Tietchen, 2018-10-01 After the second World War the term technology came to signify both the anxieties of possible annihilation in a rapidly changing world and the exhilaration of accelerating cultural change Technomodern Poetics examines how some of the most well known writers of the era described the tensions between technical literary and media cultures at the dawn of the Digital Age Poets and writers such as Allen Ginsberg Charles Olson Jack Kerouac and Frank O Hara among others anthologized in Donald Allen s iconic The New American Poetry 1945 1960 provided a canon of work that has proven increasingly relevant to our technological present Elaborating on the theories of contemporaneous technologists such as Norbert Wiener Claude Shannon J C R Licklider and a host of noteworthy others these artists express the anxieties and avant garde impulses they wrestled with as they came to terms with a complex array of issues raised by the dawning of the nuclear age computer based automation and the expansive reach of electronic media As author Todd Tietchen reveals even as these writers were generating novel forms and concerns they often continued to question whether such technological changes were inherently progressive or destructive With an undeniable timeliness Tietchen s book is sure to appeal to courses in modern English literature and American studies as well as among fans of Beat writers and early Cold War culture Why Write Poetry? Jeannine Johnson, 2007 Poets have long been defending poetry in prose and essays by Sidney Shelley and others are a familiar and important part of the Anglo American literary tradition This book identifies and examines a related genre the verse defense of poetry which shares the same impulse that has led to the composition of prose essays namely the desire to protect poetry from its detractors and to promote its value as a vital human endeavor In the last century or so this impulse to engage questions of poetry s value in poems has become increasingly widespread and it has dominated the careers of at least five poets H D Wallace Stevens W H Auden Adrienne Rich and Geoffrey Hill Though these poets espouse very different aesthetic principles they like many of their contemporaries have repeatedly turned to apology in their verse At first glance this seems an odd gesture given that the readers and writers of poetry are those who least need convincing of poetry s worthiness But questioning poetry in verse is a form of lyric introspection that is productive and well suited for a modern poet characterized as one of indifference defense helps these authors make a claim for poetry s cultural relevance as well as for its private profit
