THE STATE OF THE ART The recent seventies have not been good times for toxicologists Public confidence in us is shaken mostly as a consequence of an unhappy sequence of spectacular failures we have been surprised by a tragic transplacental carcinogenic effect of diethylstilbestrol an old and widely prescribed synthetic estrogen We are confronted with a small epidemic of an unusual liver tumor angiosarcoma induced by a simple chemical vinylchloride whose insidious toxic potential we failed to recognize for years Our clinical colleagues had to tell us about the ulcerogenic effect of as simple a substance as potassium chloride We also just learned of an unusual toxic reaction pseudolupus developing in people taking a popular fixed combination drug venocuran Admittedly we could not have predicted this syndrome even if we had considered the possibility We are still unable to continue this self flagellation to explain the relationship between the appetite suppressant aminorex and the suddenly increased occurrence of a lung disease posing as primary pulmonary hypertension And worse yet we have no way to evaluate a new derivative of this class and to predict whether or not it too will produce the deadly condition We still to my knowledge have no plausible explanation why and how thalidomide caused phocomelia Of course we do diligently a set of teratological experiments with each new drug we follow a protocol which has the blessing of all governmental regulatory agencies Progress in toxicology Gerhard Zbinden, 1973 Serials Currently Received by the National Agricultural Library, 1974 National Agricultural Library (U.S.), 1974 Animal Hematotoxicology G.O. Evans, 2008-07-25 Hematology data from in vivo toxicology studies remains one of the most predictive measures for human risk as the same measurements made in pre clinical toxicology studies can be made in early clinical trials Covering the three main blood cell types erythrocytes leukocytes and thrombocytes this work is designed to clarify topics for Toxicologic Pathology Pritam S. Sahota, James A. Popp, Jerry F. Hardisty, Chirukandath Gopinath, Page Bouchard, 2018-08-14 Following the success of the first edition this book is designed to provide practical and timely information for toxicologic pathologists working in pharmaceutical drug discovery and development The majority of the book Organ Systems will provide detailed descriptions of histopathological lesions observed in drug development In addition it will provide information to assist the pathologist in making determinations of the origin of lesions as well as its relevance to human risk Toxicologic Pathology Nonclinical Safety Assessment Second Edition includes 2 new concept chapters The first of the new chapters address approaches for the evaluation of unique therapeutic modalities such as cell therapies gene therapies and gene expression knockdown therapies While these still represent new developing therapeutic approaches there has been significant experience with the therapeutic modalities in the last 5 years The second new chapter addresses the nonclinical safety assessment of medical devices a topic of increasing importance that was not addressed in a unique chapter in the first edition The other concept chapters have been updated and cover important topics including the overview of drug development principles of nonclinical safety assessment an introduction to toxicologic pathology techniques used in toxicologic pathology clinical pathology toxicokinetics and drug development toxicogenomics and spontaneous lesions The 13 organ system chapters provide the specifics related to pathologic characteristics differential diagnosis and interpretation of toxic responses in each organ system These chapters are specifically important for the bench pathologist but also for the toxicologist who interacts with pathologists and function as study toxicologists and project team representatives in the drug development arena
