Social Work Andrew Pithouse, 1998 The book sets out to shed sociological light upon the much under researched realm of day to day child care practice The text broke new ground when first published in 1987 and there have been few if any similar books that adopt an ethnographic approach to statutory child care practice

Gender and Qualitative Research (1996) Jane Pilcher, Amanda Coffey, 2018-02-19 This book gathers together an original collection of papers on gender and qualitative research The contributors draw on a variety of research methods and research settings to demonstrate the value of a qualitative approach for studying gender related issues Individual chapters include discussions on participant observation ethnographic interviewing focus groups and the analysis of documentary sources The volume as a whole reflects the wide range of gender focused work which is ongoing in Cardiff covering issues such as occupational cultures violence genetics and risk the life cycle and time This book was originally published as part of the Cardiff Papers in Qualitative Research series edited by Paul Atkinson Sara Delamont and Amanda Coffey The series publishes original sociological research that reflects the tradition of qualitative and ethnographic inquiry developed at Cardiff The series includes monographs reporting on empirical research edited collections focussing on particular themes and texts discussing methodological developments and issues

EBOOK: Clinical Judgement In The Health And Welfare Professions Susan White, John Stancombe, 2003-05-16 I recommend this text to anyone who has an abiding interest in not how we should make decisions but how in reality we do Journal of Clinical Nursing How do clinicians use formal knowledge in their practice What other kinds of reasoning are used What is the place of moral judgement in clinical practice In the last decade the problem of clinical judgement has been reduced to the simple question what works However before clinicians can begin to think about what works they must first address more fundamental questions such as

what's wrong or what sort of problem is this The complex ways in which professionals negotiate the process of case formulation remain radically under explored in the existing literature This timely book examines this neglected area Drawing on the authors own detailed ethnographic and discourse analytic studies and on developments in social science the book aims to reconstitute clinical judgement and case formulation as both practical moral and rational technical activities By making social scientific work more accessible and meaningful to professionals in practice it develops the case for a more realistic approach to the many reasoning processes involved in clinical judgement Clinical Judgement in the Health and Welfare Professions has been written for educators managers practitioners and advanced students in health and social care It will also appeal to those with an interest in the analysis of institutional discourse and ethnographic research Whitaker's Books in Print ,1998 The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells,2006 The Routledge Handbook of Language and Health Communication Heidi Hamilton,Wen-ying Sylvia Chou,2014-04-16 The Routledge Handbook of Language and Health Communication consists of forty chapters that provide a broad comprehensive and systematic overview of the role that linguistics plays within health communication research and its applications The Handbook is divided into three sections Individuals everyday health communication Health professionals communicative practices Patient provider communication in interaction Special attention is given to cross cutting themes including the role of technology in health communication narrative and observations of authentic naturally occurring contexts The chapters are written by international authorities representing a wide range of perspectives and approaches Building on established work with cutting edge studies on the changing health communication landscape this volume will be an essential reference for all those involved in health communication and applied linguistics research and practice
