Mediated Associations Cinematic Dimensions Of Social Theory:

Mediated Associations Daniel O'Connor, 2002 Mediated Associations builds upon current debates over the relationship between society and the cinema and extends the critical dialogue that has been emerging between cinematic concepts and methods of social analysis Drawing from a broad range of philosophical sociological cultural media and cinema theorists Daniel O Connor develops a unique conception of the power of cinematic apparatuses He expands our understanding of how cinema effectively resonates with its viewers and draws our attention to the constitution and control of aesthetic cinematic communities Rather than focusing on the abstract and individualizing character of cinema Mediated Associations elucidates the collective character of cinematic objects O Connor argues that social theory must come to terms with the new mobilities and speed of cinema and the various ways in which the affect as a virtual moment of collective experience is inserted into the flow of movement and structures cinematic events In considering the primacy of the affect to cinematic forms of power he examines the way in which cinema controls our associations reconstituting our manners and habits of sociality and sociability in subtle and complex ways

Spatial Questions Rob Shields, 2013-07-11 Rob Shields provides here an immensely sophisticated and detailed examination of the topological turn He has been examining these issues for some decades and this book will surely become the standard work on cultural and spatial topology John Urry Distinguished Professor Department of Sociology Lancaster University Our understanding of space is crucial to the way in which we understand major social problems and issues and the way we develop and maintain our worldviews Building from a history of philosophical and geographical theories of space Shields presents the importance of spatialisation and cultural topology in social theory and the possibilities that lie within these theoretical tools Innovative and thought provoking this book goes beyond traditional ideas of spatiality and temporality to understand the multiplicity of spatialisations and relates them to everyday life Main Street Movies Martin L. Johnson, 2018-01-23 See yourself in the movies Prior to the advent of the home movie camera and the ubiquitousness of the camera phone there was the local film This cultural phenomenon produced across the country from the 1890s to the 1950s gave ordinary people a chance to be on the silver screen without leaving their hometowns Through these movies residents could see themselves in the same theaters where they saw major Hollywood motion pictures Traveling filmmakers plied their trade in small towns and cities where these films were received by locals as being part of the larger cinema experience With access to the rare film clips under discussion Main Street Movies documents the diversity and longevity of local film production and examines how itinerant filmmakers responded to industry changes to keep sponsors and audiences satisfied From town pride films in the 1910s to Hollywood knockoffs in the 1930s local films captured not just images of local people and places but also ideas about the function and meaning of cinema that continue to resonate today Canadian Journal of Film Studies , 2003 Canadian Books in Print. Author and Title Index , 1975 Look at the Bunny Dominic Pettman, 2013-03-29 Are totems merely a thing of the distant past Or might it be that our sleek new machines are producing totemic forces which we are only beginning to recognize This book asks to what degree today's media technologies are haunted by a Freudian ghost functioning as totems or taboos or both By isolating five case studies rabbits in popular culture animated creatures that go off program virtual lovers jealous animal spirit guides and electronic paradises Look at the Bunny highlights and explores today's techno totemic environment In doing so it explores how nonhuman avatars are increasingly expected to shepherd us beyond our land locked identities into a risky sometimes ecstatic relationship with the Other James Ellroy and Voyeur Fiction Nathan Ashman, 2018-10-15 James Ellroy is an acclaimed yet controversial popular novelist Since the publication of his first novel Brown's Requiem in 1981 Ellroy's eccentric Demon Dog persona and his highly stylized often pornographically violent crime novels have continued to polarize both public and academic opinion This book addresses the voyeuristic dimensions of Ellroy's fiction one of the most significant yet underexplored issues in his work Focusing exclusively on Ellroy's two collections of epic noir fiction The L A Quartet and The Underworld U S A Trilogy it critically reflects on a vivid preoccupation with eyes visual culture and visual technologies that spans across both these bodies of work Using a combination of psychoanalysis and postmodern and cultural theory Nathan Ashman argues that Ellroy's fiction traces the development of the voyeur from a deviant and perverse peeping tom into a recognizable contemporary social type a paranoid and obsessive viewer who is a product of the decentered and hallucinatory cinematic world that he inhabits In particular James Ellroy and Voyeur Fiction illuminates a convergence between voyeurism and recurring patterns of ocularcentric crisis in Ellroy's texts as characters become continually unable to understand or interpret through vision Alongside a thematic analysis of obsessive watching Ashman also argues that Ellroy's works particularly his later novels are themselves voyeuristic implicating the reader in these broader narrative patterns of both visual and epistemophilic obsession University of Toronto Quarterly University of Toronto,1895 Internationale Bibliographie der Rezensionen wissenschaftlicher Literatur,2004 G.K. Hall Bibliographic Guide to Theatre Arts New York Public Library. Research Libraries,2003 The Anthem Handbook of Screen Theory Hunter Vaughan,Tom Conley,2018-07-30 The Anthem Handbook of Screen Theory offers a unique and progressive survey of screen theory and how it can be applied to a range of moving image texts and sociocultural contexts Focusing on the handbook angle the book includes only original essays from established authors in the field and new scholars on the cutting edge of helping screen theory evolve for the twenty first century vistas of new media social shifts and geopolitical change This method guarantees a strong foundation and clarity for the canon of film theory while also situating it as part of a larger genealogy of art theories and critical thought and reveals the relevance and utility of film theories and concepts to a wide array of expressive practices and specified arguments The Anthem Handbook of Screen Theory is at once inclusive applicable and a chance for writers to innovate and really play with where they think the field is can and should be heading War and Film in America Marilyn J. Matelski,Nancy Lynch Street,2003-08-04 America's chief exports are war and entertainment combined they are the war films viewed all over the world The film industry is a partner of the government American film shapes the ways in which both Americans and others view war The authors herein explore differing film perspectives across five decades The essays written especially for this volume explore topics such as frontier justice Cold War fervor government sponsored terrorism the back to Nam films films as a venue for propaganda and war's far reaching effects on personal values family relationships and general civility The movies used in these analyses vary from conventional battle epics like Bridge on the River Kwai and The Green Berets to motion pictures with a war motif either as part of the story The Way We Were or as a historical setting The Graduate Some of the films are satirical Dr Strangelove some are propagandistic The Alamo Big Jim McLain Other films include Black Hawk Down True Lies The Deer Hunter Patriot Games and Let There Be Light Instructors considering this book for use in a course may request an examination copy here The Oxford Handbook of Film Theory Kyle Stevens,2022 Poses timely questions about the state of cinema today Looks beyond canonical film theory and practitioners Revitalizes an essential part of the discipline's identity Offers provocative new arguments from leading film scholars Book jacket

Transformative Civic Education in Democratic Societies Tetyana Hoggan-Kloubert,Paul E Mabrey III,Chad Hoggan,2023-08-01 Democracy is neither inevitable nor guaranteed to last To survive democracy needs people adequately prepared to enact it Such preparation for effective citizenship in a complex and plural world requires an adult civic education one that goes beyond simple knowledge acquisition It requires a transformative education to help learners become agents and co shapers of their worlds This book offers examples of the roles that civic education has played and can play in different
