Helen in the Homeric tradition Among these he shows how Sappho presents Helen as an icon of absolute beauty while she defends her own preference of eros over honor and her choice of woman as the object of desire Austin then turns to three major authors who repudiated the traditional Helen of Troy the lyric poet Stesichorus and the dramatist Euripides who embraced the alternative myth of Helen's phantom and the historian Herodotus who claimed to have found in Egypt a Helen story that dispenses with both Helen and the phantom Austin maintains that the conflicting motives that prompted these writers to rehabilitate Helen led to further revisions of her image though none have endured as a credible substitute for the Helen of epic tradition
