Lust To Kill Feminist Investigation Of Sexual Murder:

The Lust to Kill Deborah Cameron, Elizabeth Frazer, 1987

Mythologies of Violence in Postmodern Media

Christopher Sharrett, 1999 This anthology examines a number of issues related to violence within the media landscape. Violence has been a topic of continued concern within American culture and society. Although there have been numerous sociological and historical studies of violence and its origins, there is relatively little systematic analysis of violence within media representation even as this issue becomes preeminent within public discourse. This anthology examines a number of issues related to violence within the media landscape using various methodologies to suggest the implications of the increasing obsession with violence for postmodern civilization.

Lustmord Maria Tatar, 2020-07-21

In a book that confronts our society's obsession with sexual violence, Maria Tatar seeks the meaning behind one of the most disturbing images of twentieth-century Western culture: the violated female corpse. This image is so prevalent in painting, literature, film, and most recently in mass media that we rarely question what is at stake in its representation. Tatar, however, challenges us to consider what is taking place both artistically and socially in the construction and circulation of scenes depicting sexual murder. In examining images of sexual murder, Lustmord she produces a riveting study of how art and murder have intersected in the sexual politics of culture from Weimar Germany to the present. Tatar focuses attention on the politically turbulent Weimar Republic, often viewed as the birthplace of a transgressive avant-garde modernism where representations of female sexual mutilation abound. Here a revealing episode in the gender politics of cultural production unfolds as male artists and writers working in a society consumed by fear of outside threats envision women as enemies that can be contained and mastered through transcendent artistic expression. Not only does Tatar show that male artists openly identified with real-life sexual murderers, George Grosz posed as Jack the Ripper in a photograph where his model and future wife was the target of his knife, but she also reveals the ways in which victims were disavowed and erased. Tatar first analyzes actual cases of sexual murder that aroused wide public interest in Weimar Germany. She then considers how the representation of murdered women in visual and literary works functions as a strategy for managing social and sexual anxieties and shows how violence against women can be linked to the war trauma, to urban pathologies, and to the politics of cultural production and biological reproduction. In exploring the complex relationship between victim and agent in cases of sexual murder, Tatar explains how the roles came to be destabilized and reversed, turning the perpetrator of criminal deeds into a defenseless victim of seductive evil. Throughout the West today, the creation of similar ideological constructions still occurs in societies that have only recently begun to validate the voices of their victims. Maria Tatar's book opens up an important discussion for readers seeking to understand the forces behind sexual violence and its portrayal in the cultural media throughout this century.

Violence in Everyday Life Aliraza Javaid, 2020-07-23

Violence in Everyday Life explores how identity markers such as gender and sexuality intersect with violence, synthesizing the themes of gender, sexuality, and violence to offering a crucial and coherent framework for understanding the interrelationship between these concepts Aliraza Javaid explores how violence is experienced at a local regional and global level and considers the ways in which hegemonic masculinities are reproduced through violence Attention is given to the particular ways in which these constructions of masculinity are reflected in areas such as homophobic violence transphobic violence and violence against intimate partners Drawing on new empirical data and his own personal experiences of violence as well as identifying new areas for further research Javaid s work represents a unique study of the interconnectedness of violence gender and sexuality and of how violence is fuelled by society s attitudes towards masculinity

Stranger Rape Kevin Bonnycastle,2012-10-09 Kevin Denys Bonnycastle s Stranger Rape is an in depth study of the lives of fourteen men who raped women unknown to them Using new data derived from official offender files offender program observations and the men s personal histories Bonnycastle documents compares and contrasts their experiences from boyhood to adulthood and eventual incarceration Bonnycastle argues that stranger rapists do not fit existing portrayals of them as predatory monsters or misogynist everymen Instead through an innovative approach that builds on research and theory from feminism gender studies critical criminology and masculinity studies she positions stranger rape as a matter of experiences of pain and powerlessness rather than of male power and control The book s major achievement is to recognize rapists and rape in their particularity and complexity in the hope that critical thinking about their lives and about their experiences in penal contexts and programs may eventually lead to what one respondent called his road to redemption Please note that this book includes graphic content

Shadow Cinema James Fenwick,Kieran Foster,David Eldridge,2020-11-12 Filmmakers and cinema industries across the globe invest more time money and creative energy in projects and ideas that never get produced than in the movies that actually make it to the screens Thousands of projects are abandoned in pre production halted cut short or even made and never distributed a shadow cinema that exists only in the archives This collection of essays by leading scholars and researchers opens those archives to draw on a wealth of previously unexamined scripts correspondence and production material reconstructing many of the hidden histories of the last hundred years of world cinema Highlighting the fact that the movies we see are actually the exception to the rule this study uncovers the myriad reasons why failures occur and considers how understanding those failures can transform the disciplines of film and media history The first survey of this new area of empirical study across transnational borders Shadow Cinema is a vital and fascinating demonstration of the importance of the unmade unseen and unknown history of cinema

Hunting Humans Elliott Leyton,2011-10-05 In this classic study Elliott Leyton challenges the conventional idea of serial

murderers as deranged madmen He explores the twisted but comprehensible motives of a half dozen notorious killers Edmund Emil Kemper Theodore Robert Bundy Albert DeSalvo The Boston Strangler David Richard Berkowitz Son of Sam Mark James Robert Essex and Charles Starkweather In the process of describing their crimes Leyton exposes the cold rationality that underlies their apparent pointlessness The result is startling a revelatory text on a deeply troubling topic

Violence Against Women Pauline B. Bart,Eileen Geil Moran,1993 Violence against women permeates our society at every level in every setting Murder rape intimidation pornography workplace harassment incest are all part of a general belief built into the roots of patriarchal society Women are proper targets of male violence The chapters in this book contributed by some of the most prolific contemporary writers on women s issues explore this culture of violence and oppression examining its ideological underpinnings and its structural supports in the social political and legal systems that protect the violent by blaming the victim Femicidal Fears Helene Meyers,2001-10-19 Argues that contemporary female Gothic novels of death can in fact breathe new life into feminist debates about victimization essentialism agency and the body
