Property And Power In The Early Middle Ages:

Property and Power in the Early Middle Ages Wendy Davies, Paul Fouracre, 2002-08-08 A collection of original essays on the relationship between property and power in early medieval Europe Courts, Elites, and Gendered Power in the Early Middle Ages Janet L. Nelson, 2024-10-28 A major theme in the volume of articles by Janet Nelson is the usefulness of gender as a category of historical analysis Papers range widely across early medieval time and geographical as well as social space but most focus on the Carolingian period and on royalty and elites The workings of dynastic political power are viewed in social as well as political context and the author explores the realities of gendered power which while constraining women gave them distinctive possibilities for agency These papers offer new perspectives on the Carolingian world in general and on Charlemagne's reign in particular Topographies of Power in the Early Middle Ages Frans Theuvs, Mayke B. de Jong, Carine Van Rhijn, 2001 Saint Maurice d'Agaune Gudme Vistula Francia Maastricht Aachen Gaul Cordoba The Languages of Gift in the Early Middle Ages Wendy Davies, Paul Fouracre, 2010-09-02 This book is a collection of original essays on gift in the early Middle Ages from Anglo Saxon England to the Islamic world Focusing on the languages of gift the essays reveal how early medieval people visualized and thought about gift and how they distinguished between the giving of gifts and other forms of social economic political and religious exchange The same team largely that produced the widely cited The Settlement of Disputes in Early Medieval Europe Cambridge University Press 1986 has again collaborated in a collective effort that harnesses individual expertise in order to draw from the sources a deeper understanding of the early Middle Ages by looking at real cases that is at real people whether peasant or emperor The culture of medieval gift has often been treated as archaic and exotic in this book by contrast we see people going about their lives in individual down to earth and sometimes familiar ways The Foundations of Royal Power in Early Medieval Germany David S. Bachrach, 2022 Provocative interrogation of how the Ottonian kingdom grew and flourished focussing on the resources required The Ottonians were the most powerful monarchs in Europe during the tenth and early eleventh century exercising hegemony in West Francia Burgundy and much of Italy in addition to ruling the German realm Despite their enormous political and military success however the foundations of Ottonian royal power remain highly contested and largely misunderstood with previous scholarship tending to have considered it as depending upon the ability of the king to shape and harness the power of the nobles This study challenges the dominant historiographical paradigm rebutting the notion of putative power sharing between the king and the nobility which simply did not exist as a legal class in the Ottonian century Rather it argues that the foundations of royal power under the Ottonians comprised not only their own enormous wealth but also their unique authority and ability through the royal bannum the authority inherent in the office of the king to make use of the economic resources and labour of the broad free population of the realm as well as from the Church In so doing the Ottonians drew upon and further developed the administrative institutional and ideological inheritance of their Carolingian predecessors in the process creating the dominant polity in tenth century Europe The Age of Liutprand Christopher Heath, 2024-11-14

The Age of Liutprand provides a thematic analysis of Lombard Italy in the pivotal early part of the 8th century. It surveys the crucial role and rule of Liutprand 712-44, the powerful and effective Lombard king. By restoring this successful exemplar of Lombard kingship to the centre of events and developments in the Italian peninsula, this book pulls together all the pertinent evidence for a new kingship in Lombard Italy that used a sophisticated set of strategies to enhance, deepen and expand its effectiveness. In presenting an evaluation of Italy on the cusp of dramatic change, this book explains how not only the kingship of Liutprand but also his legal reforms and his relationships with the Church and neighbouring peoples all contributed to a model of kingship successfully and subsequently deployed by Charlemagne and his successors later in the 8th century.

Medieval Transformations: Texts, Power, and Gifts in Context Esther Cohen, Mayke de Jong, 2022-02-28
This volume deals with shifts and changes that took place during the Middle Ages when things or ideas or writings were transferred from time to time, place to place or one ideological realm to another. The same objects, ideas or texts changed their meaning, impact or symbolic value according to different contexts. The twelve papers written by leading experts investigate the authority attributed to texts and their canonization in different contexts, the shifting uses and meanings of gifts from honorable instruments in the settlement of disputes to corruption and bribery, and the transition of violence and power from relationships between equals to a tool for the maintenance of hierarchies. Contributors include Gadi Algazi, Monique Bernards, Arnoud Jan Bijsterveld, Esther Cohen, Valentin Groebner, Yitzhak Hen, Mayke de Jong, Rob Meens, Marco Mostert, Thomas F. X. Noble, Timothy Reuter, Hendrik Teunis, and Stephen D. White. Noblewomen, aristocracy and power in the twelfth-century Anglo-Norman realm Susan M. Johns, 2013-07-19
This electronic version has been made available under a Creative Commons BY-NC-ND open access license. The first major work on noblewomen in the twelfth century and Normandy and of the ways in which they exercised power. Offers an important reconceptualisation of women's role in aristocratic society and suggests new ways of looking at lordship and the ruling elite in the high middle ages. Considers a wide range of literary sources such as chronicles, charters, seals and governmental records to draw out a detailed picture of noblewomen in the twelfth-century Anglo-Norman realm. Asserts the importance of the life cycle in determining the power of aristocratic women. Demonstrates that the influence of gender on lordship was profound, complex and varied. Alfred the Great Timothy Reuter, 2017-05-15 1999 marked the eleven hundredth anniversary of the death of Alfred the Great and to mark this event two international conferences were held to re-evaluate and contextualise Alfred's achievements and the developments of his reign. This volume includes papers given at both events and provides substantial assessments by leading scholars of issues of source criticism of the large corpus of Old English literature associated with Alfred and of developments in government and society in late ninth-century England. It also explores how Alfred and his kingdom related to the wider geopolitical and cultural situation in the British Isles and continental Europe and closes with a substantial survey of the uses and shifts in Alfred's reputation in the centuries following his death. This substantial and wide-ranging volume will become a standard reference work for anyone interested in Old English literature or Anglo-Saxon history and will set the pattern of future scholarly debate.

