Are profits and sustainability compatible This book brings unique perspectives to this key debate by exploring the history of green entrepreneurship since the nineteenth century and its spread globally in industries including renewable energy organic food natural beauty ecotourism recycling architecture and finance The book uses the lens of the extraordinary and often eccentric men and women who defied convention and imagined that business could help save the planet rather than consume it The social and religious beliefs that drove many of these individuals are explored as the book looks at how they overcame huge obstacles to execute their strategies The green entrepreneurs seen here are shown to have created new markets and industries and driven innovations in sustainable practices even at times when most consumers and governments marginalized the entire subject The struggles of early pioneers appear to have been rewarded by the growth of environmental awareness among consumers business leaders and others in recent years but the Earth's environmental health continues to deteriorate If profits and sustainability have proved challenging to reconcile the book argues that one reason was how they were both defined EcoVillage Leila Dregger Kosha Joubert, 2015-07-03 This book published to coincide with the 20th anniversary of the Global Ecovillage Network in July 2015 introduces a selection of ecovillage projects from all over the world Eco-Alchemy Dan McKanan,2018 For nearly a century the worldwide anthroposophical movement has been a catalyst for environmental activism helping to bring to life many modern ecological practices such as organic farming community supported agriculture and green banking Yet the spiritual practice of anthroposophy remains unknown to most environmentalists A historical and ethnographic study of the environmental movement Eco Alchemy uncovers for the first time the profound influences of anthroposophy and its founder Rudolf Steiner whose holistic worldview rooted in esoteric spirituality inspired the movement Dan McKanan shows that environmentalism is itself a complex ecosystem and that it would not be as diverse or transformative without the contributions of anthroposophy Islam and Sustainable Development Odeh Rashed Al-Jayyousi,2016-05-06 In Islam and Sustainable Development Odeh Al Jayyousi addresses the social human and economic dimensions of sustainability from an Islamic perspective Islam is sometimes viewed as a challenge threat and risk to the West but here we are reminded that the celebration of cultural diversity is a key component in Islamic values Promoting common understanding between East and West this American educated Middle Eastern based author offers something broader and deeper than conventional Western ways of thinking about sustainability and presents new insights inspired by Islamic worldviews Drawing on his roles as both academic researcher and senior development practitioner Professor Al Jayyousi applies his deep understanding of Islamic values to contemporary environmental financial and social conflicts and crises and defines a framework for sustainability embracing local regional and global perspectives He also addresses how education might produce innovation knowledge creation and development to support a new paradigm for sustainability that re defines what constitutes good life beyond consumerism and the production of waste This book will interest policy makers development and donor communities funding agencies and banks in the Islamic World and beyond as well as those with a professional interest in planning and in environmental and conservation issues Scholars of Islamic and Middle Eastern studies and more broadly those with an academic interest in cultural and religious studies will find that this book in Gower s Transformation and Innovation Series is perhaps the most substantial work yet on sustainable development from an Islamic perspective Integral Economics

Ronnie Lessem,Alexander Schieffer,2016-05-23 Why on earth is economics perceived to come in only one or at best two different a cultural if not a moral guises There are real and many alternatives to the economic mainstream The trouble is of course that they are hidden from us In Integral Economics Ronnie Lessem and Alexander Schieffer pave the way for a sustainable approach to economics building on the richness of diverse economic approaches from all over the globe By introducing the most evolved economic perspectives and bringing them into creative dialogue they argue that neither individual enterprises nor wider society will be transformed for the better without a new economic perspective Here they introduce a comprehensive framework based on the same Four Worlds model that is applied to enterprise and research in their earlier works Given the richness of even mainstream economic theory reviewed in this book let alone the variety of alternative approaches introduced it is frustrating that policymakers and business practitioners are impoverished by a lack of apparent economic choice between a seemingly failing capitalism and an already failed communism. The villains of the piece in relation to this lack of choice are not so much the financial community and governments though they do have much to answer but the schools of economics and the business schools that have created the very social ethos, the philosophical principles and the mathematical models that influence events. Integral Economics is partly addressed to academics and students in those very schools who have either realized the error of their ways or less dramatically are curious to explore whether our businesses and communities could be run in a different way. It will be welcomed by informed senior practitioners eager to understand the current rethink of economic theory and practice and to discover how to position themselves, their organizations and their society within a new framework. Integral Community

