Notre Dame H.S.

Mark Mathabane, author of the bestseller Kaffir Boy in America, grew up fearing and hating whites in a South African ghetto. Gail spent the first ten years of her life in lily-white communities in Ohio, and feared the people her Texas girlfriends casually called "niggers."

The two never dreamed of marrying outside their races. As many Americans gave up on the racial ideal of an integrated society, and two segregated, opposed, and hostile camps emerged — one black, one white — Mark and Gail fell in love.

Love in Black and White is the dramatic, revealing, and riveting story of how they overcame their own prejudices, society's disapproval, family opposition, and personal self-doubts to be together. Woven into their intimate account of falling in love, getting married, and raising children in the fishbowl of an interracial relationship are the beautiful, complex, and heartrending stories of other interracial couples in America and South Africa.

"A personal and candid account of what it means to break an intransigent taboo — and a heartwarming affirmation of love and commitment." — Kirkus Reviews

"Intriguingly structured with alternate accounts by husband and wife, Love in Black and White is a hymn of praise to the power of love in the face of deeply felt societal prejudices.... Highly recommended." — Library Journal

"The Mathabanes write well of the sweet, nervous first days of their love, and they don't flinch from the bad stuff.... As [they] show, all it takes is love, and defending yourself at nearly every turn." — front page, Washington Post Book World

"The honesty that is deeply rooted in every paragraph makes this book a moving one." — Newsweek

MARK AND GAIL MATHABANE live in Kennerlyville, North Carolina, with their two children, Bianca and Nathan. Mark is a much-sought-after lecturer on race relations and South Africa, where his family remains.

Mixed Race Amnesia Minelle Mahtani,2014-11-10 Mixed

Race Amnesia is an ambitious and critical look at how multiraciality is experienced in the global north. Drawing on a series of interviews, acclaimed geographer Minelle Mahtani explores some of the assumptions and attitudes people have around multiraciality. She discovers that in Canada at least, people of mixed race are often romanticized as being the embodiment of a post-racial future, an ideal that is supported by government policy and often internalized by people of mixed race. As Mahtani reveals, this superficial celebration of multiraciality is often done without any acknowledgment of the freight and legacy of historical racisms. Consequently, a strategic and collective amnesia is taking place, one where complex diasporic and family histories are being lost while colonial legacies are being reinforced. Mahtani argues that in response, a new anti-colonial approach to multiraciality is needed, and she equips her readers with the analytical tools to do this.

Racism in Contemporary America Meyer Weinberg, 1996-05-23. Racism in Contemporary America is the largest and most up-to-date bibliography available on current research on the topic. It has been compiled by award-winning researcher Meyer Weinberg, who has spent many years writing and researching contemporary and historical aspects of racism. Almost 15,000 entries to books, articles, dissertations, and other materials are organized under 87 subject headings. In addition, there are author and ethnic racial indexes. Several aids help the researcher access the materials included. In addition to the subject organization, the bibliography entries are annotated whenever the title is not self-explanatory. An author index is followed by an ethnic racial index, which makes it convenient to follow a single group through any or all the subject headings. This is a source book for the serious study of America's most enduring problem, as such it will be of value to students and researchers at all levels and in most disciplines.

Exotic No More Jeremy MacClancy, 2010-04-08. Since its founding in the nineteenth century, social anthropology has been seen as the study of exotic peoples in faraway places. But today more and more anthropologists are dedicating themselves not just to observing but to understanding and helping solve social problems wherever they occur: in international aid organizations, British TV studios, American hospitals, or racist enclaves in Eastern Europe, for example. In Exotic No More, an initiative of the Royal Anthropological Institute, some of today's most respected anthropologists demonstrate in clear, unpretentious prose the tremendous contributions that anthropology can make to contemporary society. They cover issues ranging from fundamentalism to forced migration, child labor to crack dealing, human rights to hunger, ethnicity to environmentalism, intellectual property rights to international capitalism. But Exotic No More is more than a litany of gloom and doom; the essays also explore topics usually associated with leisure or high culture, including the media, visual arts, tourism, and music. Each author uses specific examples from their fieldwork to illustrate their discussions, and 62 photographs enliven the text. Throughout the book, the contributors highlight anthropology's commitment to taking people seriously on their own terms, paying close attention to what they are saying and doing, and trying to understand how they see the world and why. Sometimes this bottom-up perspective makes the strange familiar, but it can also make the familiar strange exposing the cultural basis of seemingly natural behaviors and challenging us to rethink some of our most cherished ideas about gender free markets race and refugees among many others Contributors William O Beeman Philippe Bourgois John Chernoff E Valentine Daniel Alex de Waal Judith Ennew James Fairhead Sarah Franklin Michael Gilsenan Faye Ginsburg Alma Gottlieb Christopher Hann Faye V Harrison Richard Jenkins Melissa Leach Margaret Lock Jeremy MacClancy Jonathan Mazower Ellen Messer A David Napier Nancy Scheper Hughes Jane Schneider Parker Shipton Christopher B Steiner
