Wilson, 2014-12-01 Although healing constitutes both a major theme of biblical literature and a significant practice of biblical communities healing themes and experiences are not always conspicuous in presentations of biblical theology Walter T Wilson adopts an interdisciplinary approach to the healing narratives in the Gospel of Matthew combining the familiar methods of form redaction and narrative criticisms with insights culled from medical anthropology feminist theory disability studies and ancient archaeology His focus is the New Testament's longest and most systematic account of healing Matthew chapters 8 and 9 which he investigates by situating the text within a broad range of ancient healing traditions The close exegetical readings of each healing narrative culminate in a final synthesis that pulls together what can be said about Matthew's understanding of healing how Matthew's narratives of healing expose the distinctive priorities of the evangelist and how these priorities relate to the theology of the Gospel as a

Heavenly Imagery and Symbolism in Matthew's Gospel Daehoon Kang, 2023-11-21. The present study explores the role of heavenly imagery and symbolism in the Gospel of Matthew. Historical background and narrative criticism are my main methods because the Old Testament and Second Temple Jewish texts form the historical backgrounds for the understanding of Matthew's heaven and Matthew uses heavenly imagery and symbolism to highlight his main themes in the gospel as a whole. This study investigates Matthew's distinctive materials and important texts having to do with heaven, exploring their meanings and establishing their roles in each narrative section. Matthew describes heaven as the space where certain events reveal God's plan of salvation. Heaven is associated with such key matters as revelation and judgment. Each major discourse of Matthew focuses on heavenly imagery with judgment at its end, culminating in the parable of the sheep and the goats (Matt 25:31-46).
