Maritime History at the Crossroads Frank Broeze, 2017-10-18 This volume seeks to critically review the contemporary state of maritime historiography as it stands at the volume's publication date of 1995. The volume is comprised of thirteen essays each focused on the recent research into the maritime concerns of a particular geographical location listed as follows: Australia, Canada, China, Denmark, Germany, Greece, Ibero America, India, the Netherlands, the Ottoman Empire, Spain, the United States, and a final chapter concerning historians and maritime labour in Britain, Australia, and New Zealand. One concern made evident by the collection is the lack of stable identity and cohesive aims within maritime history; the subject holds many conflicting definitions and concepts. The purpose of this volume is to explore the recent developments in maritime history plus the growth of scholarly interest to provide a beacon and stimulus for future work and to clearly direct and define maritime historiography toward a solid position in the field of history. A Supplement (1971-1986) to Robert G.

Albion's Naval & Maritime History, an Annotated Bibliography, Fourth Edition Benjamin Woods Labaree, 1988 This comprehensive annotated bibliography works and Ph D theses in the English language was compiled by a pioneering maritime historian, the late Robert Albion. Atlas of Indonesia Robert Cribb, 2013-02-01 This pioneering volume traces the history of the region which became Indonesia from early times to the present day in over three hundred specially drawn full colour maps with detailed accompanying text. In doing so, the Atlas brings fresh life to the fascinating and tangled history of this immense archipelago. Beginning with the geographical and ecological forces which have shaped the physical form of the archipelago, the Historical Atlas of Indonesia goes on to chart early human migration and the changing distribution of ethnic groups. It traces the kaleidoscopic pattern of states in early Indonesia and their gradual incorporation into the Netherlands Indies and eventually into the Republic of Indonesia. Sources for a New Maritime History of Devon David John Starkey, David Starkey, 1987

Daily Life in the Age of Sail Dorothy Volo, James M. Volo, 2001-11-30 From the Thirteenth century through the Nineteenth, the waterways of the world provided the major means of transportation for exploration, trade, the military, and even criminals. Find out what life was like for those who chose to sail the high seas as well as for those who didn't choose to be on board like wives brought to sea by husbands and slaves en route to the auction block. What were their quarters like? What did they eat? How did they pass their long days at sea? These and other questions are answered in animated prose that brings the lives of ordinary people who oftentimes engaged in extraordinary activities into sharp focus. First hand accounts from such sources as personal journals and magazine articles are provided to help bring the time period alive. Students will also learn what life was like in the seaport towns and what the sailors did when they visited these towns as well as the physical parts of the ships.

and the different roles different members of the crew played This engaging history helps to separate fact from fiction while exploring the reasons the sea and sea life have held such prominent roles in popular fiction and will help students understand what life was truly like for these people