Mr Paul Chidara Muchineripi, Mr Steve Kada, Professor Ronnie Lessem, 2013-01-28. Integral Community moves the transformation journey for enterprises and society on from the stages covered in earlier books in Gower's Transformation and Innovation Series which describe a new macro economic framework and which have examined alternative development with different local communities bringing wide cultural perspectives to practical implementation of authentic or integral development. Here the authors argue that there are two major fields of force prevailing in today's world. The one reflects our common heritage whereby East and West, North and South are coming ever closer together, the global commons. The other reflects local and national singularity where the notion of feeding off ancient local heritage and talent is key. They also identify four different culturally laden worldviews as Southern humanistic, Eastern holistic, Northern rational and Western pragmatic. The enterprise and social innovation in Africa with which Lessem's co-authors are involved provides an object lesson in the sort of differentiation and integration needed in order to operate socio-economically with local identity and global integrity. It provides in this case a Southern worldview background against which to examine communally based self-sufficiency, culturally based developmental economy, knowledge-based social economy and finally the move towards what the authors describe as a living economy. All illustrated through a rural case, Chinyika, with which they have been intimately involved whereby 100,000 have become self-sufficient over the past five years. Integral Community should be read by academics and students of business, economics, development studies and agriculture and by policy makers particularly those concerned with the developing world in general and Africa in particular. Egypt's Strategy to Meet the Sustainable Development Goals and Agenda 2030: Researchers' Contributions El-Sayed E. Omran, Abdelazim M. Negm, 2023-02-01. This book focuses on Egypt as a representative example of emerging economies struggling to achieve their sustainable development goals (SDGs). The Egyptian government has launched Egypt's Vision 2030 in line with the 2030 Agenda also known as the Sustainable Development Strategy (SDS) which encompasses the economic, social and environmental dimensions of development. It is under the SDS that all development plans in Egypt are incorporated while at the same time being strongly guided by the SDGs. Aware of the principle of shared but differentiated responsibility, Egypt also recognizes that fundamental challenges remain despite a strong willingness to achieve the SDGs High birth rates brain drain phenomena water scarcity migration discrimination against women and girls a growing informal sector and instability in neighboring states especially Libya and Syria are only some of the many hindrances to sustainable development In order to address these challenges Egypt relies heavily on the SDGs which are aimed at transforming our world Although there is an urgent need for a drastic change in the way we use the Earth the question arises as to whether the SDGs are sufficient to facilitate such a transformation This book explores the key environmentally related Sustainable Development Goals SDGs and offers a cutting edge assessment of current progress with a view to reaching these objectives by 2030 The book highlights some of the key findings and ideas for how research may help achieve the 17 Sustainable Development Goals in enterprises The book provides a useful framework that can help and aid the Egyptian government to assess the many goals and targets outlined in the 2030 Agenda The analysis of Egypt can be used as a blueprint for other developing nations and globally in order to guide policy toward achieving the SDGs Covering food security water resilience climate change agronomics rural life environmental impact assessment as a tool for measuring the achievement of the goals Egyptian education the COVID 19 pandemic cultural and societal dimensions this book will be of great interest to students and scholars of sustainable development and climate change as well as practitioners and policymakers involved in sustainable development and disaster management

Nhakanomics: Harvesting Knowledge and Value for Re-generation Through Social Innovation Ronnie Lessem, MunyaRadzi Mawere, 2019-08-02 Nhakanomics Harvesting Knowledge and Value for Re generation Through Social Innovation is a radical departure from the commonly held belief that neo liberal economics from the US and the West is universal and is the only solution to underdevelopment and poverty throughout the world. Instead, the book teases out and theorises the intellectually rutted terrain of development studies and neo liberal economics from a decolonial Pan Africanist perspective. Following a path of social innovation with perspectives drawn from social anthropology, economics and business and management studies, Nhakanomics is a unique socio economic approach applicable in the Global South and in Southern Africa in particular. The study argues that the process and substance of nhakanomics, with its pre emphasis on the relational South, provides a robust and holistic approach to social innovation and social transformation grounded in relational networks and meshworks. The central idea is a call to re GENE rate society through local Grounding and Origination and tapping into local global Emergent Foundations via a newly global Emancipatory Navigation, while ultimately culminating in global local transformative Effects in four recursive cycles of re GENE rating C K umusha Culture Communication and Capital after re Constituting Africa the 5Cs. With a novel and radical approach, the book is an interrogation of neo liberal economics in the Global South. As such, this book is remarkably handy to students and practitioners in the fields of economics, development studies, political science, science and technology studies, business management, sociology, transformation studies and development related non Governmental Organisations working with grassroots communities.

