The Selected Poems of Osip Mandelstam Osip Mandelstam, 2004-08-31 Osip Mandelstam is a central figure not only in modern Russian but in world poetry the author of some of the most haunting and memorable poems of the twentieth century A contemporary of Anna Akhmatova Marina Tsvetayeva and Boris Pasternak a touchstone for later masters such as Paul Celan and Robert Lowell Mandelstam was a crucial instigator of the revolution of the word that took place in St Petersburg only to be crushed by the Bolshevik Revolution Mandelstam's last poems written in the interval between his exile to the provinces by Stalin and his death in the Gulag are an extraordinary testament to the endurance of art in the presence of terror This book represents a collaboration between the scholar Clarence Brown and W S Merwin one of contemporary America's finest poets and translators It also includes Mandelstam's Conversation on Dante an uncategorizable work of genius containing the poet's deepest reflections on the nature of the poetic process Migration William Stanley Merwin, 2005 This definitive volume by one of America's greatest poets is essential for all poetry collections Mandelstam Variations David Morley, 1993 Translation Daniel Weissbort, Ástráður Eysteinnsson, 2006 Translation Theory and Practice A Historical Reader responds to the need for a collection of primary texts on translation in the English tradition from the earliest times to the present day Based on an exhaustive survey of the wealth of available materials the Reader demonstrates throughout the link between theory and practice with excerpts not only of significant theoretical writings but of actual translations as well as excerpts on translation from letters interviews autobiographies and fiction The collection is intended as a teaching tool but also as an encyclopaedia for the use of translators and writers on translation It presents the full panoply of approaches to translation without necessarily judging between them but showing clearly what is to be gained or lost in each case Translations of key texts such as the Bible and the Homeric epic are traced through the ages with the same passages excerpted making it possible for readers to construct their own map of the evolution of translation and to evaluate in their historical contexts the variety of approaches The passages in question are also accompanied by ad verbum versions to facilitate comparison The bibliographies are likewise comprehensive The editors have drawn on the expertise of leading scholars in the field including the late James S Holmes Louis Kelly Jonathan Wilcox Jane Stevenson David Hopkins and many others In addition significant non English texts such as Martin Luther's Circular Letter on Translation which may be said to have inaugurated the Reformation are included helping to set the English tradition in a wider context Related items such as the introductions to their work by Tudor and Jacobean translators or the work of women translators from the sixteenth to eighteenth centuries have been brought together in collages marking particularly important moments or developments in the history of translation This comprehensive reader provides an invaluable and illuminating resource for scholars and students

Russian Poetry Katharine Hodgson, Joanne Shelton, Alexandra Smith, 2017-04-21 The canon of Russian poetry has been reshaped since the fall of the Soviet Union A multi authored study of changing cultural memory and identity this revisionary work charts Russia's shifting relationship to its own literature in the face of social upheaval Literary canon and national identity are inextricably tied together the composition of a canon being the attempt to single out those literary works that best express a nation's culture This process is of course fluid and subject to significant shifts particularly at times of epochal change This volume explores changes in the canon of twentieth century Russian poetry from the 1991 collapse of the Soviet Union to the end of Putin's second term as Russian President in 2008 In the wake of major institutional changes such as the abolition of state censorship and the introduction of a market economy the way was open for wholesale reinterpretation of twentieth century poets such as Iosif Brodskii Anna Akhmatova and Osip Mandelstam their works and their lives In the last twenty years many critics have discussed the possibility of various coexisting canons rooted in official and non official literature and suggested replacing the term Soviet literature with a new definition Russian literature of the Soviet period Contributions to this volume explore the multiple factors involved in reshaping the canon understood as a body of literary texts given exemplary or representative status as classics Among factors which may influence the composition of the canon are educational institutions competing views of scholars and critics including figures outside Russia and the self canonising activity of poets themselves Canon revision further reflects contemporary concerns with the destabilising effects of emigration and the internet and the desire to reconnect with pre revolutionary cultural traditions through a narrative of the past which foregrounds continuity Despite persistent nostalgic yearnings in some quarters for a single canon the current situation is defiantly diverse balancing both the Soviet literary tradition and the parallel contemporaneous literary worlds of the emigration and the underground Required reading for students teachers and lovers of Russian literature Twentieth Century Russian Poetry brings our understanding of post Soviet Russia up to date The Routledge Encyclopedia of Jewish Writers of the Twentieth Century Sorrel Kerbel, 2004-11-23 Now available in paperback for the first time Jewish Writers of the Twentieth Century is both a comprehensive reference resource and a springboard for further study This volume examines canonical Jewish writers less well known authors of Yiddish and Hebrew and emerging Israeli writers includes entries on figures as diverse as Marcel Proust Franz Kafka Tristan Tzara Eugene Ionesco Harold Pinter Tom Stoppard Arthur Miller Saul Bellow Nadine Gordimer and Woody Allen contains introductory essays on Jewish American writing Holocaust literature and memoirs Yiddish writing and Anglo Jewish literature provides a chronology of twentieth century Jewish writers Compiled
