

The Raven

Deep into that darkness peering,
Long I stood there, wondering,
fearing,
Doubting, dreaming dreams no mortals
Ever dared to dream before;
But the silence was unbroken,
And the stillness gave no token,
And the only word there spoken
Was the whispered word, "Lenore!"
This I whispered, and an echo
Murmured back the word, "Lenore!"
Merely this, and nothing more.

that made the ancient structure appear alive with malevolent intent Eleanor pulled her woolen cloak tighter around her shoulders as the carriage lurched to a halt before the manor's imposing oak doors The driver a grizzled man who had spoken little during their journey from the village refused to meet her eyes as he handed down her modest trunk Are you certain you won't stay the night at the inn miss he asked his voice barely audible above the howling wind These old places they're not meant for the living after dark Eleanor squared her shoulders drawing upon the resolve that had carried her through years of governess positions in households where she was neither family nor servant but something uncomfortably between Thank you for your concern but I am expected The advertisement was quite specific about my arrival date The driver shook his head and climbed back onto his perch without another word Eleanor watched as the carriage disappeared into the mist shrouded moor its lanterns swallowed by the darkness until she stood alone before the manor's threshold The brass knocker was fashioned in the shape of a raven's head its obsidian eyes seeming to follow her movements as she lifted it and let it fall against the door The sound echoed through the night like a death knell and Eleanor found herself counting the seconds until footsteps approached from within
