Mission Shaped by Promise Jukka A. Kaariainen,2012-10-03 Utilizing resources from Martin Luther and the Lutheran tradition this study offers an understanding of the gospel as promise as key to addressing the challenge of relating the missio Dei to a generous constructive approach toward the religious other In its construction of a Lutheran missiology it retrieves and reappropriates four resources from the Lutheran tradition the gospel as promise the law gospel distinction a theology of grace as promise of mercy fulfilled and a theology of the cross utilizing the hiddenness of God The law of God as accusing yet webbing humanity to its Creator the gospel as the comforting promise of mercy and the hiddenness of God as mystifying form the overarching framework within which the Lutheran missiology presented here seeks to engage the religious other by dialectically relating gospel proclamation and dialogue Such a view of mission shaped by promise offers the paradox of God being both revealed and hidden in the cross as a distinctive contribution to an interreligious dialogue centered on the ambiguity and hiddenness of God

Telling about God: Promise and fulfillment William A. Van Roo, 1986 First a reflection on the key word in the title of the whole work telling It was occasioned by reflections on a verse of John s prologue which I translate thus No one has ever seen God the only Son who is in the bosom of the Father he has told us about him Jn 1 18 I have italicized the words in which I differ from the translation of the RSV NEB and JB he has made him known Eventually my choice of translation here suggested the title of the whole book To tell is to mention one by one relate in detail make known or manifest disclose divulge reveal inform report to Telling suggest all of the mystery of the revelation by which God told us of himself and Jesus told us of the Father It suggests too the mystery and the frustration of all subsequent telling about God as the message is passed on It suggests the limitations the eternal inadequacy of all divine human symbolizing God can tell us about himself only by some sort of human symbolizing and evidently we can pass on the word only by symbolizing which through it is taken up into the divine self manifestation is always human Jesus told about the Father He did so gradually by the words with which he spelled out the message He did so by all of the human actions and the whole of the human life which he lived In both word and action and by the whole of his human reality he could reveal only bit by bit Aquinas on Israel and the Church Matthew

Tapie, 2014-08-12 The question of whether or not Thomas Aquinas s theology is supersessionist has elicited deep disagreement among scholars Some maintain that Aquinas is the standard bearer of a supersessionist church that undermines Judaism while others hold that Aquinas avoids supersessionism altogether Yet the discussion over whether Aquinas s theology is supersessionist has not always carefully interrogated the term supersessionism nor has it taken into account some of Aquinas s most relevant texts on the subject of Israel and the Church his commentaries on Paul s letters Drawing upon the Pauline commentaries Aquinas on Israel and the Church argues that while Aquinas s most commonly articulated view is that Jewish worship is discontinued after the passion of Christ Aquinas also advanced views that set this into question and in ways that support contemporary Christian teachings that affirm the value of postbiblical Judaism
