Studio ,2003 Reassembling Digital Placemaking Isabel Fangyi Lu,2025-06-20 This book presents digital placemaking as a new testing ground for urban democracy It explores the participatory practices of digital placemaking and their implications on blurring formal and informal boundaries of decision making and urban politics Drawing on examples from Australia China and Taiwan the book examines how contemporary cities are witnessing an era when digitality becomes a mode of placemaking and participation becomes an urban condition Such developments manifest as urban activism creative branding tech placemaking and digital governance that trigger changes in urban engagement and politics This book views digital placemaking through an assemblage lens to demonstrate how it can be a relational site of contentions and collaborations among civil society industries and governments without observance of strict boundaries Contrary to an often binary and zero sum reading of urban politics this book advocates for a tripartite assemblage model of urban politics that is neither hierarchical nor deterministic This book proposes an ouroboros model as a systematic approach that conceptually anchors digital placemaking studies to the nexus of urban institutions and digital technologies It reconceptualises urban politics as a relational process of nuances contingency and complexity in the flux of cosmopolitan power movements and inquiries Ultimately the book develops the notion of socio technical natality to counter the myth of tech inevitability and instil a thesis of hope and change This book will interest researchers policymakers and professionals in urban studies media studies cultural studies urban communication creative placemaking community engagement urban advocacy and urban governance Australian Wetland Cultures John Charles Ryan,Li Chen,2019-10-31 Among the most productive studies ecological science environmental studies and heritage protection The Production Sites of Architecture Sophia Psarra,2019-01-14 The Production Sites of Architecture examines the intimate link between material sites and meaning It explores questions such as how do spatial configurations produce meaning What are alternative modes of knowledge production How do these change our understanding of architectural knowledge Featuring essays from an international range of scholars the book accepts that everything about the production of architecture has social significance It focuses on two areas firstly relationships of spatial configuration form order and classification secondly the interaction of architecture and these notions with other areas of knowledge such as literature inscriptions interpretations and theories of classification ordering and invention Moving beyond perspectives which divide architecture into either an aesthetic or practical art the authors show how buildings are informed by intersections between site and content space and idea thought and materiality architecture and imagination Presenting illustrated case studies of works by architects and artists including Amale Andraos Dan Wood OMA Koen Deprez and John Soane The Production Sites of Architecture makes a major contribution to our understanding of architectural theory Possession Bain Attwood,2015-02-04 It contemplates why these agreements were forged how the Aboriginal people understood their terms why government repudiated them and how settlers claimed to be the rightful owners of the land Bain Attwood also reveals the ways in which the settler society has endeavoured to make good its act of possession by repeatedly creating histories that have recalled or repressed the memory of Batman the treaties and the Aborigines destruction and dispossession and charts how Aboriginal people have unsettled this matter of history through their remembering The Place of Silence Mark Dorrian,Christos Kakalis,2020-02-06 The Place of Silence explores the poetics and politics of silence in architecture Bringing together contributions by internationally recognized scholars in architecture and the humanities it explores the diverse practices affects politics and cultural meanings of silence silent places and silent buildings in historical and contemporary contexts What counts as silence in specific situations is highly relative and the term itself carries complex and varied significations which make it a revealing field of study Chapters explore a range of themes from the apparent loss of silence in the contemporary urban world through designed silent spaces to the forced silences of oppression catastrophe or technological breakdown The book unfolds a rich and complementary array of perspectives which address through the lens of architecture and place questions of sound atmosphere and attunement together building a volume which will form the key scholarly resource on architecture and silence sound and migration Places Made After Their Stories Paul Carter, 2015 Places Made After Their Stories shows how the emotional geographies we carry inside us and the ecstatic desire at the heart of democratic community making can come together to inform contemporary landscape and urban design Using Australian case studies of public space design from Alice Springs to Perth and Melbourne Paul Carter describes a new approach to place making in which topography and choreography fuse He counters the symbolic neglect of functionalist design with a brilliant account of poetic and graphic techniques developed to materialize ambience Carter describes a practice of sense making and form making that embodies fundamental gestures of welcome arrangement and exchange in the built setting Practice as Research Estelle Barrett, Barbara Bolt, 2014-06-10 Practice led research is a burgeoning area across the creative arts with studio informed doctorates frequently favoured