The Pedagogy of Protest Brendan Walsh, 2007 This book provides the first complete account of Patrick Pearse's educational work at St Enda's and St Ita's schools Dublin Extensive use of first hand accounts reveals Pearse as a humane energetic teacher and a forward looking and innovative educational thinker Between 1903 and 1916 Pearse developed a new concept of schooling as an agency of radical pedagogical and social reform later echoed by school founders such as Bertrand Russell This placed him firmly within the tradition of radical educational thought as articulated by Paulo Freire and Henry Giroux The book examines the tension between Pearse's work and his increasingly public profile as an advocate of physical force separatism and by employing previously unknown accounts questions the perception that he influenced his students to become active supporters of militant separatism The book describes the later history of St Enda's revealing the ambivalence of post independence administrations and shows how Pearse's work which has long been neglected by historians has had a direct influence on a later generation of school founders up to the present

pursue their own areas of particular interest Palaeomagnetism in Fold and Thrust Belts: New Perspectives E.L. Pueyo, F. Cifelli, A.J. Sussman, B. Oliva-Urcia, 2016-08-23 Palaeomagnetism is a technique used to understand complex deformation patterns in fold and thrust belts it can be used to characterize the distribution magnitude and timing of vertical axis rotations an elusive variable using other methods A combination of palaeomagnetic and structural geology analyses has helped to unravel the geometry and kinematics of fold and thrust belts around the world and of different geological ages for more than 50 years This volume comprises three sections the first shows thorough overviews of western Mediterranean arcs and the western Carpathians the second depicts several examples from the Andes the Alps Anatolia Pyrenees Iberian Ranges and the Atlas and the third shows the latest research on the use of palaeomagnetism to understand fold and thrust belts in 3D and 4D in a more quantitative way and it also includes some methodological proposals to avoid common errors In the papers of the first two sections the combination of palaeomagnetic analyses with structural data AMS or magnetostratigraphic analyses demonstrate the usefulness of palaeomagnetism in deciphering complex deformation patterns in fold and thrust belts Self-determination in Health Care Leroy C. Edozien, 2016-03-03 It is generally accepted in legal and bioethical discourse that the patient has a right to self determination In practice though this is often not the case Paternalism is waning and it is increasingly recognised that there are values other than medical factors which determine the choices that patients make Unfortunately these developments have not resulted in huge advances for patient self determination which is largely because the consent model has fundamental flaws that constrain its effectiveness This book sets out to offer an alternative model to consent In the property model proposed here the patient's bodily integrity is protected from unauthorised invasion and their legitimate expectation to be provided with the relevant information to make an informed decision is taken to be a proprietary right It is argued that the property model potentially overcomes the limitations of the consent model including the obstacle caused by the requirement to prove causation in consent cases The author proposes that this model could in the future provide an alternative or complementary approach for the courts to consider when dealing with cases relating to self determination in health care Geological Survey Bulletin, 1975
