Love Is Not A Luxury:

Love is No Luxury Marjory Louise Bracher, 1951 Men Are a Luxury, Not a Necessity Nena Burnette LPC, Vonda Boston Keasler LMFT, 2018-05-22 This book is based solidly in Maslow's theory as it applies to real world situations. The authors purposely broke this theory down into smaller objectives adding humor and real life technique so that this book can be used by other therapists and families in general.

A Luxury of the Understanding Allan Hazlett, 2013-09 Allan Hazlett challenges the philosophical assumption of the value of true belief. He critiques the view that true belief is better for us than false belief and the view that truth is the aim of belief. An alternative picture is provided on which the fact that some people love truth is all there is to the value of true belief.

Brand Love is not Enough Max Blackston, 2018-03-15 How would you feel about a bank that handled all of your financial needs efficiently but made you feel like a dummy? In a relationship between two people, what the other person thinks of you or what you believe they think of you exerts great influence on the quality of your relationship. The same is true for your relationship with brands. In this trailblazing book, Blackston extends his theory on consumer brand relationships introduced in the 1990s. He introduces a new construct called brand's attitude, which complements the idea of brand image and introduces a typology of consumer relationships that is richer and more varied than the familiar concept of brand love. This construct describes more fully the two-way street that exists between consumers and brands and fills a crucial gap in traditional branding literature in explaining consumers' brand purchasing and usage behavior. Drawing on numerous actual examples and cases from a variety of different industries and supported by 30 years of consumer data, Brand Love is not Enough should be on the shelf of any serious marketer or student of branding.
