The Collected Letters of Robinson Jeffers, with Selected Letters of Una Jeffers Robinson Jeffers, Una Jeffers, 2009 v 1 1890 1930 2009      Kerouac: Selected Letters Jack Kerouac, 2000-11-01 An illuminating glimpse into the life and art of Beat legend Jack Kerouac through a collection of letters that reveals the boldness and originality of Kerouac's artistic vision The Boston Globe It remains clear from his later letters that Kerouac understood what he was doing as a writer He consistently explains his aesthetic his plan to create the Duluoze Legend of books and the essentially benign charity of his vision San Francisco Chronicle The first volume of Jack Kerouac's selected letters was hailed as an important and revealing addition to Kerouac scholarship This second and final volume comprising letters written between 1957 the year On the Road was published and the day before his death in 1969 at age forty seven tells Kerouac's life story through his candid correspondences with friends confidants and editors among them Allen Ginsberg William Burroughs Philip Whalen Lawrence Ferlinghetti Joyce Johnson and Malcolm Cowley Documenting his continuing development as a writer and his travels love affairs and complicated family life the letters also reveal Kerouac's amazing courage in the face of criticism and his never ending quest to be the best writer possible Kerouac's Selected Letters 1957-1969 offers unparalleled insight into the life and mind of this giant of the American landscape      Selected Letters of Robert Penn Warren Robert Penn Warren, 2001 At the beginning of 1935 Robert Penn Warren had every reason to be optimistic about the future Having escaped the brink of unemployment the previous fall to join fellow Vanderbilt alumnus and Rhodes scholar Cleanth Brooks on the English faculty at Louisiana State University which was enjoying a boom thanks to the favoritism shown by the Long regime Warren was destined for arguably the most crucial period in his distinguished career Against the backdrop of the Great Depression and America's belated entry into World War II the young author came into his own and established himself as a compelling new voice perhaps the most versatile writer of his generation Continuing where Volume One of the Selected Letters left off the missives from his Baton Rouge years show Warren exploring and testing the boundaries of his genius on a number of simultaneous fronts Editing the Southern Review with Brooks was the center of his working life and it offered him an almost immediate springboard to prominence on both sides of the Atlantic He attended to his own writing as well and not only emerged as a celebrated poet with the publication of Thirty Six Poems in 1936 and Eleven Poems on the Same Theme in 1942 but also published his first major fiction the novel Night Rider in 1939 and effectively completed a second radically different book At Heaven's Gate During the same period he and Brooks drew directly upon their classroom challenges to design and launch a series of textbooks that gradually transformed the teaching of poetry and fiction in American colleges and universities What any number of commentators have called Warren's protean energy is in full evidence in these letters The range and sheer diversity of his correspondence reveal an extraordinarily keen mind and heightened imagination operating in concert with optimum efficiency. Scrupulously edited and thoroughly annotated by William Bedford Clark with an eye toward the needs of the lay reader as well as the specialist, Warren's letters have the immediacy of skillful autobiography.

This volume of correspondence, the last in a three-volume edition, spans a pivotal moment in American history: the mid-twentieth century, from the beginning of World War II through the years of rebuilding and uneasy peace that followed to the election of President John F. Kennedy. Robinson Jeffers published four important books during this period: Be Angry at the Sun (1941), Medea (1946), The Double Axe (1948), and Hungerfield (1954). He also faced changes to his hometown village of Carmel, experienced the rewards of being a successful dramatist in the United States and abroad, and endured the loss of his wife. Una Jeffers' letters and those of Una, written in the decade prior to her death, offer a vivid chronicle of the life and times of a singular and visionary poet.
