LORD BYRON: Selected Letters and Journals
Edited by LESLIE A. MARCHAND

Leslie Marchand's twelve-volume edition of the Letters and Journals of Lord Byron stands as one of the great publishing achievements of recent years, clearly supporting Peter Quennell's claim that 'no biographer can hope to portray Byron as vividly as he portrays himself'.

This sizeable selection, chosen above all to reflect the quality of Byron's prose, follows the biographical thread of the complete edition. The first letter is dated 23rd November 1803, Trinity College, Cambridge, while the last is written from Missolonghi only a few weeks before the poet's death there in 1824.

The pages between follow him across Europe on his grand tour, home to Newstead and on to London at the height of the Regency when he 'awoke to find himself famous'. The letters go on to chronicle his marriage and the scandal that drove him abroad once more, to Switzerland with Shelley, to Venice and Ravenna, and finally the last sad pilgrimages to Greece for Freedom's battle.

Here then is a distilled self-portrait of the man said to be 'mad, bad and dangerous to know', a complex and fascinating personality, at once exultantly a man of his time and prophetically a man far ahead his time. Each letter included is complete in itself, and several are drawn from the recent Scrope Davies find. There is an anthology of Byronic bon mots by way of appendix.

'An extraordinarily vivid and honest self-portrait ... this new selection enables me to take Byron's life through his letters in one single intoxicating draught'

PUNCH

'What a feast of a life actually in the process of being lived these letters provide. They breathe the very spirit of the man'

ROBERT NYE in THE GUARDIAN

'Irresistible ... an autobiography of the duelling kind'

V. S. Pritchett in THE NEW YORKER
