

Tell-tale cracks...

The cracked stone joined with a curve of cement on Hampsthwaite's river bridge. (R1067/20A)

Concern at repairs to river bridge

HAMPSTHWAITE Parish Council on Monday put off approval of repairs to the parish's river bridge, seriously damaged by a heavy lorry ten months ago.

Telling members of the council that the County Highways bridges department has agreed to make good all the damage done to the stonework in the section demolished by the lorry, chairman Coun. John Illingworth said:

"But one stone in a very prominent position has been left, although it was cracked, and the cement joint over the crack is very unsightly."

Coun. Bryan Thompson said the highways authority had replaced stone damaged by the lorry, but Coun. Illingworth said he understood the authority had agreed to replace other stones damaged by vehicles in the section concerned. "The stone in question is part of the overall job — the contractors have had to put a stone back on top of it," said Coun. Illingworth.

It was agreed that a site meeting with highways officials should be held before further observations are made.

The council discussed the need for better warning signs on the approaches to the bridge.

Harrogate Borough representative Coun. Barry Keith, said existing warning signs were inadequate and the weight restriction was no indication to heavy vehicle drivers of the narrow bridge's 'Z' bends.

Coun. Keith and County Coun. Col. H. V. Dawson agreed to put this point to the highways authorities.
