Keats, 1883

Making Nature Whole William R. Jordan, George M. Lubick, 2011-07-26 Making Nature Whole is a seminal volume that presents an in depth history of the field of ecological restoration as it has developed in the United States over the last three decades The authors draw from both published and unpublished sources including archival materials and oral histories from early practitioners to explore the development of the field and its importance to environmental management as well as to the larger environmental movement and our understanding of the world Considering antecedents as varied as monastic gardens the Scientific Revolution and the emerging nature awareness of nineteenth century Romantics and Transcendentalists Jordan and Lubick offer unique insight into the field's philosophical and theoretical underpinnings They examine specifically the more recent history including the story of those who first attempted to recreate natural ecosystems early in the 20th century as well as those who over the past few decades have realized the value of this approach not only as a critical element in conservation but also as a context for negotiating the ever changing relationship between humans and the natural environment Making Nature Whole is a landmark contribution providing context and history regarding a distinctive form of land management and giving readers a fascinating overview of the development of the field It is essential reading for anyone interested in understanding where ecological restoration came from or where it might be going Ecological Footprints in Literature: An Excursion into Selected Nature Writings and Nature Novels Dr. Archana R. Kadiyan, 2022-08-22 The book provides a comprehensive view of the environmental discourses that are found in the literary representations of the natural world The book presents an in depth analysis of the symbolic manifestations of the outer world in various genres of literature such as nature novels and nature or ecological writings It deeply captures the mutual interactions that occur between the human and the non human world that tend to influence each other's actions and processes By exploring the ecocritical leanings and tracing all the phases of Anthropocene the book takes its readers for a deep excursion into the beauteous dynamic natural and overtly spiritual world of Nature as exhibited in the writings such as Thoreau's Walden Khushwant Singh's Nature Watch and Starhawk's The Earth Path which is contrasted against the eco catastrophic world of Rachel Carson's Silent Spring An insightful and analytical journey into the world of more unique portrayals of the ecological world that tend to strike a balance between two distinct worlds the real and the imaginative the spiritual and the material as well as the natural and the man made as reflected in the nature novels George Eliot's Mill on the Floss Khushwant Singh's I Shall not Hear the Nightingale Starhawk's Fifth Sacred Thing and Ernest Callenbach's Ecotopia A Novel The book thus with its underpinning wisdom will be an interesting and more enlightening read for the critics academicians and researchers
