L'univers Concentrationnaire:

L'univers Concentrationnaire. [On Nazi Concentration Camps.]. David Rousset, 1946 L'univers concentrationnaire
David Rousset, 1946 Holocaust Literature: Lerner to Zychlinsky, index S. Lillian Kremer, 2003 Review This encyclopedia offers an authoritative and comprehensive survey of the important writers and works that form the literature about the Holocaust and its consequences The collection is alphabetically arranged and consists of high quality biocritical essays on 309 writers who are first second and third generation survivors or important thinkers and spokespersons on the Holocaust An essential literary reference work this publication is an important addition to the genre and a solid value for public and academic libraries The Top 20 Reference Titles of the Year American Libraries May 2004 By Words Alone Sidra DeKoven Ezrahi, 2008-10-03 The creative literature that evolved from the Holocaust constitutes an unprecedented encounter between art and life Those who wrote about the Holocaust were forced to extend the limits of their imaginations to encompass unspeakably violent extremes of human behavior The result as Ezrahi shows in By Words Alone is a body of literature that transcends national and cultural boundaries and shares a spectrum of attitudes toward the concentration camps and the world beyond toward the past and the future David Rousset. L'univers concentrationnaire David Rousset, 1946 After the Deluge Julian Bourg, 2004-01-01 Motivated by a desire to narrate and contextualize the deluge of French theory After the Deluge showcases recent work by today's brightest scholars of French intellectual history that historicizes key debates figures and turning points in the postwar era of French thought Political Survivors Emma Kuby, 2019-03-15 In 1949 as Cold War tensions in Europe mounted French intellectual and former Buchenwald inmate David Rousset called upon fellow concentration camp survivors to denounce the Soviet Gulag as a hallucinatory repetition of Nazi Germany's most terrible crime In Political Survivors Emma Kuby tells the riveting story of what followed his appeal as prominent members of the wartime Resistance from throughout Western Europe united to campaign against the continued existence of inhumane internment systems around the world The International Commission against the Concentration Camp Regime brought together those originally deported for acts of anti-Nazi political activity who believed that their unlikely survival incurred a duty to bear witness for other victims Over the course of the next decade these pioneering activists crusaded to expose political imprisonment forced labor and other crimes against humanity in Franco's Spain Maoist China French Algeria and beyond Until now the CIA's secret funding of Rousset's movement has remained in the shadows Kuby reveals this clandestine arrangement between European camp survivors and American intelligence agents She also brings to light how Jewish Holocaust victims were systematically excluded from Commission membership a choice that fueled the group's rise but also helped lead to its premature downfall The history that she unearths provides a striking new vision of how wartime memory shaped European intellectual life and ideological struggle after 1945 showing that the key lessons Western Europeans drew from the war centered on the camp imagined first and foremost as a site of political repression rather than ethnic genocide Political Survivors argues that Cold War dogma and acrimony tied to a distorted understanding of WWII s chief atrocities overshadowed the humanitarian possibilities of the nascent anti concentration camp movement as Europe confronted the violent decolonizing struggles of the 1950s A Holocaust Controversy Samuel Moyn,2005-08-22 A provocative study of a French Holocaust controversy of the 1960s and the dynamics of postwar memory Palimpsestic Memory Max Silverman,2013-02-01 The interconnections between histories and memories of the Holocaust colonialism and extreme violence in post war French and Francophone fiction and film provide the central focus of this book It proposes a new model of palimpsestic memory which the author defines as the condensation of different spatio temporal traces to describe these interconnections and defines the poetics and the politics of this composite form In doing so it is argued that a poetics dependent on tropes and techniques such as metaphor allegory and montage establishes connections across space and time which oblige us to perceive cultural memory not in terms of its singular attachment to a particular event or bound to specific ethno cultural or national communities but as a dynamic process of transfer between different moments of racialized violence and between different cultural communities The structure of the book allows for both the theoretical elaboration of this paradigm for cultural memory and individual case studies of novels and films L'Univers Concentrationnaire. A World Apart ... Translated by Yvonne Moyse and Roger Senhouse David Rousset,Yvonne MOYSE,Roger Senhouse,1951
