Seeing And Believing Images Of The Christian Faith

Donald H. Wacome

Seeing And Believing Images Of The Christian Faith:

Seeing and Believing Frank Kacmarcik, Paul J. Philibert, 1995 Five hundred years ago with the invention of movable type a new symbol system was made available to Christians as to all in Europe They hailed it as a means to bring to the literate minority God's word attested in the Scriptures All alike welcomed the printed book as an advance in the diffusion of God's word Some in the burgher class however began to set it in opposition not to God's word proclaimed and commented on in speech but to all non verbal symbols of the unseen Triune God

Seeing and Believing Ellen T. Armour, 2023-07-04 Social media platforms are often denounced as bubbles or echo chambers In this view what we see tends to reinforce what we already believe and what we already believe shapes what we see Yet social movements such as Black Lives Matter rely heavily on the widespread dissemination of digital photographs and videos through social media In at least some cases visual images can challenge normative and normalized ways of grasping the world and prompt their viewers to see differently and even bring people together Seeing and Believing marshals religious resources to recast the significance of digital images in the struggle for social justice Ellen T Armour examines what distinguishes digital photography from its analogue predecessor and places the circulation of digital images in the broader context of virtual visual cultures She explores the challenges and opportunities that visually saturated social media landscapes present for users and organizers Despite the power of digital platforms and algorithms possibilities for disruption and resistance emerge from how people engage with these systems Armour offers ways of seeing drawn from Christianity and found in other religious traditions to help us break with entrenched habits and rethink how we engage with the images that grab our attention Developing theological perspectives on the power and peril of photography and technology Seeing and Believing provides suggestions for navigating the new media landscape that can spark what Armour calls photographic insurrection

Seeing Is Believing Gregory A. Boyd, 2004-04-01 One of the most common problems with Christians in our modern secularized world is that they don't feel the reality of Jesus Sure they believe in him and love him but he somehow doesn't seem to enter their daily lives in a real sense Some might say You ought to pray more Others would advise You ought to witness more While this may be true we don't get closer to God just because we ought to Boyd believes that the way to true spiritual transformation and feeling the presence of God in your life comes from a little R and R rest and reality Boyd encourages readers to stop striving and learn to rest in an experience of Jesus as real The best way to do this he says is through imaginative prayer Experiencing Jesus will teach readers how to use God's gracious gift of creative imagination to know him better and feel his presence in their daily lives

The Material Image Donald H. Wacome, 2020-09-29 In The Material Image Donald H Wacome sets out to reconcile the Christian faith and contemporary science by embracing rather than evading its naturalistic implications The sciences are our best way to know ourselves and the world we inhabit Wacome argues but this does not make belief in miracles unreasonable The sciences reveal that we are fully material beings the product of unguided natural selection God created human persons for the vocation of sharing in the everlasting Triune life and work but this creation does not involve design The mind is the embodied socially situated brain There is no immaterial soul we are the material image of our transcendent Creator This materialist conception does not preclude the resurrection of the body The freedom that matters for the human creature is compatible with our being governed by the laws of nature Morality and religion are natural merely human legacies of our evolutionary history which God employs in pursuit of fellowship with us Christians can faithfully and enthusiastically welcome the image of human beings given in contemporary science We Walk the Path Together Brian J. Pierce, 2015-03-04 General History of the Christian Religion and Church August Neander, 1871 Research in the Social Scientific Study of Religion Joanne Marie Greer, David O. Moberg, Monty L. Lynn, 2001-04-01 Various articles are presented covering psychological sociological and cross cultural topics or relevance to religious spiritual researchers and academics

Research in the Social Scientific Study of Religion, Volume 7, 2021-11-22 The purpose of this book is to provide an outlet for original research articles examining the role and value of religious and spiritual constructs across the social sciences The aim of the series is to include an international and interfaith voice to this research dialogue An effort is made to be interdisciplinary and academically eclectic The articles in each volume represent a wide array of perspectives and research projects Most of the articles report the findings of quantitative or qualitative investigations but some deal with methodology theory or applications of social science studies in the field of religion and some are applied demonstrating the relevance of the social sciences to religious organizations and their clergy The value of the volume is that it gives to researchers in this area a broad perspective on the issues and methods of religious research across a spectrum of academic disciplines The aim of the book is to stimulate a creative integrative dialogue that will enhance interdisciplinary research

