Richard Steele is famous as an early writer of sentimental drama and as half of the writing team Addison and Steele. He is notable both for the indirect propaganda he developed with Addison and for the open partisanship of his own periodicals. He wrote extensively about responsible economics but was famously irresponsible in his own affairs.

Bull Mountains Exchange of Federal Coal Lands with Meridian Minerals Company, 1990 Florists Exchange and Horticultural Trade World, 1926 The Education of Gerald Ford Hendrik Booraem V, 2016

GERALD R FORD 1913 2006 the thirty eighth president of the United States grew up in Grand Rapids Michigan and by all accounts modeled exemplary behavior. In this biography Hendrik Booraem carefully examines that image and the reputation that Ford earned during his early years, telling about Ford's life up until his graduation from the University of Michigan in 1935. Booraem uses in depth research of numerous written sources plus interviews with some twenty people who personally knew Ford to show how Jerry Ford excelled at academics and athletics, forging his way through challenges, family difficulties, economic setbacks and more on his way to a remarkable political career. Booraem's historical portrait offers fascinating insight into the early years of this president who sought to heal the nation at a very low point in its history.

This book is the result of intensive and continued discussions about the social role of language and its conceptualisations in societies other than Northern European American ones. Language as a means of expressing as well as evoking both interiority and community has been in the focus of these discussions led among linguists, anthropologists and Egyptologists and leading to a collection of essays that provide studies that transcend previously considered approaches. Its contributions are in particular interested in understanding how the attitude of the individual towards societal processes and strategies of norming is negotiated emotionally and how individual interests and attitudes can be articulated. Discourses on public spaces are in the focus in order to analyse those strategies that are employed to articulate dissent, for example in the sense of face threatening acts. This raises a number of questions on the spatial and public situatedness of emotions and language. How is the public space dealt with and reflected in language as property, heritage and as a part of ascribed identities? Which role do emotions play in this space? How is emotion employed there as part of place making in relation to identity constructions? What is the connection between emotion performance and emblematic spaces and places? Which opportunities of the violation of norms and transgression do such public spaces offer to actors and speakers These questions intend to address the communicative representation of core cultural processes and concepts The Moving Picture World ,1915 American Theatre: A Chronicle of Comedy and Drama 1914-1930 Gerald Bordman,1995 The American Theatre series discusses every Broadway production chronologically show by show and season by season It offers plot summaries production details names of leading actors and actresses the roles they played as well as any special or unusual aspects of individual shows This second volume in the series covers what is probably the richest period in American theater the years 1914 through 1930 Bordman includes most of Eugene O'Neill's work along with playwrights as diverse as Elmer Rice and George Kaufman Among the era's stars one finds John and Ethel Barrymore Helen Hayes Katherine Cornell and Lynn Fontaine and Alfred Lunt Considering the sheer number of productions American theater climbed to its all time high in the 1920s by mid decade nearly 300 new plays appeared on Broadway each year America saw more theatrical activity in every sense of the word than any time before or since The Household Journal ,1910 An Inculturation Model of the Catholic Marriage Ritual David William Antonio,2002 In An Inculturation Model of the Catholic Marriage Ritual David William Antonio presents a model of how the Catholic Ritual of Marriage may be adapted to the language culture and traditions of a particular people specifically the Ilocanos of Northern Luzon in the Philippines Vatican II called for the revision and adaptation of the rite of marriage exhorting local churches to develop their own rites suited to their people's particular customs and traditions The work of preparing a rite of marriage for a particular region cannot be limited to merely translating the typical edition There has to be a thorough examination of both the editio typica and the people's religious and cultural traditions the socio economic and political realities that confront them attending to the positive values expressed therein Only a dialogical process such as this will guarantee a liturgy that is faithful to the Christian tradition and meaningful to a given people An Inculturation Model of the Catholic Marriage Ritual will serve as a model for people of other cultures who have to do similar liturgical preparation and will be important especially to churches whose membership includes people who experienced colonization but never lost the riches of their own cultures in the blending of cultures and beliefs that followed Journal of the Telegraph ,1881
