Modern Movement tenets of functionalism social service and anonymity into mainstream practice It also saw the spread of their seeming opposites Temples arcades domes and other traditional types occur in both modernist and traditionalist forms from the 1950s to the 1970s Hut Pavilion Shrine examines this crossroads of modernism and the archetypal and critiques its buildings and theory The book centers on one particularly important and omnipresent type the pavilion a type which was the basis of major work by Louis I Kahn Paul Rudolph Philip Johnson Minoru Yamasaki and other eminent architects While focusing primarily on the architecture culture of the United States it also includes the work of British European Team X and Scandinavian designers and writers Making connections between formal analysis historical context and theory the book continues lines of inquiry which have been pursued by Neil Levine and Anthony Vidler on representation and by Sarah Goldhagen and Alice Friedman on modernism s forbidden elements of the honorific and the visually pleasurable It highlights the significance of pavilionizing mid century designers such as Victor Lundy John Johansen Eero Saarinen and Edward Durrell Stone and shows how frequently essentialist and traditionalist types appeared in the roadside vernacular of drive in restaurants gas stations furniture and car showrooms branch banks and motels The book ties together the threads in mid century architectural theory that addressed aspects of type essential structure and primal humanistic aspects of environment making and discusses how these concerns outlived the mid century moment and in the designs and writings of Aldo Rossi and others they paved the way for Post Modernism

Architecture as the Ethics of Climate Jin Baek, 2016-06-10 At a time when climate and ethics have become so important to architectural debate this book proposes an entirely new way for architects to engage with these core issues Drawing on Tetsuro Watsuji's 1889-1960 philosophy the book illuminates climate not as a collection of objective natural phenomena but as a concrete form of bond in which who we are the subjective human experience is indivisibly intertwined with the natural phenomena The book further elucidates the inter personal nature of climatic experiences criticizing a view that sees atmospheric effects of climate under the guise of personal experientialism and reinforcing the linkage between climate and ethos as the appropriateness of a setting for human affairs This ethical premise of climate stretches the horizon of sustainability as pertaining not only to man's solitary relationship with natural phenomena a predominant trend in contemporary discourse of sustainability but also to man's relationship with man Overcoming climatic determinism regional determinism too and expanding the ethics of the inter personal to the level where the whole and particulars are joined through the dialectics of the mutually negating opposites Jin Baek develops a new thesis engaging with the very urgent issues inherent in sustainable architecture Crucially the book explores examples that join climate and the dynamics of the inter personal including Japanese vernacular residential architecture the white residential architecture of Richard Neutra contemporary architectural works and urban artifacts by Tadao Ando and Aldo Rossi Beautifully illustrated this book is an important contribution to the discourse which surrounds architecture climate and ethics and encourages the reader to think more broadly about how to respond to the current challenges facing the profession

Design for the Crowd Joanna Merwood-Salisbury, 2019-10-03 Situated on Broadway between Fourteenth and Seventeenth Streets Union Square occupies a central place in both the geography and the history of New York City Though this compact space was originally designed in 1830 to beautify a residential neighborhood and boost property values by the early days of the Civil War New Yorkers had transformed Union Square into a gathering place for political debate and protest As public use of the square changed so too did its design When Frederick Law Olmsted and Calvert Vaux redesigned the park in the late nineteenth century they sought to enhance its potential as a space for the orderly expression of public sentiment A few decades later anarchists and Communist activists including Emma Goldman turned Union Square into a regular gathering place where they would advocate for radical change In response a series of city administrations and business groups sought to quash this unruly form of dissidence by remaking the square into a new kind of patriotic space As Joanna Merwood Salisbury shows us in Design for the Crowd the history of Union Square illustrates ongoing debates over the proper organization of urban space and competing images of the public that uses it In this sweeping history of an iconic urban square Merwood Salisbury gives us a review of American political activism philosophies of urban design and the many ways in which a seemingly stable landmark can change through public engagement and design Published with the support of Furthermore a program of the J M Kaplan Fund General Principles of Law Recognized by Civilized Nations (1922-2018) Marija Đorđeska, 2020-01-20 In General Principles of Law Recognized by Civilized Nations 1922 2018 Marija or eska offers an account of the origins theory and practical application of the general principles in the jurisprudence of the Permanent Court of International Justice and International Court of Justice between 1922 and 2018 Are general principles rules of international law What is their relationship to custom and treaties What are the types of general principles and where do international courts find them This monograph answers these and other questions and offers a detailed overview of over 150 general principles identified in the jurisprudence of the Permanent Court of International Justice and the International Court of Justice The Bookman, 1903 The American Catalogue, 1901 American national trade bibliography A Topology of Everyday Constellations Georges Teyssot, 2013-02-22 The threshold as both boundary and bridge investigations of spaces public and private local and global Today spaces no longer represent a bourgeois haven nor are they the sites of a classical harmony between work and leisure private and public the local and the global The house is not merely a home but a position for negotiations with multiple spheres the technological as well as the physical and the psychological In A Topology of Everyday Constellations Georges Teyssot considers the intrusion of the public sphere into private space and the blurring of notions of interior privacy and intimacy in our societies He proposes that we rethink design in terms of a new definition of the practices of everyday life Teyssot considers the door the window the mirror and the screen as thresholds or interstitial spaces that divide the world in two the outside and the inside Thresholds he suggests work both as markers of boundaries and as bridges to the exterior The stark choice between boundary and bridge creates a middle space an in between that holds the possibility of exchanges and encounters If the threshold no longer separates public from private and if we can no longer think of the house as a bastion of privacy Teyssot asks does the body still inhabit the house or does the house evolving into a series of microdevices inhabit the body
