Real People Working In Health Care:

Surviving Work in Healthcare Elizabeth Cotton, 2017-03-08 The book takes as its starting point the crisis of healthcare in the UK impossible health targets managed through command and control management and a stomach churning rise in racism whistleblowing and victimisation in the NHS The use of nationally set productivity targets combined with austerity cuts have increasingly put clinical best practice into direct conflict with funding Health targets have become politically controlled and performance has become a cynical exercise in ticking boxes cascaded within trusts and bulldozed through frontline services This has led directly to a precarious system of employment relations subject to the continual restructuring of services rather than the goal of creating functioning interdisciplinary teams that stand a chance of capturing clinical excellence This book is written for workers and managers who are on the frontline of the battle for decent healthcare The content of this book is based on the ordinary expertise of the people who are actually surviving it and helpful ideas about making the best out of a bad lot Surviving Work in Healthcare will be of interest to healthcare professionals and anyone working on the frontline of healthcare as well as students of management human resources and psychology Real People

States. Congress. House. Committee on Ways and Means. Subcommittee on Health,1993 Person-Focused Health Care Management Donald Zimmerman,Denise G. Osborn-Harrison,2016-12-15 Moves beyond traditional definitions of patient centered care to improve the experience of a real person as patient How might the entire system for producing delivering and paying for health care be changed so that real people fare better than they currently do This text applies person focused principles to health management decision making aimed at improving the personal experience of care within health care institutions to improve outcomes and cost savings Written and edited by distinguished educators and researchers with decades of health care policy experience the text examines how health care managers can initiate and direct the process of system transformation by understanding and using a greater person focus in their decision making It encompasses the key domains of management competencies defined by the AUPHA CAHME and NCHL The text brings together experts across a variety of health care management disciplines to examine how managerial decisions affect the personal experience of patient care It is based on observations that many of the current problems facing health care managers are caused by lack of attention to what happens when real people are transformed into patients and treated routinely by the US health care system Moving beyond traditional definitions of patient centered care the book explores how our entire system for producing delivering and paying for care can be changed so that the internal experience of people receiving care is a positive one The book helps to develop specific rules for improving the experience of care through better managerial decision making Case studies with discussion questions facilitate creative problem solving based on sound decision making Also included are extensive links to online content along with an Instructor s Manual PowerPoint slides and more Key Features Describes how the person focused model leads to better outcomes Discusses the impact of management decisions on the personal experience of clinical care Addresses the personal and clinical problems created through our current system s standard health care delivery and financing Applies basic principles of management decision making to key operational issues to improve the personal experience of care Fulfills key learning competencies defined by AUPHA CAHME and NCHL The political economy of health care Tudor Hart, Julian,2010-09-01 With a foreword by Tony Benn Drawing on clinical experience dating from the birth of the NHS in 1948 Julian Tudor Hart a politically active GP in a Welsh coal mining community charts the progress of the NHS from its 19th century origins in workers mutual aid societies to its current forced return to the market His starting point is a detailed analysis of how clinical decisions are made He explores the changing social relationships in the NHS as a gift economy how these may be affected by reducing care to commodity status and the new directions they might take if the NHS resumed progress independently from the market This edition of this bestselling book has been entirely rewritten with two new chapters and includes new material on resistance to that world wide process The essential principle in the book is that patients need to develop as active citizens and co producers of health gain in a humanising society and the author s aim is to promote it wherever people recognise that pursuit of profit may be a brake on rational progress Health Promotion Ruth Cross, Sally Foster, Ivy O'Neil, Simon Rowlands, Louise Warwick-Booth, James Woodall, 2020-12-07 Health promotion is a key mechanism in tackling the foremost health challenges faced by developing and developed nations Covering key concepts theory and practical aspects this new edition continues to focus on the themes central to health promotion practice worldwide Social determinants equality and equity policy and health working in partnerships sustainability evaluation and evidence based practice are detailed and the critical application of health promotion to practice is outlined throughout the book Beginning with the foundations of this important area in this new edition the authors then place greater emphasis on the role of power within health and communities Drawing upon international settings and teaching experience in the global North and South it finishes with a summary of the future directions of professional health promotion practice Placing a strong emphasis on a global context this book provides an accessible and engaging resource for postgraduate students of health promotion public health nursing and related subjects health practitioners and NGOs The Effective Health Care Supervisor Charles R. McConnell, 2018-02-01 The Ninth Edition of this best selling text continues to offer proven hands on practical applications of both classic and current management principles in the healthcare setting Packed with strategies techniques and tools to build or reinforce your management skills and meet the never ending challenges that one may face daily as a healthcare supervisor students and professionals alike will benefit from this classic guidebook that is now more reader friendly and accessible Mental Health in Healthcare Workers and its Associations with Psychosocial Work Conditions Juan Jesús García-Iglesias, Murat Yildirim, Juan Gómez-Salgado, Yong Shian Shawn Goh, 2024-04-11 The work environment can be considered one of the main determining factors that can influence the mental health of workers especially as it regards the structural and organizational conditions to which the worker is subjected This work environment has positive effects when work provides satisfaction and well being or negative effects provoked by situations of stress inadequate working patterns and schedules possible situations of abuse and or harassment etc which may contribute to the appearance of alterations in the mental health of the worker Participatory Approaches to Attacking Extreme Poverty Xavier Godinot, Quentin Wodon, 2006-01-01 Relying on contributions from the International Movement ATD Fourth World this book deals with questions such as What does it mean to live in poverty and especially in extreme poverty How can very poor people be reached through development projects How can we assess whether projects succeed in changing the lives of the poorest individuals In answering these questions the emphasis is on exploring what type of knowledge is needed to fight extreme poverty A key argument is that apart from academic knowledge a concerted effort is needed to listen to the knowledge of poor people themselves as well as to the knowledge of practitioners who are engaged with them on a daily basis to fight poverty After the introductory chapter the text of a speech by Joseph Wresinski founder of the International Movement ATD Fourth World at a congress of social scientists held at UNESCO is reproduced The next contribution is based on comments by the International Movement ATD Fourth World on the World

Bank's World Development Report 2004 Making Services Work for Poor People Thereafter case studies are provided on participatory approaches to attacking extreme poverty in both developing countries Madagascar and Tanzania as well as Bolivia Guatemala and Peru and developed countries the United States and Belgium Public Papers of the Presidents of the United States, William J. Clinton United States. President (1993-2001 : Clinton), 1994 The Philosophy of Person-Centred Healthcare Derek Mitchell, Michael Loughlin, 2022-11-22 This book sets out a philosophical basis for person centred healthcare primarily using work by Heidegger and Gadamer but drawing on ideas derived from Aristotle and process philosophy in order to show how practice can be improved and how examples of person centred practice can be transferred between individuals and institutions involved in the commissioning and provision of healthcare By providing an underlying architectonic this work will help to enable practitioners to understand the benefits of person centred healthcare practice in promoting autonomy in those who are suffering from chronic and other illnesses The text takes a phenomenological approach to healthcare because it offers a rich and subtle way of thinking about how we know what we know and this applies to our knowledge and understanding of how healthcare works just as much as it does to all other kinds of knowledge For those in clinical practice this book provides a guide to the thinking behind person centred healthcare
