Securitization and the Iraq War

Faye Donnelly, 2013-08-15 This book critiques the conceptualization of security found in mainstream and critical theoretical debates and applies this to the empirical case of the 2003 Iraq War The Iraq War represents one of the most puzzling complex and controversial events in the post Cold War era The manner in which the Bush administration finally decided to hold Saddam Hussein accountable through military intervention provoked a worldwide outcry due to the narratives they constructed to justify the pre emptive use of force and enhanced interrogation techniques Responding to constructivist and post structuralist scholars calls for a turn to discourse and aligning its argument with critical security studies particularly the Copenhagen School CS this book conceptualizes language as a pivotal mechanism of power Adopting a Wittgensteinian approach it moves away from thinking about the nexus between security and language from a single action or speech act to a series of actions or interactions To illustrate this new approach the author examines two cases in particular the UN inspectors finding that there was no credible evidence that Iraq possessed weapons of mass destruction WMD in early 2003 and the Abu Ghraib scandal in 2004 Both events show that the boundaries and relations between securitized rules and environments are not pre given but produced in a particular language game This book will be of much interest to students of critical security studies US foreign policy and IR in general

Ontological Insecurity in the European Union Catarina Kinnvall, Ian Manners, Jennifer Mitzen, 2020-05-21 The European Union EU faces many crises and risks to its security and existence While few of them threaten the lives of EU citizens they all create a sense of anxiety and insecurity about the future for many ordinary Europeans This comprehensive volume explores the concept of ontological security which was introduced into international relations over a decade ago to better understand the security of being found in feelings of fear anxiety crisis and threat to wellbeing The authors make use of this concept to explore how narratives of European integration have been part of public discourses in the post war period and how reconciliation dynamics national biographical narratives and memory politics have been enacted to create ontological security Within this context they also discuss the anxiety of the remainers in the Brexit referendum and the consequences of its failure to address the ontological anxieties and insecurities of remain voters The book also explores how European security firms market ontological security and provide an ontological security inspired reading of the EU's relations with post communist states the EU and NATO's engagement with hybrid threats and the EU as an anxious community This book was originally published as a special issue of the journal European Security

Turkey's Accession to the European Union Constantine Arvanitopoulos, 2008-12-28 European views on Turkey's membership in the EU have been split between those in support of its full integration and those advocating a privileged partnership To the extent that many of the latter proposals imply that Turkey will be partially integrated within Europe in certain areas the question of Turkey's accession is probably not about if but about how much integration there will be within the Union's structures The purpose of this book is not to offer a definitive response to this question The book aims instead to examine the complexity of the issues pertaining to Turkey's prospective EU membership by presenting several often divergent accounts of the political security and socio economic dimensions of the entire process The book provides a forum for an exchange of views among distinguished scholars and researchers from different national backgrounds in order to contribute to the ongoing public discussion of Turkey's accession. Sophisticated, informative and refreshing in its argumentation, the book provides an excellent overview of the complexities of Turkey's accession to the EU membership. Professor Mustafa Aydin, TOBB University of Economics and Technology, offers a refreshing view from the European periphery, an original mirror of the Union's central challenges. Professor Georges Prevelakis, University of Paris 1 Panthéon-Sorbonne.

The 1984 Guide to the Evaluation of Educational Experiences in the Armed Services, 1984 The 1980 Guide to the Evaluation of Educational Experiences in the Armed Services: Coast Guard, Marine Corps, Navy, Dept. of Defense American Council on Education, 1980 International Theory and German Foreign Policy Jakob Eberle, Alister Miskimmon, 2022-06-23

The central aim of this book is to foster connections between scholarly discussions of German foreign policy and broader theoretical debates in International Relations and beyond. While there has been a lively discussion about new German foreign policy, this book argues that it has not engaged substantially with international and foreign policy theory, especially with respect to its more recent developments. Reviewing the recent literature on German foreign policy, this book posits that the most discussed works are still largely provided by the Altmeister Maull, Szabo, Bulmer, and Paterson, who were already dominating the field a quarter of a century ago. While there is a general decline in the academic study of German foreign policy, the chapters in this edited volume show that a range of novel, theoretically sophisticated but often disconnected scholarship has appeared on the margins. This book contributes to this emerging work by providing conceptual interrogations which question the existing research and provide theoretically grounded alternatives, initiating critical discussions and evaluations of the nature of Germany's actorness and the environment in which it operates, and proposing applications of less familiar perspectives on German foreign policy. The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of German Politics.

The 1984 Guide to the Evaluation of Educational Experiences in the Armed Services American Council on Education, 1984 The 1980 Guide to the Evaluation of Educational Experiences in the Armed Services: Army American Council on Education, 1980 Regional and International Relations of Central Europe Zlatko Šabić, P. Drulák, 2012-09-18 Focused on the role of Central Europe in international politics at the turn of the 20th century, the authors take stock of the knowledge about the discipline of IR, enhance the visibility of scholars from Central Europe, and fill the void which has emerged after several researches on Central Europe were completed in the 1990s.

EU Foreign Policy and Hamas Adeeb Ziadeh, 2017-10-20

Shortly after the overwhelming victory of Hamas in the 2006 parliamentary and municipal elections, civil war broke out in the Gaza Strip between members of the two factions, Hamas and Fatah. The EU, along with the US, UN, and Russia, not only gave its support to Fatah against Hamas but also imposed a tough siege on the Hamas government in an attempt to force it to accept the Quartet's political conditions described by Hamas leaders as unfair and impossible. Many observers are convinced that the EU's behaviour in this matter has been unreasonable and has conflicted with the EU's own democratic beliefs and values. This book sheds light on the EU's policies in Palestine.

mainly from 2003 2013 and provides a thorough examination of the inconsistencies and paradoxes in the EU discourse towards Hamas and the determinants underlying such contradictions It explores the reasons behind the EU labelling the Hamas a terrorist organization and discusses why the EU has boycotted its democratically elected body since 2006 Significantly the book looks at whether the EU jeopardized its reputation and contravened its core normative values and objectives democracy promotion human rights the rule of law and fundamental freedoms by such a categorisation of Hamas Exploring the EU s policy towards Hamas is vital for understanding how the relationship between the EU and the rest of the Islamists in the Middle East is perceived as it enables both sides to have a cognitive basis upon which to construct better relations This book based upon a vast spread of primary EU documents and interviews will therefore be a valuable resource for those studying the Arab Israeli conflict Political Islamic movements the Middle East Peace Process and anyone with an interest in European Union Foreign Policy
