One Hundred Years Of Study On The Passion Narratives:

One Hundred Years of Study on the Passion Narratives David E. Garland, 1989 The Lukan Passion Narrative Jay M. Harrington, 2000-01-01 This volume offers a detailed chronological and systematic history of the debate surrounding Luke's use of Mark's Gospel and special sources in a section of the passion narrative concluding with an exegesis of Lk 23:6-16 as a testing ground of material derived from the survey. An extensive bibliography and useful appendices round out the volume. The Lukan Passion Narrative. The Markan Material in Luke 22,54 - 23,25 Revd Jay M.

Harrington, 2019-07-01 This study traces the debate surrounding Luke's use of the Gospel of Mark and special sources such as Proto-Luke in a section of the passion narrative Lk 22:54-23:25. The survey covers roughly the period from the 1880s to 1997. Part I details the development from P. Feine to the 1960s. Part II begins with G. Schneider continuing up through 1997. In treating each scholar's position, the author reviews their underlying Synoptic theory, their source theory in the passion in general, then the trial of Pilate and finally the trial before Herod. Part III is devoted to an interpretation of Lk 23:6-16. Part IV contains the list of abbreviations, the bibliography, and three appendices: 1. Special LQ vocabulary and constructions according to J. Weiss; 2. Lukan priority theories; and 3. the Gospel of Peter and its relation to the Herod pericope. Part IV concludes with the name index. The Lukan Passion Narrative will be particularly useful to those concerned with Luke's redactional technique, source theories, Minor Agreements, and the history of exegesis. Shaping the Past to Define the Present Gregory E.

Sterling, 2023-03-28 Rethinking early Christian identity with the Gospel of Luke and the Acts of the Apostles. Shaping the Past to Define the Present comprises both new and revised essays by esteemed New Testament scholar Gregory E. Sterling on Jewish and early Christian historiography. A sequel to his seminal work Historiography and Self-Definition, this volume expands on Sterling's reading of Luke-Acts in the context of contemporary Jewish and Greek historiography. These systematically arranged essays encompass his new and revised contributions to the field of biblical studies, exploring the genre of apologetic historiography exemplified by Josephus and Eusebius, the context of Josephus's work within a larger tradition of Eastern historiography, the initial composition and circulation of Luke and Acts, the relationship of Luke-Acts to the Septuagint, the interpretation of the diaspora in Luke-Acts, the structure of salvation history as it is manifested in Luke-Acts, Socratic influences on Luke's portrayal of Jesus's death, the early Jerusalem Christian community as depicted in Acts compared with other Hellenized Eastern traditions such as Egyptian priests and Indian sages, the establishment of Christianity's social respectability as a guiding purpose in Luke-Acts. Engaging with current critical frameworks, Sterling offers readers a comprehensive analysis of early Christian self-definition through Judeo-Christian historiography. The Gospel of Matthew John Nolland, 2005-11-01 Having devoted the past ten years of his life to research for this major new work, John Nolland gives us a commentary on the Gospel of Matthew that engages with a notable range of Matthean scholarship and offers fresh interpretations of the dominant Gospel in the history of the church. Without neglecting the

Gospel's sources or historical background Nolland places his central focus on the content and method of Matthew's story His work explores Matthew's narrative technique and the inner logic of the unfolding text giving full weight to the Jewish character of the book and its differences from Mark's presentation of parallel material While finding it unlikely that the apostle Matthew himself composed the book Nolland does argue that Matthew's Gospel reflects the historical ministry of Jesus with considerable accuracy and he brings to the table new evidence for an early date of composition Including accurate translations based on the latest Greek text detailed verse by verse comments thorough bibliographies for each section and an array of insightful critical approaches Nolland's Gospel of Matthew will stimulate students preachers and scholars seeking to understand more fully Matthew's presentation of the gospel narrative