Poverty's Proprietors: Ownership and Mortal Sin at the Origins of the Observant Movement James (Jim) Mixson, 2009-03-25. Focusing on the theme of property and community, this study offers a new account of the origins of fifteenth-century Observant reform in the monasteries and canonries of the southern Empire. Through close readings of unpublished texts, it traces how ideas about reformed community emerged both beyond and within the religious orders in the era of the Council of Constance. Focusing on reform among monks and canons in Bavaria and Austria to 1450, it then shows how those ideas were applied in practice through reforming visitation and through a devotional culture steeped in the new piety of the day. These considerations allow the Observant Movement to offer fresh perspectives on the history of religious community reform and the church in the fifteenth century.

Commemorating Power in Early Medieval Saxony Sarah Greer, 2021. Commemorating Power looks at how the past was evoked for political purposes under a new Saxon dynasty, the Ottonians, who came to dominate post-Carolingian Europe after 888 as the rulers of a new empire in Germany and Italy, focusing on two convents of monastic women who played a significant role in Ottonian politics.

Bounded Wilderness Kathryn Jasper, 2024-10-15. In Bounded Wilderness, Kathryn Jasper focuses on the innovations undertaken at the hermitage of Fonte Avellana in central Italy during the eleventh century by its prior Peter Damian d. 1072. The congregation of Fonte Avellana experimented with reforming practices that led to new ways of managing property and relations among clergy, nobles, and the laity. Jasper charts how Damian's notion of monastic reform took advantage of the surrounding topography and geography to amplify the sensory aspects of ascetic experiences. By focusing on monastic landscapes and land ownership, Jasper demonstrates that reform extended beyond abstract ideas. Rather, reform circulated locally through monastic networks and addressed practical concerns such as property boundaries and rights over water, orchards, pastures, and mills. Putting new sources, both documentary and archaeological, into conversation with monastic charters and Damian's letters, Bounded Wilderness reveals the interrelationship of economic practices, religious traditions, and the natural environment in the idea and implementation of reform.

The Moral World of the Law Peter R. Coss, 2000-04-27. Essays on the relationship between the moral environment of the courtroom and that of the surrounding society.

Empress Adelheid and Countess Matilda Penelope Nash, 2017-02-15. This book compares two successful elite women, Empress Adelheid (931-999) and Countess Matilda (1046-1115), for their relative ability to retain their wealth and power in the midst of the profound social changes of the eleventh century. The careers of the Ottonian queen and empress Adelheid and Countess Matilda of Tuscany reveal a growth of opportunities for women to access wealth and power. These two women are analyzed under three categories: their relationships with family and friends; how they managed their property, particularly land; and how they ruled. This analysis encourages a better understanding of gender relations in both the past and the present.

The Merovingians Alexander Murray, 2022-05-17 The studies collected here cover a period of about 33 years from 1986 to 2019 and represent a sustained effort to understand the institutions of the Merovingian kingdom and its history There has long been a predisposition to cast the Merovingian period in the dark colours of barbarism or to treat it with reference to personal relationships and archaic institutions The present volume instead recognizes the Merovingian world not as an archaic primitive intrusion on the Mediterranean civilization of the Roman Empire but simply as a participant in the wider commonwealth that existed before and remained after the dissolution of the western imperial system in so doing it serves to refute the scholarly tendency to primitivize Merovingian governance its underlying institutions and the broader culture upon which these rested The collection is divided into four parts Part I considers the question of whether Merovingian kingship should be viewed as a species of archaic sacral kingship Part II on institutions has chapters that deal with various offices the grafio and centenarius public institutions especially immunity and public security and the broader makeup of the Merovingian state system Part III on charters procedure and law has chapters on the profile of the charter evidence as now presented in the new MGH edition of the Merovingian diplomas and one on particular procedures before the royal tribunal mistakenly referred to in scholarship as fictitious trials a final chapter provides a reflection on and basic guide to the law in general of the successor kingdoms with an eye to the evidence of Merovingian Gaul Part IV a slight change of pace deals with historiography both the modern variety Reinhard Wenskus and the Merovingian Gregory of Tours All chapters deal extensively with the historiography of their subjects This book will appeal to students and scholars alike interested in Early Medieval European history Merovingian history Early Medieval law and society Early Medieval historiography and the influence of Merovingian law and governance on later centuries CS 1104

in the seventh century to the emergence of the local parochial system five hundred years later the Church was a force for change in Anglo Saxon society It shaped culture and ideas social and economic behaviour and the organization of landscape and settlement This book traces how the widespread foundation of monastic sites minsters during c 670 730 gave the recently pagan English new ways of living of exploiting their resources and of absorbing European culture as well as opening new spiritual and intellectual horizons Through the era of Viking wars and the tenth century reconstruction of political and economic life the minsters gradually lost their wealth their independence and their role as sites of high culture but grew in stature as foci of local society and eventually towns After 950 with the increasing prominence of manors manor houses and village communities a new and much larger category of small churches were founded endowed and rebuilt the parish churches of the emergent eleventh and twelfth century local parochial system In this innovative study John Blair brings together written topographical and archaeological evidence to build a multi dimensional picture of what local churches and local communities meant to each other in early England
