Lure Of God A Biblical Background For Process Theism:

Lure of God Lewis S. Ford,1973 Transforming Process Theism Lewis S. Ford,2000-05-18 Process theism in a variety of manifestations and modifications stemming from Whitehead's original suggestions dominates discussions of philosophical and natural theology in Europe and America In Transforming Process Theism Ford argues that subsequent modifications of Whitehead's original line of thought mask a fundamental and unresolved aporia in that original proposal since only past or objectified determinate events can influence present experiences and since God as conceived by Whitehead is never fully determinate or objectifiable as a past event it is difficult to see how this divine persuasive power can have any influence on the present as a source of creativity and genuinely new possibilities for enactment Ford meticulously reconstructs and evaluates Whitehead's own versions of theism and he critically appraises the most influential subsequent modifications of these unrecognized variants by other process thinkers He recovers the original trajectory of Whitehead's continuous revision of his conception of God and forges an appropriate solution to this central aporia He concludes that consistent with Whitehead's overarching metaphysical principles there is another kind of causal influence that does not require objectification and is the opposite of past determinateness The future conceived as active offers an account of subjectivity which is both universal and transcendent God according to Ford's revisions must be understood as this particular but indefinite creativity or universal activity of the future bestowing subjectivity on each present occasion of experience without ever becoming determinate

Process Theology and Biblical Interpretation Ronald L. Farmer,2021-03-08 Can one profitably

read scripture from a relational or process point of view Can one do so without discarding those portions of scripture that on first read seem problematic to a modern day reader Ronald L Farmer a minister and New Testament scholar thinks it is possible and can in fact be a liberating and stimulating experience His Beyond the Impasse The Promise of a Process Hermeneutic Mercer UP 1997 was the first book length work describing this exciting interpretative perspective He then wrote a commentary on the book of Revelation Chalice Commentaries for Today 2005 a book that is one of the most challenging for modern interpreters and has been problematic throughout Christian history In the present book Farmer explores the way in which we read scripture and asks us to be conscious of what we bring to the table and the ways in which we use it He then examines various interpretive tools and approaches to help us understand the ways of thinking that contributed to their development Finally he uses Revelation 4 5 to illustrate the impact of how rethinking our approach to scripture can contribute to us receiving and applying scripture in new and dynamic ways This book does not propose new interpretative tools for Bible study but rather focuses on a process perspective that enables us to gain new insights from the tools that have been developed over the centuries This book will be valuable to anyone who wants to study the Bible while being conscious of one s own and others biases and presuppositions

A Theology for the Twenty-First Century Douglas F. Ottati, 2020-10-15 Christianity in the United States is in crisis Liberalism is declining evangelicalism is splintering increasing numbers of Christians are slipping away from churches and more and more young people are for various reasons finding Christianity as they conceive it a metaphysical thought system or society of science deniers or an ideology for oppressors not just implausible but repellent At the same time Christians across denominational and ideological divides are rediscovering a moral core especially in the Jesus of the Gospels that reactivates and unites them and this kind of faith appeals to many who consider themselves averse to all traditional organized religion But any revitalized Christian faith is going to need to understand its rootedness in and interpretation of Christianity s foundational texts and traditions Noted theologian Douglas F Ottati steps in to offer a theology for this new era Combining deep learning in texts and traditions with astute awareness of contemporary questions and patterns of thought and life he asks what does it mean in our time to understand the God of the Bible as Creator and Redeemer Distilling the content of Christian faith into seventy concise propositions he explains each in lucid cogent prose A Theology for the Twenty First Century will be an essential textbook for those training for ministry in our current climate a wise guide for contemporary believers who wonder how best to understand and communicate their faith and an inviting and intelligent resource for serious inquirers who wonder whether the way of Jesus might help them grasp the real world while remaining open to the transcendent

The Old Testament and Process Theology Robert Karl Gnuse, 2016-03-08 Using the insights of process theology Gnuse explores the Old Testament beginning with the categories of classic Old Testament theology revelation suffering creation covenant justice law and salvation

Teaching from the Heart Mary Elizabeth Moore, 1998-01-01 Here is a serious and passionate plea for theology and education to stand in relationship Moore argues for an organic approach to religious moral and theological education No Other Gods Robert Karl Gnuse,1997-05-01 This is the first full scale assessment of the theological social and ideational implications of our new understandings of ancient Israel s social and religious development Scholars now stress the gradual emergence of Israel out of the culture of ancient Palestine and the surrounding ancient Near East rather than contrast Israel with the ancient world Our new paradigms stress the ongoing and unfinished nature of the monotheistic revolution which is indeed still in process today Gnuse takes a further bold step in setting the emergence of monotheism in a wider intellectual context he argues brilliantly that the interpretation of Israel s development as both an evolutionary and revolutionary process corresponds to categories of contemporary evolutionary thought in the biological and palaeontological sciences Punctuated Equilibrium

Defending Inerrancy Norman L. Geisler,William C. Roach,2012-01-01 According to the authors the doctrine of inerrancy has been standard accepted teaching for more than 1 000 years In 1978 the famous Chicago Statement on inerrancy was adopted by the Evangelical Theological Society and for decades it has been the accepted conservative evangelical doctrine of the Scriptures However in recent years some prominent evangelical authors have challenged this statement in their writings Now eminent apologist and bestselling author Norman L Geisler who was one of the original drafters of the Chicago Statement and his coauthor William C Roach present a defense of the traditional understanding of inerrancy for a new generation of Christians who are being assaulted with challenges to the nature of God truth and language Pastors students and armchair theologians will appreciate this clear reasoned response to the current crisis Process Thought and Roman Catholicism John Becker,Marc A. Pugliese,2022-03-21 This collection of essays explores convergences and divergences between process thought and Roman Catholicism with the goal of identifying reasons for why process philosophy and theology has not had the same impact in Roman Catholic circles as in Protestantism and of constructively navigating avenues of promising engagement between Process thought and Roman Catholicism In creatively considering the Roman Catholic tradition from the vantage point of Process thought different theoretical perspectives are brought to bear on Catholic characteristics of historical theology fundamental theology systematic theology moral theology social justice and theology of religions While the contributors draw upon a broad range of resources from the disciplines of the physical and social sciences philosophy and ethics from a process perspective the primary methodology employed is theological reflection