over traditional approaches to research Practice as Research Approaches to Creative Arts Enquiry is specifically designed as a training tool and is structured on the model used by most research programmes A comprehensive introduction lays out the book's framework and individual chapters provide concrete examples of studio based research in art film and video creative writing and dance Comprehensive in its approach the volume draws on thinkers including Deleuze Bourdieu and Heidegger in its examination of the relationship between practice and theory demonstrating how practice can operate as a valid alternative mode of enquiry to traditional scholarship Translations, an autoethnography Paul Carter, 2021-12-21 Translations is a personal history written at the intersection of colonial anthropology creative practice and migrant ethnography Renowned postcolonial scholar public artist and radio maker UK born Paul Carter documents and discusses a prodigiously varied and original trajectory of writing sound installation and public space dramaturgy produced in Australia to present the phenomenon of contemporary migration in an entirely new light Migrant space time Carter argues is not linear but turbulent vortical and opportunistic Before and after narratives fail to capture the work of self becoming and serve merely to perpetuate colonialist fantasies The mirror state relationship between England and Australia its structurally symmetrical histories of land theft and internal colonisation repress the appearance of new subjects and subject relations Reflecting on collaborations with Aboriginal artists Carter argues for a new definition of the stranger host relationship predicated on recognition of Aboriginal sovereignty Carter calls the creative practice that breaks the cycle of repeated invasion dirty art Translations is a passionately eloquent argument for reframing borders as crossing places framing less murderous exchange rates symbolic literacy creative courage and above all the emergence of a resilient migrant poetics will be essential Perma/Culture: Molly Wallace, David Carruthers, 2018-02-07 In the face of what seems like a concerted effort to destroy the only planet that can sustain us critique is an important tool It is in this vein that most scholars have approached environmental crisis While there are numerous texts that chronicle contemporary issues in environmental ills there are relatively few that explore the possibilities and practices which work to avoid collapse and build alternatives The keyword of this book's full title Perma Culture alludes to and plays on permaculture an international movement that can provide a framework for navigating the multiple other worlds within a broader environmental ethic This edited collection brings together essays from an international team of scholars activists and artists in order to provide a critical introduction to the ethico political and cultural elements around the concept of Perma Culture These multidisciplinary essays include a varied landscape of sites and practices from readings from ecotopian literature to an analysis of the intersection of agriculture and art from an account of the rewards and difficulties of building community in Transition Towns to a description of the ad hoc infrastructure of a fracking protest camp Offering a number of constructive models in response to current global environmental challenges this book makes a significant contribution to current eco literature and will be of great interest to students and researchers in Environmental Humanities Environmental Studies Sociology and Communication Studies

Naming No Man's Land Paul Carter, 2024-09-19 This book is a practice based exploration of the politics and poetics of replacing colonial placenames with Indigenous ones From a horizon of case studies in Western Australia the study develops a lively dialogue with international critical toponymy theory and with older etymological approaches to place renaming and legitimation The author shows how renaming raises fundamental questions of meaning reference and cross cultural equivalence Recognising the sense of place values that accrue to placenames Carter argues that placenames have a creative as well as discursive function they are talking points that bring places into being For this reason to decolonize toponymy involves a postcolonial poetics Naming No Man s Land argues for a practical community shaped toponymic poetics that escapes from the binarist logic of imposition erasure showing that when the principle that places are made after their stories is followed new creative mechanisms of co existence can emerge A must read for anyone engaged in postcolonial studies creativity studies cultural geography sociolinguistics historical ethnography eco criticism environmental humanities Australian Aboriginal studies and related disciplines

Places of Reconciliation Sarah W Pinto,2021-06-01 Central Melbourne is filled with markers of the city s pasts At its heart are the stories of exploration and settlement of the so called first to arrive and of the building of a colony and nation But when it comes to its Indigenous pasts the centre of Melbourne has long been a place of silence Over the last two decades Indigenous histories and peoples have been brought into central Melbourne s commemorative landscapes Memorials commemorative markers namings and public artworks have all been used to remember the city s Indigenous pasts Places of Reconciliation shows how they came to be part of the city and the ways in which they have challenged the erasures of its Indigenous histories Sarah Pinto considers the kind of places that have been made and unmade by these commemorations and concludes that the twenty first century settler city does not give up its commemorative landscapes easily
