Movies History Of An Art Institution:

The American Film Institute and the Cultural Politics of Experimental and Independent Cinema Gracia Ramirez, 2022-11-01 This book examines the role that the American Film Institute AFI had in supporting experimental and independent cinema at a key moment of change in the history of American film Weaving a rich historical narrative Ramirez argues that the Cold War struggle for cultural supremacy motivated the creation of the federally funded AFI Exploring the intersection of business interests and political objectives Ramirez demonstrates how the AFI's approach to experimental and independent cinema was marked by an interest in promoting innovative aesthetics and protecting the creative freedom of filmmakers but lacked the attention to distribution and exhibition that would strengthen the viability of experimental and independent filmmaking as professional practices Scholars of film history and American studies will find this work particularly useful

Classic American Films William Baer, 2007-11-30 Classic American Films explores the origin and development of many of the most influential and revered films in cinema history and does so with the aid and insight of the people who actually wrote the screenplays These lively candid in depth interviews are filled with fascinating new material details anecdotes judgments and opinions about the creative and collaborative processes that went into the making of these extraordinary films In the past Hollywood screenwriters the original artists have often been overlooked This book is a special tribute to the invaluable contributions of these cinematic visionaries many of whom are considered among the greatest screenwriters in American film history As Orson Welles once said In my opinion the writer should have the first and last word in filmmaking This book allows them to have that exciting opportunity Some of the highlights from these interviews include Betty Comden and Adolph Green's explaining how a nightclub skit became the premise for Singin' in the Rain Ernest Lehman's description of how while in conversation with Hitchcock his unconscious suddenly solved the plot problems in North by Northwest Carl Gottlieb's remembrance of the terrible pressure involved with writing the script for Jaws while shooting was already underway and Sylvester Stallone's account of how he received final approval to star in Rocky from studio executives who thought he was just another actor

Beyond the Epic Gene Phillips, 2006-11-24 Two time Academy Award winner Sir David Lean 1908-1991 was one of the most prominent directors of the twentieth century responsible for the classics The Bridge on the River Kwai 1957 Lawrence of Arabia 1962 and Doctor Zhivago 1965 British born Lean asserted himself in Hollywood as a major filmmaker with his epic storytelling and panoramic visions of history but he started out as a talented film editor and director in Great Britain As a result he brought an art house mentality to blockbuster films Combining elements of biography and film criticism Beyond the Epic: The Life and Films of David Lean uses screenplays and production histories to assess Lean's body of work Author Gene D Phillips interviews actors who worked with Lean and directors who knew him and their comments reveal new details about the director's life and career Phillips also explores Lean's lesser studied films such as The Passionate Friends 1949 Hobson's Choice 1954 and Summertime 1955 The result is an in depth examination of the director in cultural historical and cinematic contexts Lean's approach to filmmaking was far different than that of many of his contemporaries He chose his films carefully and as a result directed only sixteen films in a period of more than forty years Those films however have become some of the landmarks of motion picture history Lean is best known for his epics but Phillips also focuses on Lean's successful adaptations of famous works of literature including retellings of plays such as Brief Encounter 1945 and novels such as Great Expectations 1946 Oliver Twist 1948 and A Passage to India 1984 From expansive studies of war and strife to some of literature's greatest high comedies and domestic dramas Lean imbued all of his films with his unique creative vision Few directors can match Lean's ability to combine narrative sweep and psychological detail and Phillips goes beyond Lean's epics to reveal this unifying characteristic in the director's body of work Beyond the Epic is a vital assessment of a great director's artistic process and his place in the film industry
