The Northing Tramp Edgar Wallace,1929 The Northing Tramp Edgar Wallace,2022-01-29 The Northing Tramp Edgar Wallace Her wedding day was so fraught with danger that she and her husband were forced to flee from the deadly menace that ruthlessly dogged their every move She learned to avoid the man with the red beard and his swarthy knife juggling companion Above all she feared and avoided Gussie whose drawl and monocle gave him a deceptive appearance of meekness Who were these three and who was her strange husband and what was the secret that spelled death between them The Northing Tramp Edgar Wallace,2020-04-05 The tramp looked to be less savoury than most tramps and more dangerous For he was playing with a serviceable automatic pistol throwing it from one hand and catching it with the other balancing its muzzle on his forefinger with an anxious eye as it leant first one way and then another or letting it slip through his hands until the barrel was pointing earthwards This pistol was rather like a precious plaything he could neither keep his eyes nor hands from it and when tired of the toy he slipped it into the pocket of his tattered pants the disappearance was momentary Out it came again to be fondled and tossed and spun Such things cannot be said the tramp aloud not once but many times in the course of his play He was unmistakably English and what an English tramp was doing on the outskirts of Littleburg in the State of New York requires but for the moment evades explanation He was not pleasant even as tramps go His face was blotched and swollen he carried a week s growth of beard one eye was recovering from the violent impact of a fist delivered a week before by a brother tramp whom he had awakened at an inconvenient moment He might explain the swelling by his ignorance of the properties of poison ivy but there was nobody interested enough to ask His collarless shirt was grimy his apology for a jacket had bottomless pits for pockets on the back of his head as he juggled the pistol he maintained an ancient derby hat badly dented the rim rat eaten The Complete Railway Mysteries Victor L.
