McLean,2018-09-28 In 1918 Lucile Berkeley Buchanan Jones received her bachelor s degree from the University of Colorado becoming its first female African American graduate though she was not allowed to walk at graduation nor is she pictured in the 1918 CU yearbook In Remembering Lucile author Polly McLean depicts the rise of the African American middle class through the historical journey of Lucile and her family from slavery in northern Virginia to life in the American West using their personal story as a lens through which to examine the greater experience of middle class Blacks in the early twentieth century The first born daughter of emancipated slaves Lucile refused to be defined by the racist and sexist climate of her times settling on a career path in teaching that required great courage in the face of pernicious Jim Crow laws Embracing her sister s dream for higher education and W E B Du Bois s ideology she placed education and intelligence at the forefront of her life teaching in places where she could most benefit African American students Over her 105 years she was an eyewitness to spectacular inspiring and tragic moments in American history including horrific lynchings and systemic racism in housing and business opportunities as well as the success of women s suffrage and Black owned businesses and educational institutions Remembering Lucile employs a unique blend of Black feminist historiography and wider discussions of race gender class religion politics and education to illuminate major events in African American history and culture as well as the history of the University of Colorado and its relationship to Black students and alumni as it has evolved from institutional racism to welcoming acceptance This extensive biography paints a vivid picture of a strong extraordinary Black woman who witnessed an extraordinary time in America and rectifies her omission from CU s institutional history The book fills an important gap in the literature of the history of Blacks in the Rocky Mountain region and will be of significance to anyone interested in American history Media Denver Post Daily Camera Colorado Arts Sciences Magazine Books in Print, 2005-2006 Michael Cairns,2005 Loudoun County, Virginia Birth Register 1880-1896 Patricia B.