Image, Incarnation, and Christian Expansivism Mark S. McLeod-Harrison, 2017-04-17 I am the way the truth and the life says Jesus Yet the kingdom of heaven consists of all tribes races and peoples How do people of tribes who've never heard the word of Christ enter the kingdom of God A strictly exclusivist account of the gospel seems to keep many people out of the kingdom of heaven An inclusivist approach is more consonant with Scripture and the love of God Yet standard models of inclusivism are problematic In this book McLeod Harrison a Christian philosopher considers what's wrong with both narrow exclusivist and narrow inclusivist accounts of the gospel and proposes a broad inclusivism called expansivism An expansive account of the gospel helps us understand the uniqueness and the openness of the gospel together Narrow exclusivism can lead to existential crises Narrow inclusivism appears to make not preaching the gospel better for those who've never heard it Expansivism makes human access to the gospel unique to the individual person and enables Christian theologians to provide lots of different potentially conflicting and yet true accounts of the theological underpinnings of the salvation provided by Christ Seeing Is Believing Gregory A. Barbeau,2016-03-18 Humans are created in the image of God yet by choosing to rebel against God we become unfaithful bearers of his image But Jesus who is the image of God restores the divine image in us At the intersection of theology and culture these essays offer a unified vision of what it means to be truly human and created in the divine image in the world today The Big Picture Brian Harris,2015-04-03 This book is an accessible exploration of the big building blocks of the Christian faith differentiating between the important contours of a Christian worldview and secondary concerns imposed by culture and tradition Skilfully bringing together biblically informed theology and the everyday world Brian Harris unpacks themes of grace creation and Christian hope in an engaging conversational manner The result is a book that empowers us to live out our faith wherever we are Stephen Garner Laidlaw College Auckland New Zealand Icons - Imaging the Unseen Dani%ol J. Louw,2014-11-01 The experience of the divine has been referred to by many artists over the centuries whether their subject was the human figure landscape still life or indeed religious or biblical themes Art therefore requires a kind of openness a willingness to mediate rather than to control This sensitivity can best be described as humility an obeisance to something we are part of Therefore to see the unseen in visual arts brings about awe and requires iconic viewing The spiritual realm as portrayed by icons has a healing quality in a world where the news and the arts are so full of tragedy and where the church s message so often sounds escapist or na ve U.S. Catholic Historian ,1997 Life in Christ Hans Burger,2023-01-24 Jesus rose from the dead and that makes a difference in our lives here and now The Christian faith is not just about the past or about the future We are a new creation in Christ The gospel is about reconciliation union with Christ and participation in Christ In Life in Christ all aspects of the life of Christians in the church and world are addressed from the perspective that we are in Christ In doing so Burger builds bridges between different Christian traditions Shalom and the Ethics of Belief Nathan D Shannon,2015-10-29 Shalom and the Ethics of Belief explores Nicholas Wolterstorff s theory of situated rationality from a theological point of view and develops a doxastic or belief based ethic based upon the theology of Wolterstorff's neo Calvinist Kuyperian background which emerges in terms of his biblical ethic and eschatology of shalom Two epistemological aspects are discussed in Nathan D Shannon's account of Wolterstorff's philosophical writings the picture of the belief forming self present in the work of Thomas Reid and the connection between belief and obligation Situated rationality the sum of Wolterstorff's decades long work on epistemology and rationality is argued to be a shalom doxastic ethic a Christian common grace ethic of belief pluralism Wolterstorff incorporates the ethics of belief within the full scope of a person's socio moral accountability an accountability that ultimately flows from the teleology of the world as intended by its creator and from the inherent value of humans as bearers of the divine image Shannon's treatment of belief as grounded in the eschatological ethical vision of shalom provides a comprehensive and novel account of how Wolterstorff's Christianity informed and influenced his philosophical writings
