positivism especially as developed by Hans Kelsen who was considered to be the creator of its normative variety and solidarism treated by many authors of those times as a proposal for the critics of positivism referring to social facts rather than to the norms of the natural order Limiting this introduction to an attempt to make the reader interested in the context of heritage and fundamental issues of the philosophy of law we will only point out that the content of the statements of the abovementioned authors had mainly polemical value This does not mean however that apart from the critical arguments we will not find an outline of a positive position in their writings They undoubtedly demonstrate the importance of the need to establish a universal species goal and thus to indicate a certain appropriate and purposeful structure of action for all people as one that for many centuries has defined an essential aspect of the philosophy of law They see that questioning this orientation together with the negation of a realistic position which treats the human species as a real existence a kind of participation in every human being has opened up a perspective for new approaches for the differentiation of norms within every political community and for the search of justifications for those who take part in the creation of the legal order They are aware that the classical structure of reflection on the law present already in the Renaissance thought has been replaced by another the reflection on the universal purpose of the human species has been taken over by reflection on the multiplicity of objectives of the individual and the search for a guarantee of their realisation sometimes taking into account the objectives of the state as a particular kind of being which is to some extent independent of the existence and objectives of its constituent individuals They know that this approach was the result of a particular type of intellectual evolution that had taken place in European culture since around the 13th century leading to a gradual shift of interest from the order of all things to the projects of individuals They reach directly to St Thomas Aquinas and analyse the foundations of the normative order which at least sets a negative limit to the ability of individuals and legislators to act as well as to the content of established norms

They are joined in the series by a companion volume number 192s The Lincoln Anthology Great Writers on his Life and Legacy from 1860 to Now India's Sentinel: Select Writings of Air Commodore Jasjit Singh AVSM, VrC, VM (Retd) Dr Manpreet Sethi, Dr Shalini Chawla, 2014-07-15 Air Commodore Jasjit Singh was one of India's foremost strategic analysts. The only constant for him in over three decades of research analyses and writing was the centrality of national interest. Indeed, the man never let the nation down, whether as an air warrior or a strategist, ever ready to voice his views irrespective of how the wind was blowing and always remaining practical in approach. Ever an optimist, he believed that India would inevitably rise to power by the sheer size of its economy and human resource potential. A greater concern for him, however, was the need to sensitize his compatriots to the national security challenges that would arise as the country rose and to equip them with the capability to optimally address these. He did so through his writings and talks. This book is a modest compilation of his select writings on two specific issues: nuclear strategy and Pakistan, since he considered these as critical amongst India's many security challenges. Of course, the range of Jasjit Singh's writings and the expanse of his knowledge is immense and beyond capture in one book. But this is a small effort in the direction of spreading his message, ideas, to the current and future generation of scholars and policy makers. Hopefully, it will encourage students of national security to look for more of his writings beyond the few that we have been able to carry in this volume.
