Selling Architectural Ideas:

Selling Architectural Ideas Tom Porter, 2003-09-02 As visual animals architects continue to live and work in a pictorial age in which image making remains the central activity of environmental design Selling Architectural Ideas explores the promotional role of architectural graphics and drawing at the point of communication i.e. at their point of sale By substituting the words communication and presentation with the word selling we confront the reality of a highly competitive world in which the process of creating images for selling architectural ideas is approached as a more persuasive and therefore more successful design tool Selling the Architect F.W. Dodge Corporation, 1926

The Architectural Forum, 1929 Engineered to Sell Jan L. Logemann, 2019-11-20 The mid twentieth century marketing world influenced nearly every aspect of American culture music literature politics economics consumerism race relations gender and more In Engineered to Sell Jan L. Logemann traces the transnational careers of consumer engineers in advertising market research and commercial design who transformed capitalism from the 1930s through the 1960s He argues that the history of marketing consumer goods is not a story of American exceptionalism Instead the careers of immigrants point to the limits of the Americanization paradigm Logemann explains the rise of a dynamic world of goods and examines how and why consumer engineering was shaped by transatlantic exchanges From Austrian psychologists and little known social scientists to the illustrious Bauhaus artists the emigrés at the center of this story illustrate the vibrant cultural and commercial connections between metropolitan centers Vienna and New York Paris and Chicago Berlin and San Francisco By focusing on the transnational lives of emigré consumer researchers marketers and designers Engineered to Sell details the processes of cultural translation and adaptation that mark both the midcentury transformation of American marketing and the subsequent European shift to American consumer capitalism

It's Not What You Sell, It's What You Stand For Roy M. Spence Jr.,2009-02-05 Who is Roy Spence and what makes him the Pied Piper of Purpose Over the last thirty five years Roy Spence has helped organizations such as Southwest Airlines BMW the University of Texas Walmart the Clinton Global Initiative and many others achieve greatness by getting them to obsess about one big idea purpose With purpose as the North Star employee engagement is higher competition is less threatening customers are more loyal and innovation flows It's the secret to developing a more fulfilling work life as well as a healthier bottom line Simply put purpose is a definitive statement about the difference you are trying to make in the world As Spence writes It's your reason for being that goes beyond making money and it almost always results in making more money than you ever thought possible It's not soft stuff as some might scoff Especially during times of great economic uncertainty purpose is the key to creating and maintaining a high performing organization It deserves just as much attention as strategy execution and innovation A real purpose can't just be words on a piece of paper It has to get under the skin of every member of your organization like

Southwest's purpose of democratizing the skies or Walmart's of saving people money so they can live better. If you get it right, your people will feel great about what they're doing, clear about their goals and excited to get to work every morning. No organization is too big or too small, too niche or too mundane to benefit from a clearly defined purpose. Spence and coauthor Haley Rushing share their insider insights and case studies to help you discover your organization's purpose, proclaim it to the world and apply it to everything you do. This book will force you to address some tough and profound questions: What difference do we want to make in the world? What do we really stand for? Do we have purpose-based leaders in key roles? Do our employees feel like what they do matters? Would our customers miss us if we ceased to exist? Do we bring our purpose to life everywhere we can, both internally and externally? Spence's hard-won lessons will change the way you view your job, your business model, your leadership style and your marketing. They will help you make money, make a difference and, with a little luck, make history.

Émigré Cultures in Design and Architecture Alison J. Clarke, Elana Shapira, 2017-11-02. This new volume addresses the lasting contribution made by Central European migr designers to twentieth-century American design and architecture. The contributors examine how oppositional stances in debates concerning consumption and modernism's social agendas taken by designers such as Felix Augenfeld, Joseph Binder, Josef Frank, Paul T. Frankl, Frederick Kiesler, Richard Neutra and R. M. Schindler in Europe prefigured their later adoption or rejection by American culture. They argue that migr s and refugees from fascist Europe such as Gyrgy Kepes, Paul L. szl, Victor Papanek, Bernard Rudofsky, Xanti Schawinsky and Eva Zeisel drew on the particular experiences of their home countries and networks of migr and exiled designers in the United States to develop a humanist, progressive and socially inclusive design culture which continues to influence design practice today.
