M. Napier Waller 1893/1972 Mervyn Napier Waller, 1977 M. Napier Waller, 1893-1972 National Gallery of Victoria, 1977 M. Napier Waller 1893/1972, National Gallery of Victoria, 29 July-28 August, 1977 National Gallery of Victoria, Mervyn Napier Waller, Nicholas Draffin, 1977 M. Napier Waller 1893-1972 Art Gallery of New South Wales, 1977 M. Napier Waller, 1893-1972, Melbourne National Gallery of Victoria, July 29 - Aug. 28, 1977 Napier Waller, 1977 The Art of M. Napier Waller Mervyn Napier Waller, Nicholas Draffin, 1978 Although Mervyn Napier Waller 1893 1972 was one of Australia's most prolific artists turning his hand to linocuts watercolours mural paintings mosaics and stained glass among other media his work stands apart from the more familiar movements in Australian art and had been unjustly neglected From an early use of mediaval sources he turned to predominantly classical and mythological themes and then evolved an idealization of contemporary subjects BOOK JACKET A Survey of Australian Relief Prints, 1900/1950 Deutscher Galleries, Roger Butler, Dixie Witt, 1978 Exhibition of woodcuts and linocuts at the Deutscher Galleries Armadale Victoria 13 April 5 May 1978 The Glass Cricket Ball Jan William Smith, 2022-05-01 The moving and evocative story of Napier Waller's masterpiece the Hall of Memory the spiritual heart of the Australian War Memorial The one armed Melbourne artist Napier Waller OBE CMG created the great Hall of Memory at the Australian War Memorial in Canberra Waller died in 1972 without knowing that 20 years later his greatest work would be the place for a tomb that would be central to Australia's remembrance of war dead The Glass Cricket Ball is a story of Waller's life the creation of a great artwork and the bringing home and re burial of the remains of an Unknown Australian Soldier from a French World War I battleground cemetery Napier Waller was a casualty at the battle of Bullecourt A watercolour artist on the Western Front should be out of his comfort zone when his wounds include the loss of his right painting arm But Napier Waller's answer was to become Australia's greatest monumental artist with his left hand Waller and the war historian Charles Bean had a fine time deciding which words described the quintessential qualities of Australian fighting men and women in World War I The words would be included at the foot of each of the fifteen windows of the Hall of Memory and would define fighting social and personal qualities The window defined as ancestry would include a sporting image and Waller chose to include a stained glass cricket ball and stumps a tradition of the Anzacs of World War I Walks of Art series. The Art of Melbourne: Swanston Street Denise M Taylor, 2014-02-10 Stroll or tram down Swanston Street aptly referred to as Melbourne's iconic spine and you will encounter contemporary architecture and street art vying for attention beside 19th century old school bronze statues and buildings permanent reminders of Melbourne's early British settlement There are no visible signs of the people who first inhabited this land however you can engage with Aboriginal art in the Australian collection at the National Gallery of Victoria's Ian Potter Centre at the rear of Federation Square This self guided tour begins at the northern end of Swanston Street The University of Melbourne's Ian Potter Museum of Art Before you start you can enjoy a tea or coffee at the Potter cafe which hugs the north east corner of the art gallery Heading south you will eventually reach the Yarra River where Swanston Street becomes St Kilda Road across Princes Bridge The green expanse of the Royal Melbourne Botanic Gardens fans out to the left To the right is the Arts Centre with its spire and further on the imposing bluestone building of the National Gallery of Victoria NGV International houses a range of international art dating from antiquity through to the 21st century The tour finishes here You will engage with many forms of art which speak to each of us differently a work of art may remind us of the past a weathered facade or a history painting represent the present or project an imagined future After you finish this tour along Swanston Street you might ask yourself Is Melbourne developing a distinctive artistic character representative of its past present and perhaps even its future Walks of Art self guided walking tours spotlight urban pockets of Melbourne and Europe with a focus on art in galleries on the streets and in public places As the tours are self paced you can determine for yourself how long you spend at each stop Sometimes looking at a facade is all that is required or a lengthier time may be spent at a gallery or church It s all up to you Most of the galleries and museums of art on the tours are chosen because they either do not charge admission fees except for temporary exhibitions or if they do the fee is deemed reasonable by the author Again you have the choice Each walk includes many works of art with detailed descriptions a map of the route opening and closing times of galleries museums churches institutions photos images at least one inexpensive eatery along the way that is a favourite of the author The author is mindful of those art lovers who are confined to a wheelchair Walks of Art tours consider the ease of wheelchair access along the route Traditional travel guide books are expensive adding bulk and weight to travel bags They can also be out of date very quickly Walks of Art are distributed as e guides to smartphones iPads and Kindles easy to buy and access and eco friendly The author keeps a vigilant eye on any changes to opening hours new installations closures and or removals of works of art This means that information can be updated with the click of a button However for those travellers who prefer reading print on paper rather than on shiny screens a pocket book version of Walks of Art will be available in the near future Look out for the next tour in the Walks of Art series which will focus on a pocket in Rome All tours are intended for those individuals who like the author want to experience art slowly