Integral Dynamics Ronnie Lessem, Alexander Schieffer, Samuel D. Rima, 2016-05-23. The theory of integral dynamics is based on the view that the development of individual leaders or entrepreneurs requires the simultaneous development of institutions and societies. It seeks a specific way forward for each society, fundamentally different from but drawing on its past. Nearly every natural science has been transformed from an analytically based approach to a dynamic one; now it is time for society and culture to follow suit locally and globally. Each culture, discipline and person is incomplete and is in need of others in order to develop and evolve. This book sets out a curriculum for a new integral trans cultural and trans disciplinary area of study, inclusive of but extending beyond economics and enterprise. It embraces a trans personal perspective linking self with community, enterprise and society, and focusing on the vital relationship between local identity and global integrity. For the government policy maker, the enlightened business practitioner and the student and researcher into economics and enterprise, the new discipline is set out here in complete detail by a multi national team of Gower's Transformation and Innovation Series authors. Illuminated with examples relating the conceptual to the practical, this is a text not for a pre modern, modern or even post modern era but for what has been called our trans modern age.

Innovation Driven Institutional Research Ronnie

Lessem, 2017-03-16 This is the third volume in the CAREing for Integral Development series. It continues to build on the previous two works, Community Activation and Awakening Integral Consciousness, as well as preceding the fourth and final book, Embodying Integral Development. This book serves as a follow-up to the author's approach to integral research and development, economics, and enterprise contained within the Innovation and Transformation series, and as a focus for how to put all of this CARE fully to work. This third volume in the CARE quartet is perhaps the most crucial one, building on the organizational systems seen in Awakening Integral Consciousness, that came before and turning from trans-cultural and transformational to trans-disciplinary, from integral reality and integral rhythm to integral realms, with a view ultimately to transpersonal integral rounds. The author turns his attention to research and innovation, and then focuses in on enterprise and economics, management, and leadership. As such, he introduces his Inter-Institutional Genealogy in place of an integral yet still inhibiting university. In the process, this book paves the way for a new kind of institutionalized, innovation-driven social research, which, while rooted in a particular place, speaks to the world as a whole. Moreover, such a research and innovation institution has a fundamental role to play in the evolution of a specific community, building on what has come CARE-wise before.

Digging Deeper Dietmar Sternad, James J. Kennelly, Finbarr Bradley, 2017-09-08 What is the primary purpose of business? The standard answer is making profits, but some visionary entrepreneurs and leaders fundamentally disagree. Instead of just making money, they choose instead to dig deeper and make a difference through creating real value, improving the lives of others, even as they find deeper meaning in their own. These leaders build enterprises that provide identity and a sense of purpose, create positive relationships, and a place to learn and thrive, embed sustainability in all that they do, and strive to improve the quality of life of all of their stakeholders. Although not their primary focus, they also make healthy profits, as their unique approach to value creation provides them with a sustainable competitive edge. Digging Deeper is a book full of inspiring stories that illustrate that there is an alternative to a myopic and narrow capitalism that trades in inequalities exploitation collective burnout and negative consequences for our shared natural environment Remarkable examples from all over the world vividly demonstrate how enterprises can create real value through focusing on what the authors call the 6 Ls long term orientation lasting relationships local roots limits recognition developing a learning community and taking leadership responsibility seriously in its very best sense Digging Deeper liberates the term value from the tight chains in which the global financial community has bound it and demonstrates that businesses can contribute to a better life for all if their leaders can go beyond viewing enterprises as single purpose money making machines and develop purpose driven enterprises that create real value for all The Integrators Panos Vostanis,Ronnie Lessem,2016 Hope for Children of Trauma An International Perspective synthesizes all the existing evidence policy and practice from around the world for children and youth who have experienced different forms of complex trauma such as abuse neglect and war violence and also presents a real advance in the literature by covering new material from the author s extensive visits and collaborations in low and middle income countries in Asia Africa and Latin America The book covers a historical and research overview of developments in trauma and child mental health global policy and evidence on the impact of trauma on child mental health In particular this book communicates real experiences through narratives and supporting photographic material from children in slum areas orphanages or on the streets and explores the application of therapeutic approaches by frontline practitioners therapeutic interventions service development and training programmes
